CHARITY-FREIGHT-FREE

Pennsylvania Railway Will Carry Goods to Austin.

AUSTIN, Pa. Oct. 5.—In a day's work of overhauling the wreckage here, due to the breaking of the dam last Saturday, and the resultant flood, five additional bodies were accounted for today.

Four complete bodies and the mangled limbs of an adult female, supposed to have weighed about 200 pounds, are in the morgue in such condition that their immediate disposition has been ordered. The dead recovered to date number 50, with about 25 more to be accounted for, according to the more or less accurate census by which the casualties are checked off.

Of the bodies recovered to-day three were children, one a 2-year-old boy with white hair, and Clarence, the baby of Herbert and Rose, aged 2 years. The only adult found was Mrs. Ann Fitzgerald. All had been washed some distance below the village, down the valley toward Coatsville.

Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Eason to-night received notification from Philadelphia that the Pennsylvania Railroad has sent out a circular to all its representatives and agents to accept and forward without charge all goods directed or consigned to the relief committee at Austin.

All day long to-day the crush of falling buildings resounded over the debris-strewn plain where Austin stood before it was swept by last Saturday's disastrous flood. So fast as the buildings fell or were torn apart spears or drays were piled to their capacity and the wreckage was taken away. One of the worst obstacles to the thousands of cords of hemlock slabs or palpwood that were swept down the river was the debris of the Pennsylvania Railroad dam that gave way and caused the flood, was located.

ST. ALBAN'S CAMPAIGN

Central Committee Organized at Meeting Addressed by Bishop Sweeney

An enthusiastic meeting was held last night in the St. Stephen's school house, where His Lordship Bishop Sweeney gave an eloquent address on behalf of the movement towards the building of the new St. Alban's Cathedral. The bishop also showed by the aid of plans some interesting features of the new building, which the building committee hope will be completed by Oct. 1, 1911, at an estimate cost of $250,000.

At the close it was moved by Canon Morley and seconded by Mr. Green that the following constitute the local board for Central Toronto: Geo. Harman, H. E. Birchford, C. B. Howard, F. Wood, Dr. Popler, C. Pope, H. Havelock, C. A. C. Jennings, E. Davis, F. W. Noble, W. Brooks, C. T. Acan and T. Hopkins. Canon Morley and Mr. Green both spoke encouragingly of the work.

KNOW OF HIS DANGER

George Wellacy's Forgetfulness Led to His Being Electrocutted.

It was shown at the inquest last night that George Wellacy, who was electrocuted by driving a crane he was operating against an electric wire had talked about the dangerous position of the crane before the accident and had warned other men who were working there about the wire. The inference is that he momentarily forgot about the wire.

Owner M. D. McKelvie's JURY returned verdict of accidental death. The fatality occurred Wednesday last, on Spadina-road, beside the J. C. Eaton building, where the Royal Institute of Painters in water colors.

CAR COMPANIES ALL ALIKE

St. Joe Traction Management Had to Back Down.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 5.—The entire police force of the city was called out to-night to quell a riot at Fifth and Edinborough street, where a street car junction, which arose over an order issued to street car conductors not to accept tickets detached from books. For two hours the corner was jammed by people who were trying to pay street car fares with detached tickets. The conductors, aided by extra men, were electing such would-be passengers. The police did not interfere until fights started, when they arrested all concerned, both passengers and street car employes. More than a dozen arrests were made.

One man, C. L. McPhail of Leavenworth, Kansas, was seriously injured when a conductor threw him from a car. His head struck the pavement. Chief of Police Haskell finally personally took charge of the situation and the crowd dispersed. The street railway company then rescinded its order and there were no more disturbances. The trouble arose over the fact that newsboys were selling street car tickets. The company tried to break up this practice.

Swimming at the Y. W. C. A.

A large enthusiastic gathering enjoyed a fine exhibition of graceful and scientific swimming given last night at the Y. W. C. A., McGill-street, by Miss Mary Beaton, assisted by Miss Ethel White and Mrs. Aylesworth. Miss Beaton is the only woman who holds the diploma of the Royal Life Saving Society, both in London, Eng. and in Toronto. She was fortunate in having secured for another term her services as instructor in swimming.

church, that of the regular church and prayer meeting attenders.

Truly Democratic.

He then drew in detail more paintings of averages and sum totals. But other pictures were at this point more attractive to your scribe. These were real faces and fine statures of the Methodist phalanx. As there are no chief seats in the synagogue except the few for the temporary officials, no guess at a man's office can be judged from the seat he occupies. There are no vestments, either, and the president himself is as unassuming as the "man on the street." But there are men who would look well if the Methodist church, to open an important season with a procession from this, the cradle of Methodism, to say, the home of education at Victoria College.

Question by Rev. Amosd Neatt of London, Eng., brought out one of the best things yet heard at this conference. It was for the Canadian church the board of education, James Somers, assistant city clerk, and the reception committee of the city council, were in charge of the arrangements. National days will be observed in the city by an orchestra, which was stationed in a bower on the first floor. Tables with refreshments were placed at the west end of the hall, and the delegates spent a social hour chatting with friends.

The committee of ushers that assisted in making the reception a success were Messrs. J. W. Piavelle (chairman), R. C. Hamilton, G. H. Parkes, John Donohue, R. J. Scott, R. R. Parsons, George Healy, George Harry, Harry Moore, Fred Doane, R. W. Eaton, W. K. Donoherty, R. C. Vaughan, Hon. Thomas Crawford, Rev. J. J. Redditt and Rev. T. E. Barclay.

J. J. McCANN NEW PRESIDENT

Labor Council Chooses Successor to Norman Williams.

At a meeting of the district labor council last night, Vice-President J. J. McCann was elected president, to succeed Norman Williams, who has left the city, and Delegate George Sangster was elected vice-president of the council.

It was announced that the Manufacturers' Association had sent 25 complimentary tickets to the lecture on workers' control, to be given by Dr. P. C. Schwedman, commissioner of the National Association of the United States. After some discussion the people who had the tickets and 15 members were nominated to attend the lecture, the other tickets being reserved for the benefit of the technical unions.

When the matter of technical education was brought up the council declared a secret meeting in order to discuss the matter. The meeting will take place on the question.

E. A. English Tells Why He Favors Bloor-Street Viaduct.

"Am I in favor of the Bloor-street viaduct, old you ask," said E. A. English, of English's Limited, the big contractor from the World man admitted, asking the question.

"I am heartily in favor of it. I think it is one of the best things that the people of Toronto have ever had placed before them. It is a necessary project, and it is necessary to the growth of Toronto. The lack of it is a hindrance to the development along broad civic lines of this city, and it is not as if it cost a fortune."

"To proceed along natural lines a city should overcome all natural obstacles, especially when means are at hand to do so. The Bloor-street viaduct, besides allowing present conditions to prevail but conduces to the stunting of a necessary part of the city, and it should, and is compressed into crowded areas.

"That the viaduct will be beneficial to the eastern part of the city is no argument against it. The question is not sectional. It should be treated by the whole city as another step toward the civic ideal—a city of a million prosperous and contented people."

HONORED GRAND MASTER

Alpha Masonic Lodge Celebrated Official Visit to New Temple.

Last night was a big one for Alpha Lodge No. 57, A.F. & A.M. The grand master, Aubrey White, was tendered a reception on the occasion of his official visit to the new temple on College street, about 250 turned out, the greater portion of whom attended the banquet at the conclusion of the evening.

Mr. E. B. White, who was presiding as toast master, was proposed by W. Bro. John Gray.

Grandmaster White paid a warm tribute to M. W. Bro. J. Ross Robertson. He is not a wealthy man in the accepted meaning of the term in this morning age, but his good works will live on when we have all passed away. He has erected a monument to himself in the work he has done in connection with the establishment and maintenance of the Hospital for Sick Children.

"I ask you to think for a moment of the hundreds of thousands of dollars from his own private purse which he has given to these institutions to make them what they are, and his name will live as long as Toronto lives for the kind and noble work he has done for the children of this city and this country." (Applause.)

W. Bro. S. H. Bradford proposed the toast of grand lodge, and R. W. Bro. W. D. McPherson, deputy grand master, responded.

M. W. Bro. A. T. Freed of Hamilton, past grand master, gave some statistics showing the progress of the grand lodge in the grand jurisdiction of Ontario during the last 56 years.

R. W. Bro. R. L. Gunn of Hamilton, grand secretary, as the finance minister of the order, spoke of the good work done with the funds, many thousands of which were devoted to charitable and relief work.

South African Warrants in Demand.

VICTORIA, Oct. 5.—Three British warrants brought the highest price on record to-day, when two sold at $1000 apiece. The lowest price paid to-day was $800 for three warrants. The time has almost lapsed and there is now a heavy demand. Many holders declined to sell under $1025.

Most important branch.

Rev. Joseph Johnson, superintendent of the Primitive Methodist S. E. London Mission, said he deemed the annual meetings of the Methodist church the most important branch of the work.

"A man who can not experience real joy at such meetings has something wrong with him," he said. Rev. Edman Dalton, president of the Primitive Methodist conference, presided at the evening session and devotional services by Rev. W. Mincher. Every available seat in the great church was occupied, there being more visitors present than at any preceding session.

Reception at City Hall.

A civic reception at the city hall was extended to the delegates as friends during the afternoon. From 4 to 5 p.m. upwards of 1000 people filed thru the mayor's office and shook hands with the chief magistrate, who was in company with Harry Moore, Fred Doane, R. W. Eaton, W. K. Donoherty, R. C. Vaughan, Hon. Thomas Crawford, Rev. J. J. Redditt and Rev. T. E. Barclay.

The guests were welcomed by most of the controllers, aldermen, chief city officials and members and officials of the board of education. James Somers, assistant city clerk, and the reception committee of the city council, were in charge of the arrangements. National days will be observed in the city by an orchestra, which was stationed in a bower on the first floor.
