ENGLISH AND IRISH POOR. -Cardinal Vaughau, writing the Times says:

That when he asserts that the Catholic Church with a free hand is avell able to promote the happiness. of the people, and to raise them to the Christian level of thought and action, his statement is amply borne out by the history of Christian civilization. "But," he adds, "when I claim for the Catholic and Roman Church now the same divine power and vitality she gave proof of in England during a thousand years of our history, I am confronted with the present state of Ireland, France. and Spain. It would be almost as reasonable to say that the degraded condition of masses of the English poor is attributable to the Catholic Church.

"But we are bid to look at Ireand to this suggestive a serious operation. Catholic." challenge the Cardinal answers:

"Let anyone contrast the intellectual, moral, and religious condition Dame will make their annual pilof the poor of Ireland, with that of grimage to the Church of Notre Dame the low classes in our great towns, de Lourdes on the 24th instant. and then say, if he please, that the cause of their respective condition is to be found in the respective religions of the two countries." This reply of the Cardinal is based

The Irish may poor, they may live in hovels: virtue reigns in these miscrable homes, and faith in God sustains them in their misfortunes,

A WONDERFUL SHRINE, - A couple of weeks ago we referred to the highest monument in the world, being erected in honor of the Blessed Virgin. Is it not astonishing how blinded the non-tatholic world has become in all that concerns the honor due to the Mother of God? Actually Christians of certain churches would seem to be taught the hatred of Mary. Yet year after year is the prophecy pronounced by herself, on the occasion of the Annunciation, heing fulfilled: 'Henceforth all nations shall call me blessed,"

Dr. Koettlitz, who accompanied Mr. Weld-Blumdeh and Lord Lovat in their recent expedition to Negus Menclek's country, made a journey to Zuquala, the famous sacred mountain, which he believes was never before visited by an Englishman. In the London Times, he thus describes his trip; we give it without further comment. "Mount Zuquala, the mysterious sacred mountain of the Abyssinians, is forty miles from the capital. It is 10,000 feat high, and in the form of a truncated cone. At its summit and a BOSTON, in the crater is a remarkable lake, 34 of a mile long, which is a veritable Abyssinian Lourdes or Pool of Siloam. It is the belief of the natives that bathing in its waters will cure all diseases. Close by are some springs dedicated to the Virgin Mary. According to the popular idea, barren women need only drink of these fountains to lose their sterility. The waters are regarded with the greatest worship and must on no account be employed for cooking or any other useful purpose. I saw quite a number of diseased creatures round the lake shore crawling about or being carnicd on litters. The whole mountain—both sides and the crater— is densely wooded. The place is studded everywhere with hermits' huts, each of which is inhabited by holy men, who live separate lives of extreme austerity. Also, hidden away in the forests, are a large number of chur-

The only addition that we would care to make to the above is in the form of an expression of surprise at the glaring contradiction presented by the Abyssinians dedicating a shrine to the Blessed Virgin, and Christians of Montreal—this "city of Mary"-opposing, as was done some years ago, the erection of a statue, in her honor, on Mount Royal. It is a contrast that reflects but poorly a contrast that reflects but poorly upon the solid Christianity of some people.

Rhenmatism Had Fastened Its Fangs Upon Him for Years and Caused Him Endless Misery-Tells How He Found a Cure.

From the Acadian, Wolfville, N.S.

Among the many in this vicinity who firmly believe in the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a cure for rheumatism is Mr. John Stewart, of Hortonville. To a representative of the Acadian who recently interviewed him. Wr. Stewart said he had been a victim to the pangs of rheumatism for upwards of twenty years. Two years ago Mr. Stewart was thrown from a load of hay and injured so severely that he was obliged to take to his bed.
