

fully to this country as to a promised land. People and money make a great city, and a great city makes great wealth. If we make way the world will pay its tribute to Vancouver, and send us of her money and her men. Some day you and I will be dead and gone; but Vancouver will be here. Our children will be the rulers here and they in turn will be preparing still for those unborn. Let it be said at least by them with pride that their fathers had not failed them.
