WRONG DIET CAUSE OF ADENOID AND ENLARGED TONSILS
Do Not Necessarily Have To Be Removed, Says Dr. Tillmann.
Dr. W. J. Tillmann's address on "Adenoids and Tonsils" at the Technical School yesterday afternoon, given in connection with the Child Welfare Exhibit, was most illuminating for the many mothers who were present. The speaker pointed out the fact that tonsil and adenoid growths were perfectly natural growth in the child's throat and nose and that they tended to be larger in the child than in the adult and varied in different children. He further declared that because a child's tonsils were discovered to be enlarged, was no reason for having them removed. From this beginning he enlarged on the different unhealthy constitutional conditions which were known to be a result of enlarged tonsils and adenoids. If such unhealthy conditions were found to exist, the tonsils should most certainly be removed. Such conditions were unhealthy mouth breathing on the part of the child, frequent attacks of earache, sometimes leading to deafness, frequent sore throat, enlargement of the glands at the angles of the jaws, changes in the child's chest, kidney, rheumatism.

FLORENCE COUPLE CELEBRATE THEIR DIAMOND WEDDING
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Receive Congratulations of Scores of Friends.
A very unique and pleasant occasion was the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon of Florence, which was commemorated at the homes of their two daughters in Toronto on Saturday. In the afternoon a reception was held at the home of Mrs. W. T. Graham, and was largely attended by their many friends and acquaintances, besides a large number of relatives from outside points.
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon received the guests, who seemed to come in an endless stream to pay their esteem and to congratulate the happy couple on attaining their diamond jubilee.
In the evening a dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Gage, attended by the near relatives.
Among the numerous gifts received from the relatives, two are worthy of mention as coming from their many friends. The members of First Avenue Baptist Church, of which their son-in-law, Rev. Dr. W. T. Graham, is pastor, and which church they have attended for the past few years, showed their love and appreciation by a very handsome gift in cut glass. The neighbors and friends in their home town at Florence also showed the way Mr. and Mrs. Gordon had endeared themselves to them by sending a beautiful hand-lettered and decorated testimonial expressing a great deal of heartfelt love and joy. It was signed by practically all of their old friends and the leading citizens.
Mr. Gordon has been in business in Florence for over 30 years. He has been an ardent prohibitionist, and has enacted in seeing prohibition practically enacted. Mr. Gordon has one sister living, Mrs. (Dr.) Graham, of Anoka, Minn., and Mrs. Gordon has one brother and two sisters still living. Mrs. Joseph Anderson of Napinka, Man., Mrs. (Dr.) Dunbar of Winnipeg, and Mrs. R. Duff of Humboldt.

SPRINGBANK PARK MECCA OF CROWDS
3,000 People Attend Opening of Popular Amusement Resort.
Springbank opened for the summer season with holiday crowds Wednesday night, about 3,000 people being carried to this popular resort via the street railway. In addition, the amusement park proved a mecca for horse and carriage service, and crowds thronged the various concessions which were open for business. The dancing pavilion proved the greatest attraction, the floor being at a premium. Music was provided by the Lombardo Orchestra.
The roller-skating and merry-go-round drew a share of the crowd, while ideal weather assisted in running up ice cream and soft drink sales. "The game of old, while many indulged in the old games of box ball between dances. Very little difficulty was experienced by the street railway in handling the crowds to and from the park, extra cars being utilized to maintain a ten-minute service, and, aside from rush hours, when the "standing-room only" rule was in effect, there was no inconvenience noted. The park was practically deserted shortly after midnight, when the car service to the city ceased. Springbank was again proved a popular afternoon and evening for the remainder of the season, providing that favorable weather, such as that of Wednesday evening, prevails.

MRS. C. B. KING IS AGAIN PRESIDENT OF LOCAL Y. W. C. A.
Financial Statement Shows Institution To Be In Flourishing Condition.
Each year the financial statement of the local Y. W. C. A. becomes more interesting as the sums of money handled become larger. The annual report of last year was read at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board by the treasurer, Mrs. N. C. Bruce, showing the association's total assets to be $28,712.62, $27,681.43 of this amount being permanent assets. Last year the expenditure was $21,278.18, this amount being met largely by income from board, etc., the deficit being only $2,337.35, to be paid out of the general fund. The Wellington street residence expenditure was $12,718.38, all of which was met but $652.50. The Travelers' Aid department spent $2,111.11, a small amount of which was by special donations, but with the bulk of the expenditure, $1,731.11 to be paid from the general fund. For girls work $2,584.34 was expended, with the deficit to be paid by the general fund amounting to $1,284.44. The amount spent on general administration was $4,554.65, of which $4,231.16 had to be paid from the general fund. The total deficit for the year was $11,741.35, to be paid out of the general fund, which fund was made up of donations amounting to $15,533.80.

The roller-skating and merry-go-round drew a share of the crowd, while ideal weather assisted in running up ice cream and soft drink sales. "The game of old, while many indulged in the old games of box ball between dances. Very little difficulty was experienced by the street railway in handling the crowds to and from the park, extra cars being utilized to maintain a ten-minute service, and, aside from rush hours, when the "standing-room only" rule was in effect, there was no inconvenience noted. The park was practically deserted shortly after midnight, when the car service to the city ceased. Springbank was again proved a popular afternoon and evening for the remainder of the season, providing that favorable weather, such as that of Wednesday evening, prevails.
