NEWS FROM NORTH END

Fell Dead.

Dennis Connelley, 70 years of age fell dead on the street this morning at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Connelley was a street laborer and was on his way to work when at the corner of Main and Adelaide Sts. he was seen to fall to the sidewalk. Officer Greer was soon on hand, and found that the old man was dead. Word was at once sent to Coroner Berryman, who ordered the body to be removed to the house of James Kingston, River street, which was Mr. Connelley's boarding place. This was done and after the coroner viewed the remains, he decided that an inquest would not be necessary, as the old man had died from heart failure.

The River Boats.

The steamer Majestic, was to have gone through the falls last night to Hilary's block where she was to have some repairs made on her wheel. She could not go, however, as the Elaine was occupying the block. The Elaine went up through the morning, and the Majestic will go down tonight.

The Majestic brought down from up river yesterday afternoon, twenty head of cattle. The Clifton left for Hampton this morning with a heavy freight on board.

Slight fire.
The north end fire brigade was called out at noon today to respond to an alarm sent in from the Portland Rolling Mills. (The fire did not amount to much, and very little damage was done. The fire is thought to have started from one of the forges. A small portion of the tempering room floor was burned.

An alarm from box 127 brought the north end fire department out for the second time this morning. A fire had started in some grass along the railroad track, from hot coals dropped from an engine. The fire was extinguished without any trouble.

Minor Notes.

A. H. Treadwell, the well-known farmer and horse breeder of Mougerville is in the city today.

St. Luke's Choral Club will not meet for practice tonight owing to Mr. McGowan's absence from town.

NORTHERN PACIFIC AGAIN.

(New York Post.)
After an interval of almost four years the Northern Pacific Railroad have returned to the list of the New York and Little interest attaches to the resumption of this stock, which was sold in May, 1898, and the one at 25 cents a share and at $100, the one prior to May, 1901.

The Northern Pacific will be the stock and all will be its course. Will it again rise sharply and control the market? Or does the selling of Northern Pacific securities last evening, and the fact that the Union Pacific, convinced that it can no longer hold its own in the Pacific coast, will eventually turn a seller of the stock? It will thereupon be the stock's question?

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

Roy Smith, son of J. Willard Smith, who has been spending a holiday at his home returned to St. John today to resume his studies.

Miss Annie Smith, daughter of J. Willard Smith, this city, is now at Montreal, to be present at the graduation exercises when her sister, Miss Ella Graham, who has met with much success in her musical and elocutionary studies in Halifax, has been spending a few days at home in St. John, but will return to Halifax tomorrow.

La. Governor J. B. Snowball is at the Royal.

OTTAWA, April 25.—The house resumed at three o'clock today when Mr. Broder, of Dundas, will proceed with the debate on the autonomy bill.

The arrangement is that there will be no division before May 2, but this can be changed at any time by the whips of both parties after consultation with the leaders.

GETTING AN APPETITE.

(From the Saturday Evening Post.)
Senator Clay, of Georgia, had occasion recently to visit San Antonio, Texas, where there is a considerable Chinese colony.

In one of the poorer sections of the city he was witness to an incident which has impressed him with the belief that Chinese have a fully developed sense of humor. A tramp wandered up to a wash-crozier shop and knocked gently. Immature in white sack blouse and clean apron, the Chinese cook opened the portal and gazed with disfavor upon the soiled specimen of humanity before him.

"What a mistake!"
"Say, Chin, give us a bite of food."
"You hungry?"
"Yes, I am very hungry."
"You like fish?"
"You bet—anything!"
"You like boiled-fish—baked?"
"Yes, yes, any way; no matter."
"All right, you come back Friday."

Elderly Lady (to policeman at crossing)—Isn't yours a dangerous post, officer?

Policeman—"I suppose it would be, only I'm married, marm."

Elderly Lady—"I mean that you run a constant risk of being run over."

Policeman—"Oh, I thought you meant I run the risk of being run in by some of the ladies I help over the crossing."

Greene—"Wonder why you leave so many handbills at White's. He never buys anything of you, does he?"

Brown—"That's just the reason. It makes him afraid to have his door-way littered up."

"What do you consider the six best books of the year, Mr. Ego?" asked the young woman.

"Well, recently," replied Mr. Ego, "the apostle, 'The Way' and 'The Book of the Living'."

A JOYOUS WELCOME

Given to His Lordship Bishop Casey by 800 Pupils of St. Joseph's and St. Vincent's Schools—His Gracious Reply.

The assembly hall of St. Joseph's school was the scene of a very pretty and interesting function at 11 o'clock this morning. The occasion marked the welcome home of His Lordship Bishop Casey by the girls of St. Joseph's and St. Vincent's schools.

The little girls and young ladies of the two schools, numbering about 800, were attired in white dresses and each wore a bouquet of flowers. The reception was in the form of a very pretty operetta, which had been prepared for the occasion, and consisted of choruses, drills, dances and dialogues, which were excellently carried out by the ones to whom they were allotted.

His Lordship, the priests of the city parishes, and the Sisters of Charity were present, as well as a number of the paragon of the children and representatives of the press.

The Sisters who had the entertainment in charge deserve much credit for the very efficient way in which everything connected with it was carried out. The programme was as follows:

1. Prayer for the safe return of His Lordship—Two hundred little girls.

2. News of arrival—Misses Rita McEvoy and Marie Neale, messengers.

3. Song of joy and thanksgiving.

4. Meeting of Angel Raphael and Angel of the Diocese—Angel Raphael, Miss Dutton; Angel of the Diocese, Miss McEldine.

5. Affectionate tributes—Misses F. O'Neill; Flowers, Miss E. Coughlin; Gratitude, Miss G. Dever; Prayer, Miss G. O'Leary; Miss G. Kelly; Guardian Angel, Miss McInerney; Attendants, Misses E. Keefe and A. Harney.

6. Presentation of banner and flowers to His Lordship.

7. Song—"All hail, Our Bishop here!"

8. Chorus of girls carrying letters, reading "Welcome to our Bishop."

His Lordship and the accompanying priests were served with a luncheon in St. Vincent's Convent at the close of the reception.

At the close of the programme, His Lordship addressed the children. He said:—"It is sweet to be home again after a long and perilous voyage. It is gratifying to me to receive the warm welcome of the good people and to receive such words of sweetest welcome and tenderness from the musical voices of these loving young hearts. It moves me to such depths that I can hardly restrain my emotion. I thank you heartily and receive with great joy this emblem which you have presented to me. All these beautiful things you have done so well made me feel the reality of your prayers, that brought angels to protect us. We were through dangers on the sea, and when our ship was tossed about and we were tired out with our journey, I felt the prayers of my little ones."

He then referred to his visit to the north where the mass fell among thieves, and said that he felt afraid, as there was only one soldier to protect them, but they came through all right, thanks to the prayers of the children.

He paid a high tribute to His Holiness Pope Pius X., to whom he spoke of his children here. His Holiness had sent them this message:—"Tell them I love them and give them my blessing."

The bishop then referred to his visit to the birthplace of our Lord on Calvary. He also was in the sepulchre where our Lord lay, and said a mass for his people while there. In closing he pronounced the apostolic benediction, which had been sent through him to his people here.

His Lordship and the accompanying priests were served with a luncheon in St. Vincent's Convent at the close of the reception.

Oh! glorious days of old renown,
When England's ensign flew
Nail'd to the mast, till mast fell down
Amid the dauntless crew—
When Rodney, Howe and Nelson's name
Made England's glory great,
Till every English heart became
Invincible as fate.

God rest the souls of them that gave
Our ships a passage free,
Till English, borne by wind and wave,
Was known in every sea.

Our ships of oak are iron now,
But still our hearts are warm,
Our Viking courage ne'er shall bow
In battle or in storm.

Let England's love of freedom teach
The tongue that freemen know,
Till every land shall learn the speech
That sets our hearts aglow.

Long may our Shakespeare's noble strain
Float widely, safe and free;
And long may England's speech remain
The language of the sea!

Our ships of oak are iron now,
But still our hearts are warm,
Our Viking courage ne'er shall bow
In battle or in storm.

Let England's love of freedom teach
The tongue that freemen know,
Till every land shall learn the speech
That sets our hearts aglow.

Long may our Shakespeare's noble strain
