BUILDING ACTIVITY BRISK IN LONDON

Large Number of Garages Re- Transfer Made to Nationalist veals Further Prosperity of Citizens.

Further evidence of the general prosperity of Londoners is revealed from interesting statistics presented to The Advertiser Monday by Building Inspector A. M. Piper. Up until Saturday last, no less than

$55 permits for private garages of all sizes and types of construction had been issued since the first of the year. representing an expenditure of

There is but little doubt but that the greater number of these structures were built as contemplated. The inspector explains that in nine cases out of ten, if a party decides not to proceed with the building after the permit has been issued, he will re-turn for a refund of the fee. Not one return has been made this year, he says, for a permit of any description, ample indication, he assures, that troops were drawn up in the barthe most of the work proposed was racks square with full equipment.

Despite the arrival of real cold weather, it looks as though the build-ing trades will remain busy for weeks to come. Although the end of the month is nearly two weeks distant, general building permits have been already issued in December calling for an expenditure of $101,305, as first system of water against $87,930 for the same month last night, aged 82.

Permits to date, from the first of building inspector points out that this increase is particularly remarkable in view of the fact that the greater portion of this sum involves the construction of dwellings.
