FOOTBALL FAMILY.

London, April 12.—The Wren family will long be remembered in Bristol football circles. To them belongs the honor of having provided a complete team of players in a match which attracted a great crowd of spectators to the Bristol Rovers' ground yesterday.

When the match was proposed Mr. Wren had little difficulty in getting his team together, for in one street in Bristol-Bendish-street of about eighty houses, there are no fewer than seventy-two persons of the name of Wren, all of whom are related to the veteran.

For many years the family have been famous in Bristol as football players. Years ago several of their members helped to found the North Bristol Rugby League and the Raglan Rugby Club, but Rugby has since been deserted for Association, and it was under the rules of the latter that the match was played yesterday.

The referees included a one-armed man, and when the teams lined up and the veteran started the ball going a great cheer was raised. The Wrens were not long in getting to work, and had the game all their own way.

The referees seemed to be out of place in their novel position, and more than one of them appeared anxious when in a tight corner, to resort to their absent whistles.

Tommy Wren, who is just seventy-one years younger than his grandfather, drew first blood after eight minutes' play with a clever shot which beat the referee goalkeeper, while other goals were kicked by Jesse and Jack, the referees failing to score at all.

In fact the Wren family won with ease, much to the delight of the old man, whose lusty cheers he urged the boys or the others of the house on to further efforts could be heard all over the field.

In a short chat he had with an Essex representative he said he felt quite fit enough to play himself, but had preferred to let the youngster Johnnie have his chance.

His ancestors, he said in answer to questions, came over to Bristol from Holland a century and a half ago, and every one of the male members of the family is now a mosaic worker.

KILLS GERMS OF TYPHOID SIMPLE METHOD FOUND

By Application of Certain Chemicals Existing Conditions Are Changed.

Washington, April 12.—A simple system whereby typhoid fever germs can be exterminated in any water supply, however extensively it may be impregnated, has been discovered by Dr. Geo. F. Moore, in charge of the laboratory of bacteriology of the Department of Agriculture. This important discovery is the result of three years' experiments undertaken for the purpose of discovering a preventive of algae, the most common form of which is the green scum often seen on stagnant pools and in water troughs. Not only did Dr. Moore discover a preventive of algae, but a thoro eradicator of typhoid germs as well.

Dr. Moore's system does not consist of the application of Bordeaux mixture, which has been erroneously stated, but of the application of various chemicals, changing with existing conditions. The chief principle of the discovery, however, is the method of application. Altho the chemical constituents of the water, the character of pollution, the temperature of the water and the season of the year are all factors in governing the method and constituents of the treatment, it is susceptible of application by any trained scientist such as should be found at the head of boards of health or in charge of state laboratories.

The cost of application is insignificant, being, apart from the pay of those engaged to supervise the work, not over 50 or 60 cents a million gallons of water treated, and the preparations used for eradicating the typhoid germs are tasteless, odorless and harmless, in no way interfering with the use of the water for drinking purposes. The system is so simple that had he been able to apply his system to the water supplies of Cornell University and the city of Ithaca, where typhoid epidemics directly traceable to the water supplies have recently occurred, he could have promptly eradicated the malignant germ and, without diminishing in the slightest degree the quality of the water, have rendered it harmless.

Since the discovery of the system, Dr. Moore has thoroly and repeatedly tested it, and typhoid germs of long established pedigree, whose inviolability have yielded to its influence and become as innocuous as the purest water, so that he is not entertained the slightest doubt of the efficacy and value of his system. As typhoid is one of the few diseases conveyed by water, and as this discovery, properly applied, it is believed, will afford immunity from its continued ravages, both Secretary Wilson and Dr. Moore are overjoyed at the results.

In the near future the department of agriculture will publish a bulletin which will be supplied without charge to boards of health and scientific bodies.

The great railway car loaning corporation and other corporations owning their own cars, which your committee believes use the Ontario railway system for transportation of freight along Canadian railways, are being considered by your committee. In regard to these latter, your committee is of the opinion that legislation should be passed to require the railway companies to contribute to the provincial revenue, and to that end, if practicable, legislation might be introduced this session.

As to the methods to be adopted in the early future for the purpose of raising the railway corporation's contribution to the provincial revenue, the committee is of the opinion that instead of now appointing a commission to study the matter, it would be better to refer the matter to a provincial commission, that would take into consideration such questions as the more general classification of companies concerned in the operation of public utilities, the investigation of questions arising in connection with the floating of debts, and application by municipalities for legislation consolidating their debts and possibly the approval of all bills by municipalities purporting to confer monopolistic rights on public utilities, such commission to have the power to advise upon the terms of such bills and generally for matters similar to those which have been referred to the committee by the provincial government board of enquiry of the mother country.

Four committees in the meantime a commission consisting of three persons be appointed to collect information on the subject of railway legislation in force in the United States, and also statistics as to the value of railway property owned and operated in this province in order that the legislature may be informed whether any other basis than the present one would be more equitable, so far as the railways are concerned, and as to the means of finding a living for himself in the society which, therefore, he hated.

ANARCHY IN BELGIUM.

Dynamite Revival on 33rd Anniversary of Paris Commune.

Paris, April 12.—With the explosion of a bomb laid on the threshold of a police official, who left unscathed—by the mutilation, by the usual scream of chance, of an army officer, two policemen, a surveyor, a workman printer, and a priest—the 18th hour of the Paris Commune, the anniversary of the Paris Commune of 1871, has been solemnly celebrated in the Belgian City of Liege.

It is not the first time that anything to straighten out the tangle, the "proto-martyrs" of Chicago, before Ravachol, singing a hymn against property holders as he mounted the scaffold, before Emile Henry, who in his second bomb at the middle-class people whose money had educated him scientifically, and in doing so, was the means of finding a living for himself in the society which, therefore, he hated.

Toronto Junction School Board Passes Resolution Condemning Legislature in Sturgeon Falls Issue.

Toronto Junction, April 12.—The public school board met to-night and discussed several communications from the school board of Sturgeon Falls, in which they asked co-operation in their condemnation of the action of the Ontario legislature in legalizing by act of the legislature an illegal act of the public and separate school boards of that town. In committee last night, Trustee Rice succeeded in having a recommendation made a clause in the committee's report, but to-night, with a full board, the clause was struck out and this was substituted:

This board denounces the action of the local legislature in ratifying the agreement made by the public school board of Sturgeon Falls. Years ago, Sturgeon Falls, Ontario, was a town of 1000 people, and it was the Imperial Paper Mills, the board's objection to having its action legalized is not creditable to that body, and that which is viewed from any perspective, nor wrong can be discovered in the government or in the proposal of the legislature, of sufficient magnitude to justify the interference of other towns in the civic politics of Sturgeon Falls.

Mr. Rice said he felt it his duty to condemn the Sturgeon Falls School Board. An effort was made to raise another creed, and it would be proper to give the Sturgeon Falls School Board a lecture that might do them good. Taking a local case in point, Trustee Rice argued that the Board of Sturgeon Falls should not be exempted from the Union Stock Yards agreement, and that the public school board would receive the whole $4000 annual taxes, while the separate school board would receive nothing. Trustee Goedicks did not concur with the motion in any way. One point had been missed, and that was that the whole rumpus had started where other difficulties were in this town had originated, and that was with Bishop O'Connor of Peterboro. He agreed with the resolution, and was joined by Roman Catholics who were being educated in the public school free of charge.
