Mothers-in-Law and Laundrymen

Both mothers-in-law and laundrymen are sometimes the butt of the newspaper humorist. In real life, however, who ever saw a mother-in-law who wasn't helpful and sympathetic and lovable?

In the modern, up-to-date laundry, machinery does not ever touch clothes. Chemicals and artificial "whiteners" are not used. Pure soap and pure hot water are the only cleansing agents. And the "rub-a-dub-dub" of the private laundress, with its wear-and-tear of clothes, is eliminated. Is there any joke in that?

It is just common-sense, and the modern laundry-way is the safe, sensible way for cleansing garments properly.

A departure from the regular wet-wash laundry methods is our special feature of trying the clothes before returning, if desired.

An English Custom Becoming Quite Common in Canada

Every country has its national customs and habits.

For instance, England has the custom of serving afternoon tea.

English homes, stores, offices, factories, work shops, hotels and tea rooms serve afternoon tea. It is part of the national life of England.

Our soldiers poked fun at it, but were not long in acquiring the habit.

And they are not giving it up now that they are back home.

They are influencing a more general adoption of afternoon tea in Canada.

To-day this English custom is quite common in Canadian homes.

It is spreading. New tea rooms are opening all over Canada. Hotels are making a specialty of afternoon tea. The habit is invading offices, stores and work shops.

A few minutes rest in the afternoon with a cup of good tea is a wonderful reviver, giving new zest to the busy business man, stenographer, clerk and worker.

Afternoon tea is a good business proposition.

Easily and quickly made. Very inexpensive.
