Mrs. Geo. Huston, of Ekfrid, who has been in poor health for some time, we are sorry to say is not improving.

Glencoe bachelors have invitations out for an assembly to be given in the town hall on the evening of January

John Kindree, of Dunwich, had a quantity of beans stolen from his premises on Thursday night. One Ward, a half-breed, has been arrested on suspicion.

Mr. J. A. McMillan, of Chatham, was here for Christmas and sold his house and lot on Victoria street south to Mr. Thomas Yates, who is retiring from the farm.

Messrs. Conley & Eddie were shipping hogs and lambs yesterday. They have shipped this season so far about three thousand lambs and have some eleven or twelve hundred yet to ship.

Two former residents of Glencoe are candidates for civic honors in London—Mr. Alex. Stuart, K. C., for alderman, and Mr. G. N. Weekes, for school trustee. We hope they "get there," and they will if ability and integrity can influence London voters.

John P. Holland, a New York inventor who achieved some fame by experiments in submarine navigation, claims to have solved the problem of flying for the human race. In another year, he says, men will be flying through the air with as much ease and safety as they now ride bicycles, and the contrivance will not cost as much.

At the Chicago Live Stock Show last week, the most important show on the continent, Canadian breeders were in the front ranks of the prize winners. In sheep they swept all the leading prizes, and took more than their share in the other classes. In the students; judging contest the O. A. C. of Guelph, won the trophy in the coutest with Ohio, Texas, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Michigan. Ontario has reason to be proud of the showing made at the International.

terian church, is receiving unstinted and well merited praise for two recent successes due to her energy and ability—the annual Sunday School entertainment on Friday evening, and the Christmas musical services in the church on Sunday. At the entertainment the children, and older ones too, acquitted themselves most admirably, and showed in the various drills, choruses, recitations, etc., that their training had been carefully gone into. The music on Sunday was exceptionally fine and was enjoyed by large congregations.

On a Big Scale.

Everything in Canada is big. The old provinces are enormous, Quebec is ten times as big as Indiana, Gatario, just over the way above the Great Lakes, is bigger than France or Germany. It is bigger than all New England, with the addition of New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia, Manitoba is about as large as Missouri, and the Canadians claim, almost as rich. The new provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, which have just been created, are empires in themselves. Each of them has an area something like that of France or Germany and parts of them will raise more wheat than either of those countries. They are crossed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and other railroads will soon open up their northern sections. The provinces are being rapidly colomized by American farmers, and we are told that an American Canada is growing up just across the border. British Columbia, the mighty province of the far west, is another empire through which the new railroads will go, its section and the mountains are said to be rich in the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in a control of the countains are said to be rich in the countains are said to
