EVIDENT FAILURE OF IRISH NEGOTIATIONS

London, July 24.—Confirming publicly today the suspicion that the cabinet had been unable to reach a decision in regard to the home rule amending bill, Premier Asquith, in the house of commons, announced that the government would not introduce any bill of this kind with regard to which there was no substantial agreement among all parties. This was taken in the lobbies of parliament to mean that home rule had been dropped for the moment, and that Lloyd George's negotiations had come to naught.

The stumbling block appears to have been the retention of the imperial parliament of Nationalist representation in undiminished numbers.

John Redmond, leader of the Nationalists, moved an adjournment of the house to discuss the premier's reply, and a lively debate, when the regular business of the house of commons was concluded was anticipated.

"Having attained the consent of our supporters to this agreement, I was faced on my return to London by the entirely new proposal from the Marquis of Lansdowne, which came as a bolt from the blue. Lord Lansdowne, in a speech in the house of lords, declared the bill to be introduced would contain certain structural alterations of the act of 1914, which would be permanent and enduring, and I immediately protested.

"Saturday last Lloyd George and the home secretary informed me the cabinet had decided to insert in the bill two provisions—one for the permanent retention of the Irish members at Westminster during the transitional period. This decision was declared to be absolute and final.

"I stand by every word in the agreement we came to. I will not agree to any new proposals, which would mean an absolute and irreparable breach of faith on my part towards my supporters in Ireland. I warn the government that if they introduce a bill on the lines indicated we will oppose it at every stage."

Secretary Lloyd George emphasized the difficulty in embodying heads of agreement in agreement and insisted it was only a question of phrasing. He confessed that a departure had been made in the matter of Irish representation in the house of representatives, because the Unionist members of the cabinet found it impossible to secure the retention of their followers to the maintenance of an undiminished Irish representation after a general election, and after home rule had been set up in Ireland.

His proposal, he said, therefore was modified as follows:

"Until dissolution Irish members of parliament remain undiminished, afterwards the provisions of the home rule act should become operative, but the Irish members should be summoned in undiminished numbers whenever parliament considers the final settlement."

Sir Edward Carson said that when he went into negotiations he thought only of what was best for his own party, and compared with which home rule or anything else mattered little. He would never have touched the negotiations, except as a war measure, and had made it perfectly clear from the beginning that the six Ulster counties must be struck definitely out of the home rule act.

William O'Brien, leader of the Independent Nationalists, said the partition plot is dead and damned. Millions of the Irish race will rejoice with all their hearts, tomorrow or the day after.

Why, then, is there so much talk by doctors against "self-medication"? A woman can recognize all ordinary ailments without calling on a doctor. If they are ailments distinctive to her sex she generally knows enough to use that greatest of all remedies for such ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and likewise she is familiar with the standard remedies for other diseases.

Cheese-making has made great strides in Queensland during the last few years. No fewer than sixty-three factories have been established—a total said to be greater than any other state.

The result is somewhat surprising, considering the climatic conditions in Queensland, but the reason of this is that the cheese-making industry has been able to secure a cheap factory there, and has been able to export its products to the United States.

Since the war broke out Queensland cheese has done well in the London market.

There is only one remedy to use in all cases of dysentery, and that is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It will cure when all other remedies fail.

Mrs. J. Leslie McKee, Redvers, Sask., writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for my little boy when he was about nine months old. He was awfully bad with dysentery. I had not laid him down for three days and nights, only when his father took him for a few minutes. He had both the diarrhoea and vomiting. I had tried everything until my husband got Dr. Fowler's, and three doses cured him."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy you want. Don't take any other when you ask for it. Manufactured only by the T. Millburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35c.

During The WeekTotal Enlisted 123, as Against 158 in Previous Period

There was a slight decrease in recruiting throughout the province during the last week in comparison with the previous week. St. John county again leads the province by a wide margin. During the last week there were 123 men signed in New Brunswick and the previous week 158. The following are the totals, by county in New Brunswick: St. John, 47; Albert, 16; York, 15; Westmorland, 10; Gloucester, 9; Northumberland, 8; Charlotte, 4; Kings, 3; Queens and Sunbury, 2; Carleton, 2; Restigouche, 2; with Victoria, Kent and Madawaska nothing. A recruit total 128. Total last week 158. Three recruits from P. E. Island were signed on for the 68th Battalion during the week.

Signed Yesterday
Those who passed the physical test and were sworn in yesterday were: Albert R. Mack, Grand River, N. B.; Charles R. Bilen, Bedford, N. B.; Richard S. Gorman, St. John; Andrew M. Gibb, Hammond River, N. B.; L. W. Brown, St. Martins. The first four were for No. 1 Construction Battalion and the last named for No. 9 Siege Battery.

Only twenty men more are needed from St. John to fill up the ranks of the Construction Corps. When this number is secured big things are ahead of this unit, according to a message received by Lieutenant Cross, who is in charge of the recruiting in this city, from the O. C. of the battalion.

Now Adjutant of 104th.

Lieutenant H. C. Simmons, who was in charge of the travellers' platoon of the 104th Battalion, writing to the city, says: "The advice that he had been promoted to captain and adjutant of the 104th Battalion, which is a great honor, according to a message received by Lieutenant Cross, who is in charge of the recruiting in this city, from the O. C. of the battalion."

Gets Commission.

Lieutenant Hatheway, of Fredericton, who was formerly a corporal in the Royal Canadian Dragoons, and who recently was wounded, is now attached to the Canadian cavalry depot, Shorncliffe, England. Being promoted to the rank of lieutenant he has been made paymaster of the depot.

Back to Recapture.

Pte. Frank Grey, a returned soldier, arrived in the city yesterday to recapture the effects of concussion. He was in the 10th Battalion under Lieut. Col. P. A. Guthrie, and Pte. Gray paid a warm and cordial tribute to Colonel Guthrie, and told how he led his men in a desperate charge in which many fell. Pte. Gray was in the 12th Battalion in England, but he soon became tired of the monotony of camp life and smuggled his way into France in order to get into the fighting. He took part in most of the important engagements. He was greeted at the station by an enthusiastic gathering and his home-coming was made most pleasant.

Private Adelard Canty's wounds, which he sustained about two weeks ago, have proven fatal and word of his death was received in Bathurst last Tuesday. He passed away on July 16, at No. 4 General Hospital in Camiers, France.

John Montgomery, of the post office staff, received a message yesterday informing him that his son, Corporal J. Lewin, who was seriously wounded about a month ago, is improving.

E. P. Winslow, superintendent of western branches of the Bank of Montreal, with headquarters in Winnipeg, has received a cablegram from England informing him that his son, Lieutenant Hugh Winslow, had lost his left arm at the recent battle of Ypres. Mr. Winslow has a younger son at Valcartier. He was recently made provisional lieutenant.

Recruits for No. 1 Construction.

Only twenty more men are wanted from St. John to fill up the ranks of the Construction Corps. When this number have been secured big things are ahead of this unit, according to a message received by Lieut. Cross, who is in charge of recruiting in this city, from the O. C. of the battalion.

Recent Appointments.

The latest issue of the Canada Gazette contains the following maritime appointments: Cavalry—8th Princess Louise New Brunswick Hussars—To be provisional lieutenant (superintending): James

To Discharge Wounded.
The British war office has issued an order that all soldiers who have been wounded since the war began in August 4, 1914, are to wear a gold stripe on their left sleeve, one stripe for each time wounded.

A law promulgated by Claudius Caesar in 48 A. D., establishing the inalienable right of possession by a man of his queen bee and her retinue, was invoked in Yonkers, N. Y., when Judge Joseph H. Beale in the City Court directed that a queen bee and her swarm be returned to Kenneth W. Brown. In court, Mr. Brown accused Fred Ecker and Albert Stevens of luring a queen

bee and her swarm away from their home by "maliciously and wickedly holding forth certain blandishments to the tin pans and other noise."
