

KING OF DENMARK.

(Photo, Hansen & Willer, Copenhagen.)

married in 1869 the daughter of King Karl XV. of Sweden and Norway, thus reviving the idea of a reunion of the three Scandinavian kingdoms. Princess Alexandra became in 1863 Princess of Wales, and prospective Queen Consort of England. Prince Wilhelm became King Georgios I. of Greece, and married the Grand Duchess of Russia. Princess Dagmar in 1866 married Alexander III., Emperor of Russia. The Princess Thyra married in 1878 Prince Ernest, Duke of Cumberland. Prince Waldemar, in 1885, married Marie D'Orleans, daughter of the Duc de Chartres.

Prince Oscar Bernadotte, second son of the King of Sweden, says The Outlook, has been conducting a series of evangelistic services in the city of Copenhagen. The Prince startled his country and surprised the world a few years ago by marrying a maid-of-honour at the court. He first met her in a hospital ward where she was