The G. G. B. C. at the First Gap-In provement in the Situation at Battleford-Will the Half breeds Fight?-An Advance to be Made at Once-Hard Work Ahead of the Boys.

OTTAWA, April 8.—A despatch from General Middleton to-day states that Battery A arrived in camp, north of Qu'. Appelle, this morning and after a rest continued their onward march. They do not expect to reach the south branch, where the halfbreeds are said to be located, before the 20th inst. Battery B will probbefore the 20th inst. Battery B will probably go by Swift Current.

It is definitely ascertained that only four halfbreeds were the number of rebels killed at the Duck Lake skirmish. Halfbreeds from the north say there will be no more fighting unless it is attempted to catch Riel. Advanced detachments of the troop were encamped last night 25 miles north of Fort Qu'Appelle and were joined to-day by battery A, 115 strong, under Colone, Montizambert.

Word has been received that Riel has a large force patrolling the south branch of the Saskatchewan and waiting to prevent the crossing of the troops.

Couriers arrived to-day at Swift Current with advices of the situation at Battleford, which say that affairs at that point are not at all slarming. The Indian at all alarming. The Indians destroyed all they could not carry off in all the houses and stores raided by them, and have taken every horse and head of cattle in that part of the country.

The Terrors of the March. FORT QU'APPELLE, April 8.—Some idea of the kind of tramping the troops will have can be formed from the fact that the column under Gen, Middleton that left here Monday for the second supply depot, 24½ miles distant, which by the way has been named Middleton in honor of the general, took two days to accomplish the journey, only arriving there yesterday af ernoon, hav-ing to camp at Hayward's creek, 15 miles on the way, Monday night. A regular blizzard was, blowing, and the driving snow came down in clouds, completely hiding everything from view. It was Gen. Middleton's first experience of this kind, but the veteran never flinched, being the whole time near the head of the column close to the guides or scouts, who preceded the column. To add to the discomforts of the march the snow was soft, and the ground in places was from three to six inches deep in water. Most of the men of the 90th who are in the advance are wearing pegged boots, and some of them are sure to be disabled. The water swells the pegs and rips the soles, while the alkali in it irritates and inflames the feet, often causing ulcerous sores, which will compel the men to lay up until healed.

WINNIPEG, April 8.—Exciting news has been received from Calgary. A despatch standard of revolt. The stores, however, says there is no use disguising the fact any longer that Fort McLeod is the threatened point and that an Indian uprising cannot any longer be prevented by the good offices of Pere Lacombe. Beyond doubt the Gros Ventres Indians are north of the international boundary on the war path. The South Prigars and Bloods have formed an South Prigans and Bloods have formed an alliance. Tobacco sent from Riel's Indians to the Gros Ventres was some time ago accepted by the latter, thus showing that Riel has laid a deep construcy in which the Milk River Indians will play an important part. important part.

The Long Pending Case of Macdongall Prentice Receives its Quietus.

MONTREAL, April 8.—News was received to-day of the privy council decision in the case of Macdougall v. Prentice, settling a long pending liquidation in favor of defendant Prentice.

The proceedings were commenced in 1872 by Mr. Hartland Macdougall taking out an action against his ex-partner, Prentice, on a partnership account, alleging misappropriation of shares in the celebrated Silver Islet mining company, in which the partners were interested. The case came before the superior court in 1881, when Mr. Justice Belanger gave indement hall. The weather is heautiful when Mr. Justice Belanger gave judgment | hall. Prentice appealed against this, and when the case here it was decided that while Mande was entitled" to $2250 as value of certain shares, he was indebted to Prentice to the amount of $16,000. Macdougall then carried the case before the privy council, and by their judgment the decision of the court of queen's bench here is confirmed with costs.

An amendment to Mr. Howland's motion is talked of, namely, that it is competent for the government of Canada, and that it would result in a large saving of money, if the said Prince Edward's island were towed up and attached to the mainland.

A sack of sago had been dumped on the floor and the sack was evidently filled with plunder and carried off. The faucet of a barrel of syrup had been left open and the contents ranjout on the floor. Several drawers in the private office were ransacked but it is not been the sack to be a sack to office were ransacked, but it is not known what they contained. Things generally were turned upside down.

tion—The Defamatory Article. The article in The World of yesterday about the abomination known as Town Talk had a good effect, and it is altogether likely the public has seen the last of the vile sheet. The two Meagher brothers, who are the reputed publishers of it, spent last night in the Agnes street police station, and they will be arraigned in the police court this morning on a charge of criminal libel. Some of the shopkeepers in the vicinity of Town Talk office in Adelaide street speak of the gang that frequented the place as a hard crowd. There is no doubt that there are several others equally quifty with the two men under creat, and they too will be got at if possible. The news of the arrest of at if possible. The news of the arrest of the two Meaghers spread round town last night quite rapidly and seemed to give every satisfaction.

A young man from Bowmanville named McCarger rushed into Ruse's piano ware-rooms last week and borrowed $20 from Mr. Ruse. He said he had an interest in Town Talk and he must have had for the check that Mr. Ruse was kind enough to give him passed through the hands of and was endorsed by Mr. Roddy, one of the printers of Town Talk. Mr. Ruse is still looking for his $20.

The newsdealers who have been selling the paper are greatly agitated over their position, as they are threatened with actions for damages by some of the parties libelled. About twenty years ago a paper called the Grumbler was sold in Toronto without any responsible name on it can called the Grumbler was sold in Toronto without any responsible name on it as publisher. A prominent newsdealer was hauled up for circulating a libel contained in it; he was given a day to say who the publisher was; he gave up the name and it cost the father of the young man who was found to be the editor of the paper several hundred do lars to get him out of the scrape. The naw, it seems, on this point is very strict: if a responsible publisher cannot be got at, then the printer who prints the sheet and the newsdealer who sells it are liable to heavy damages for circulating a libel. Miss Marie Prescott, the actress, recovered $20,000 from the American News company in a similar case.

A little affair happened March 23 which does not add to the lustre of James Meagher. On that date he had lunch at the Shaftesbury coffee house and had not the wherewithal to settle.
