England's most important prize fight of many years takes place to-day in the National Sporting Club between James "Gunner" Moir, the English top notcher, and Tommy Burns "of Amex-lacrosse player of Hanover, Ont. Burns is also likely the superior boxer. Both are equally game.

The ex-lacrosse player is always fighting to win and win as much as he can. In none of his battles does he go unbacked. Press cables would indicate that Burns is trying to get a price on himself, and the exuberance of National Club men will surely put some even money in sight which will be snapped up so avoriciously the creek of the first of the centre.

Besides the purse and bets weight championship of the world. This contest is creating greater interest than any since those in which Jem Mace, the last English holder of the title, took part, for there is a feeling in some circles that Moir's greater weight, reach and height and the experience that he has gained in many fights at the National Sporting Club, will be sufficient to overcome Burns' superior tactics and bring the championship back to England to restore to us the laurels which we feel should rightly find a resting-place in this country. And if Moir should fulfil his and our ambition we have to England in the fifth frame; two of the men on each team doubling up in the next. In the second game Floral repeated in the sixth frame. down. This want of confidence on the part of the betters on the English champion is due to Burns' record in America and the fact that he is much the faster of the fighters.

Published details of the physique of the respective men show Moir at an advantage of 2½ inches in height, also in weight and reach. Both men show the utmost confidence.
