

INTERNATIONAL AUTOMOBILE SHOW

(IN EVERY RESPECT OF THE WORLD)

MUTUAL STREET RINK, APRIL 9th to 14th

English, French and American Cars. Imported expressly for this show. Don't do a thing about your new car until you look over the cream of the European Autos at the . . .

MUTUAL STREET RINK APRIL 9th to 14th

POWER AT CHEAP RATES MORE ABOUT COMMISSION

Members Are Reticent, But There is an Estimate of $15 to $17 Horse-Power.

The local members of the municipal power commission refuse to discuss the report, but yesterday it was stated by one who knows that the report promised power, developed and delivered, under government and municipal auspices, at from $15 to $17 per horse-power, per year of 24-hour days.

The commission also reported that a reduction of 20 per cent, in the cost of public and private lighting could be made. Arc lights could be provided for the municipalities at $40 per year each. The price paid by Toronto at present, under contract, is $60 each.

The total savings which could be effected to the Ontario municipalities, reported the commission, would be $1,500,000 per year.

These findings were based on the following estimates of costs for the establishment of plants for developing, transmitting and distributing:

For 50,000 horse-power plant, $6,354,000.

For 100,000 horse-power plant, $9,354,000.

For 150,000 horse-power plant, $11,900,000.

For 200,000 horse-power plant, $14,450,000.

For 250,000 horse-power plant, $17,000,000.

For 300,000 horse-power plant, $19,550,000.

For 350,000 horse-power plant, $22,100,000.

For 400,000 horse-power plant, $24,650,000.

For 450,000 horse-power plant, $27,200,000.

For 500,000 horse-power plant, $29,750,000.

For 550,000 horse-power plant, $32,300,000.

For 600,000 horse-power plant, $34,850,000.

For 650,000 horse-power plant, $37,400,000.

For 700,000 horse-power plant, $39,950,000.

For 750,000 horse-power plant, $42,500,000.

For 800,000 horse-power plant, $45,050,000.

For 850,000 horse-power plant, $47,600,000.

For 900,000 horse-power plant, $50,150,000.

For 950,000 horse-power plant, $52,700,000.

For 1,000,000 horse-power plant, $55,250,000.

For 1,050,000 horse-power plant, $57,800,000.

For 1,100,000 horse-power plant, $60,350,000.

For 1,150,000 horse-power plant, $62,900,000.

For 1,200,000 horse-power plant, $65,450,000.

For 1,250,000 horse-power plant, $68,000,000.

For 1,300,000 horse-power plant, $70,550,000.

For 1,350,000 horse-power plant, $73,100,000.

For 1,400,000 horse-power plant, $75,650,000.

For 1,450,000 horse-power plant, $78,200,000.

For 1,500,000 horse-power plant, $80,750,000.

For 1,550,000 horse-power plant, $83,300,000.

For 1,600,000 horse-power plant, $85,850,000.

For 1,650,000 horse-power plant, $88,400,000.

For 1,700,000 horse-power plant, $90,950,000.

For 1,750,000 horse-power plant, $93,500,000.

For 1,800,000 horse-power plant, $96,050,000.

For 1,850,000 horse-power plant, $98,600,000.

For 1,900,000 horse-power plant, $101,150,000.

For 1,950,000 horse-power plant, $103,700,000.

For 2,000,000 horse-power plant, $106,250,000.

For 2,050,000 horse-power plant, $108,800,000.

For 2,100,000 horse-power plant, $111,350,000.

For 2,150,000 horse-power plant, $113,900,000.

For 2,200,000 horse-power plant, $116,450,000.

For 2,250,000 horse-power plant, $119,000,000.

For 2,300,000 horse-power plant, $121,550,000.

For 2,350,000 horse-power plant, $124,100,000.

For 2,400,000 horse-power plant, $126,650,000.

For 2,450,000 horse-power plant, $129,200,000.

For 2,500,000 horse-power plant, $131,750,000.

For 2,550,000 horse-power plant, $134,300,000.

For 2,600,000 horse-power plant, $136,850,000.

For 2,650,000 horse-power plant, $139,400,000.

For 2,700,000 horse-power plant, $141,950,000.

For 2,750,000 horse-power plant, $144,500,000.

For 2,800,000 horse-power plant, $147,050,000.

For 2,850,000 horse-power plant, $149,600,000.

For 2,900,000 horse-power plant, $152,150,000.

READY FOR ROYAL VISIT
MAYOR TO GREET PRINCE

Market Matters in the Property Committee—The Day at the City Hall.

His worship the mayor has been officially notified by Capt. Macdonald, A.D.C., that H. R. H. Prince Arthur and his honor the lieutenant-governor will on April 23 leave government house at 11.25 a.m., and at 11.30 a.m. will be met by Mayor Coatsworth, the councillors and invited guests in the council chamber at the city hall, where his royal highness will be presented with an address and will reply.

Market Matters. The property committee decided yesterday afternoon to ask the board of control to provide funds for a new roof for St. Lawrence Market. The present roof leaks whenever opportunity offers. The proposed new one will cost $60,000.

They are going to remove the Angus Morrison drinking fountain from its present location on West Market street to a place on Front street, between the two old buildings. Ald. McMurich opposed it. It had historical connections having been presented to the city by an ex-mayor on the understanding that it would always remain near the market. It will cost $275 to remove the fountain.

There was a protest from the Toronto chapter of the Ontario Society of Architects against the proposal to demolish the St. Lawrence Market building. The matter has been discussed many times and the committee again recommended that $100 be spent in repairing the tower.

The committee recommended the preparation of a by-law setting apart 3500 feet of the sand bar east of the eastern gate for park purposes.

It will cost $300 to enlarge Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's private room in the registry office. At present the room is 8 x 12 feet, and it will be enlarged to the extent of 80 square feet.

The city architect was instructed to prepare plans for bath houses after a wordy war between Controllers Jones and Hubbard.

There is opposition to the establishment of a coal yard on Macpherson avenue, but the board of control told a deputation that they could not interfere.

Some Improvements. City Engineer Rust has recommended the following pavements: Lakeshore, concrete; York street bridge, brick; 314 St. Clair, concrete; Palmerston to Manning, asphalt; 3381, Grace street, College to Arthur, asphalt; 3301, Queen street, Woodbine avenue to 1224 feet west, macadam; 3374, Hallam street, Dovercourt road to Dufferin street, asphalt; 310,800; Bath avenue, Broadview avenue, to 500 feet east, asphalt; 322,000; Queen street, Greenwood avenue to east side of Kingston road, asphalt; 311,323; Broadview avenue, Gerrard to Danforth avenue, asphalt; 336,600; Gerrard street, Broadview to Logan, asphalt; 315,655.

Ald. Vaughan is Back. Ald. Vaughan is home from his trip to the Southern States. In Miami, Florida, he saw an iron swing bridge 435 feet long, which was built for $14,000, constructed under conditions similar to those which prevail at the western end of the city.

On this account, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are perfectly natural in their action and effects. They do not cause any unnatural or violent disturbance in the stomach or bowels. They themselves digest the food and supply the system with all the nourishment contained in what is eaten and carry out Nature's plans for the sustenance and maintenance of the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, by thus relieving the stomach of its work, enable it to recuperate and regain its normal health and strength. Nature repairs the worn and wasted tissues just as she heals and knits the bone of a broken limb, which is of course not used during the process of repair.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. One box will frequently effect a perfect cure.

Runaway on the Grass. Headless of those "Keep off the grass" signs, a runaway horse with a heavily laden wagon wrecked the northeast corner of the city hall lawn yesterday.

EIGHT ARRESTS MADE. Duluth, Minn., March 29.—Eight men and two boys and one woman were arrested here to-day on suspicion of being connected with the murder of six Bulgarians in Minneapolis early Tuesday.

Prof. Coleman has been elected second vice-president of the Alpine Club of Canada.

WITNESSES KNOW SO LITTLE THAT VERDICT IS DOUBTED

Officials of York Loan and Liszt Piano Co. Declare Themselves Ignorant on Sundry Matters.

If the witnesses at the renewed Phillips investigation yesterday were not exactly like "Poor Joe," who knew "nuffin," they certainly displayed an innocence like that of the little lamb. Crown Attorney Curry during the day expressed surprise that a secretary-treasurer should know so little concerning the books with which he might reasonably be expected to be familiar. The crown attorney's temper was tried.

George R. Burt, who appeared to have recovered from his collapse at the previous sitting, but who was told by Magistrate Denison that he might be seated whenever he felt faint, was again questioned by the crown attorney. His answers, apparently, gave no satisfaction.

While maintaining his statement that the Montreal Bank account was his own, Burt was unable to say for whom the four large cheques of $200,000, $5000 and $1800 were, who drew them, and to whom and when they were paid. He could not remember. Miss Hudson had asked him.

Mr. Curry eventually cautioned the witness of the penalty for perjury, and witness admitted that he had $500 in the Lee grocery. He had forgotten that in previous examination. He also acknowledged that he had not made any entries in the Liszt Piano Company's books. He had not had them in his possession.

"Didn't he put it all at $800?" Witness could not say, but thought it was more than $1000.

"Where was the money deposited that you got for Toronto Life stock?" "It went into the business, but was returned to Miss Hudson."

"You had no other interest but the fact that your name was used? Is that the truth?"

"Yes."

Never Had Bank Book. A cheque for $496.38, Burt said, went into the Dominion Bank. He did not know whether it went into his own account or not. He had not seen it. The amount did not appear in Burt's bank book. "You never," said Crown Attorney Curry, "had the bank book containing the account of the Liszt Piano Company in your possession until yesterday?"

"No."

"You," remarked the crown attorney, "had $10,000 in the bank, and didn't know anything about it? Were you ever known as the owner of the account?"

Burt admitted that he was not. The books of the Liszt Piano Company were kept at the York Loan Club and were never audited.

Sanderson, the next witness, said that before the York County Loan went into the piano business he valued the piano property as worth $800 for the three or four pianos, benches and hand-saws there were on hand. On this a loan of $1200 was made.

The arrangement was that "Burt was to manufacture the piano for $125 each, and hand them over to the York County Loan, and the difference between this amount and the selling price was to go to the York Loan. The price was afterwards raised to $150."

"Did you learn where the money from the collections for the piano company was?" asked the crown attorney.

"I learned," replied the witness, "that they went as far as Mr. Phillips. Mr. Phillips said to me, 'I will not hand it over to the treasurer, as I consider it safer in my hands than in anyone else's.'"

The Printing Company. In the afternoon Sanderson, testifying concerning the printing business, stated that Myers & Case bought the supplies, as he supposed, under the authority of Phillips. He had there directors, but he as a director was aware of the purchases. Sanderson had suggested a stock company and Phillips had explained that the printing business could not be run according to the charter, hence it was necessary to run it in somebody else's name.

In the afternoon Sanderson, testifying concerning the printing business, stated that Myers & Case bought the supplies, as he supposed, under the authority of Phillips. He had there directors, but he as a director was aware of the purchases. Sanderson had suggested a stock company and Phillips had explained that the printing business could not be run according to the charter, hence it was necessary to run it in somebody else's name.

Sanderson said Sanderson testified that the money, and I will not hand it over to the treasurer, as I consider it safer in my hands than in anyone else's."

Treasurer Got an Auto. V. Robin, who was the secretary-treasurer of the York County Loan, was again called. He said that a cheque for $500 on Jan. 23, 1906, was in payment for an automobile for himself. As secretary-treasurer, he said, he paid out sums of the order of Mr. Phillips.

Crown Attorney Curry said that he had been informed by an anonymous letter that it was Robin's desire to forget as much as possible.

"Oh, no it is not," was the reply. "I cannot understand," said the crown attorney, "how a man in a responsible position as secretary-treasurer should not keep more careful account of the takings and out-goings. What salary were you paid in 1899 and 1900?"

"Thirty dollars a week," he also told commissions on Canadian Express money orders issued by himself.

"Do you know this book?" asked Crown Attorney Curry, handing a huge ledger.

"No."

Miss Hall said it was the expense ledger of the York Loan.

"What is the Canadian Home?" asked the crown attorney of Robin.

The reply was that the Canadian Home was another of Phillips' publications.

"The ramifications of this case are truly wonderful," said the crown attorney; it appeared that in 1904 payments of $900 were paid to The Canadian Home.

All the withdrawals from the Toronto Life came to him as secretary-treasurer, but he had kept no account of the Toronto Life payments.

Questioned concerning the York Loan's dealings, as proposed the Liszt Piano Company, he admitted that $50,000 had been taken out of the funds of the York Loan and put into a separate account in the Molson's Bank in the name of the York Loan.

"Was the money not set aside for the purpose of establishing a piano department in connection with the York County Loan?"

"No, it was a loan."

"To a man who had nothing to loan," said Mr. Curry.

After evidence by Miss Hall concerning the receipts signed by Phillips for his expenses, court adjourned until to-day.

THE TORONTO WORLD

Officials of York Loan and Liszt Piano Co. Declare Themselves Ignorant on Sundry Matters.

If the witnesses at the renewed Phillips investigation yesterday were not exactly like "Poor Joe," who knew "nuffin," they certainly displayed an innocence like that of the little lamb. Crown Attorney Curry during the day expressed surprise that a secretary-treasurer should know so little concerning the books with which he might reasonably be expected to be familiar. The crown attorney's temper was tried.

George R. Burt, who appeared to have recovered from his collapse at the previous sitting, but who was told by Magistrate Denison that he might be seated whenever he felt faint, was again questioned by the crown attorney. His answers, apparently, gave no satisfaction.

While maintaining his statement that the Montreal Bank account was his own, Burt was unable to say for whom the four large cheques of $200,000, $5000 and $1800 were, who drew them, and to whom and when they were paid. He could not remember. Miss Hudson had asked him.

Mr. Curry eventually cautioned the witness of the penalty for perjury, and witness admitted that he had $500 in the Lee grocery. He had forgotten that in previous examination. He also acknowledged that he had not made any entries in the Liszt Piano Company's books. He had not had them in his possession.

"Didn't he put it all at $800?" Witness could not say, but thought it was more than $1000.

"Where was the money deposited that you got for Toronto Life stock?" "It went into the business, but was returned to Miss Hudson."

"You had no other interest but the fact that your name was used? Is that the truth?"

"Yes."

Never Had Bank Book. A cheque for $496.38, Burt said, went into the Dominion Bank. He did not know whether it went into his own account or not. He had not seen it. The amount did not appear in Burt's bank book. "You never," said Crown Attorney Curry, "had the bank book containing the account of the Liszt Piano Company in your possession until yesterday?"

"No."

"You," remarked the crown attorney, "had $10,000 in the bank, and didn't know anything about it? Were you ever known as the owner of the account?"

Burt admitted that he was not. The books of the Liszt Piano Company were kept at the York Loan Club and were never audited.

Sanderson, the next witness, said that before the York County Loan went into the piano business he valued the piano property as worth $800 for the three or four pianos, benches and hand-saws there were on hand. On this a loan of $1200 was made.

The arrangement was that "Burt was to manufacture the piano for $125 each, and hand them over to the York County Loan, and the difference between this amount and the selling price was to go to the York Loan. The price was afterwards raised to $150."

"Did you learn where the money from the collections for the piano company was?" asked the crown attorney.

"I learned," replied the witness, "that they went as far as Mr. Phillips. Mr. Phillips said to me, 'I will not hand it over to the treasurer, as I consider it safer in my hands than in anyone else's.'"

The Printing Company. In the afternoon Sanderson, testifying concerning the printing business, stated that Myers & Case bought the supplies, as he supposed, under the authority of Phillips. He had there directors, but he as a director was aware of the purchases. Sanderson had suggested a stock company and Phillips had explained that the printing business could not be run according to the charter, hence it was necessary to run it in somebody else's name.

In the afternoon Sanderson, testifying concerning the printing business, stated that Myers & Case bought the supplies, as he supposed, under the authority of Phillips. He had there directors, but he as a director was aware of the purchases. Sanderson had suggested a stock company and Phillips had explained that the printing business could not be run according to the charter, hence it was necessary to run it in somebody else's name.

Sanderson said Sanderson testified that the money, and I will not hand it over to the treasurer, as I consider it safer in my hands than in anyone else's."

Treasurer Got an Auto. V. Robin, who was the secretary-treasurer of the York County Loan, was again called. He said that a cheque for $500 on Jan. 23, 1906, was in payment for an automobile for himself. As secretary-treasurer, he said, he paid out sums of the order of Mr. Phillips.

Crown Attorney Curry said that he had been informed by an anonymous letter that it was Robin's desire to forget as much as possible.

"Oh, no it is not," was the reply. "I cannot understand," said the crown attorney, "how a man in a responsible position as secretary-treasurer should not keep more careful account of the takings and out-goings. What salary were you paid in 1899 and 1900?"

"Thirty dollars a week," he also told commissions on Canadian Express money orders issued by himself.

"Do you know this book?" asked Crown Attorney Curry, handing a huge ledger.

"No."

Miss Hall said it was the expense ledger of the York Loan.

"What is the Canadian Home?" asked the crown attorney of Robin.

The reply was that the Canadian Home was another of Phillips' publications.

"The ramifications of this case are truly wonderful," said the crown attorney; it appeared that in 1904 payments of $900 were paid to The Canadian Home.

All the withdrawals from the Toronto Life came to him as secretary-treasurer, but he had kept no account of the Toronto Life payments.

Questioned concerning the York Loan's dealings, as proposed the Liszt Piano Company, he admitted that $50,000 had been taken out of the funds of the York Loan and put into a separate account in the Molson's Bank in the name of the York Loan.

"Was the money not set aside for the purpose of establishing a piano department in connection with the York County Loan?"

"No, it was a loan."

"To a man who had nothing to loan," said Mr. Curry.

After evidence by Miss Hall concerning the receipts signed by Phillips for his expenses, court adjourned until to-day.

Last week these newspapers were notified by the postoffice that these newspapers had been dropped or the papers could not go thru the mails. The newspapers were notified by the postoffice that these newspapers had been dropped or the papers could not go thru the mails. The newspapers were notified by the postoffice that these newspapers had been dropped or the papers could not go thru the mails.

Without the newspaper advertisement, the newspapers were notified by the postoffice that these newspapers had been dropped or the papers could not go thru the mails. The newspapers were notified by the postoffice that these newspapers had been dropped or the papers could not go thru the mails.

The licensed victuallers will send a large deputation to wait on the government next Wednesday.

Saturday Savings

This is Roof Repairing Time

Now, while the bad state of that roof is fresh in your mind from the experience of recent wet weather, is the best time for you to get right to work with Russell's Ready Roofing. Its low cost, great durability, ease of application, suitability to any style of roof, and the fact that it is waterproof and fireproof, accounts for its great popularity. Put up in rolls of 107 square feet, complete with the necessary materials, and made in two grades and priced, per roll, as follows: Best grade $2.00; ordinary grade $1.50.

A Dollar Thirty-nine.

A Dollar Seventy-five.

Did Your Roof Leak

During the recent heavy rainstorm, if so, and you want to make it rainproof, just give it a coat of Russell's Ready Roofing. It will seal up all the leaks and add at least ten years to the life of any wooden shingle, metal or felt and gravel roof to which it is applied. One gallon covers about 150 square feet, and costs per gallon $1.25; per 3 gallons $3.75. In 5 gallon cans, per gallon $1.15.