

Wife, His "Dearest Pal," Accused By Dying Officer Must Face Murder Charge

LIEUT. JAMES C. RICKNER.

Anniston, Alabama, June 15.—"To the dearest, prettiest, most wonderful pal in the world, my wife, Rick." So reads the inscription on a photograph of Lieut. James C. Rickner, of the Eighth U. S. Infantry, who died recently of a gunshot wound.

The photograph was found among the belongings of Mrs. Rickner, who is being held by civil authorities under $5,000 bail in connection with her husband's death.

Lieutenant Rickner was found fatally shot in the officers' quarters at Camp McClellan, where he was stationed. He died thirty minutes after the shot had been fired. Witnesses are expected to testify that they heard the dying lieutenant just after the shot was fired cry out "catch that woman!" Another witness is said to have heard Mrs. Rickner admit to an officer, "Get Rick! I've shot him. I'll be here if you want me."

The romance of Lieutenant Rickner and his "war bride" was one of the happiest in the camp, and began under particularly auspicious circumstances, with an elaborate military wedding and the good wishes of hundreds of friends.

The lieutenant's devotion to his wife was much spoken of, and is attested by the photo, lovingly inscribed, found on his wife's desk. The photograph was taken when Rickner was a lieutenant in the 118th Engineers.

FAR AWAY BORNEO OFFERS EASY AND CHEAP LIVING

London, June 28.—(A. P., by mail.)—British North Borneo appears to be as near paradise as it is possible for the tax burdened man of today to get. No income tax is collected in the district. There is only a nominal land tax, railway fares have not been increased since 1911, tobacco is cheaper than in any other place in the world, chickens sell for a shilling apiece and whiskey for eight shillings a bottle.

These facts are not taken from the circulars of a colonization agent, but are found in the official report of the British Government authorities in the district.

Incidentally the report says the natives have given up their old habit of head hunting.

The Danube is navigable in its entire course through Hungary.

In the Arctic And the Tropics tooth troubles are rarely known

That discovery led dental authorities to search for the reasons. They found it in factors of diet. And now those principles have been applied to create a new way of teeth cleaning.

Millions of people in some 50 countries employ this method now. Dentists everywhere advise it. This is to offer you a delightful test, so you may know what it means.

To fight acids

A new-type tooth paste has been created, called Pepsodent. It brings some new effects which research proved essential, largely because of the lack of certain stimulating principles in our diet.

Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

Combats the film

Above all, it combats the film on teeth, the cause of most tooth troubles. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste can end it.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent cleans the film and removes it without harmful scouring. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Would Call A Halt On Summer Furs

Washington, July 17.—(Associated Press)—Fashion's decree that women shall wear furs the year round has aroused great apprehension among naturalists, says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society, whose officials believe that some of the animals that are abundant today may soon be in the class of the auk and the dodo.

"It is only by educating the American people to the need for periods of protection for these animals," the bulletin says, "that we will be able to preserve one of the country's most valuable assets for the enjoyment and profit of future generations."

Recently the society sent an expedition to an island off the coast of Lower California to try to find specimens of the great seal colonies which used to inhabit the island, but not a single animal was seen.

ADDRESSES PRESENTED TO MR. AND MRS. SKELTON

Two illuminated addresses were presented Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Skelton at St. Paul's Rectory last evening, one from the rector, wardens and vestry on behalf of the congregation, and the second from the choir. Dr. J. M. Magee and Mrs. Clara Stewart made the presentations, which were beautifully illuminated by Percy N. Woodley. Mr. Skelton responded to both. During the evening music was enjoyed and refreshments served under the co-operation of Mrs. J. D. Hunter.

ARE COLD FOODS COOLING IN HOT WEATHER?

That depends upon their composition. A cold food, after it is digested, may be very heating to the blood and a very hot food may be cooling to it, depending upon whether food is acid forming or alkaline in nature. There is no difference in the blood temperature from either but acid-forming foods give one a hot feeling, while alkaline foods give one a cool feeling. The clear brain and erect, energized body that disregards the hottest day. That is because the blood is naturally alkaline and alkaline foods keep it so, while acid foods turn the blood acid, which burns up and destroys the vitalizing elements of the blood and mental and physical energy must run down. Acid foods are white flour, refined cereals, meats, fats and white sugar, sweets, marmalades, jams, jellies, mints, milk, beans, peas, green vegetables and fruits.

Roman Meal is 400 parts in each 1,000 parts "Excess Alkali." White flour and other cereals run from 50 to 200 parts "Excess Acid." Roman Meal, therefore, maintains normal alkalinity of the blood and keeps you cool and fit upon any kind of a day. Hot Roman Meal porridge or baked products are more cooling shortly after eaten than any other grain food eaten cold. But delicious, creamy, whipped cream, honey, preserved or fresh fruits. These are a hot day treat, unequalled by any other food for breakfast, luncheon or supper. Prevents indigestion. Relieves constipation. At grocers.

"Success" at Queen Square Thrilling And Dramatic Play

Another stage play which lends itself to unusually fine adaptation as a motion picture is "Success," which, under the same title, was seen for the first time here yesterday at the Queen Square Theatre. The film has a dramatic story which is especially well acted, and it has humor and pathos.

Brandon Tynan, one of the most interesting personalities in the American theatre, is seen to advantage in the role he originated on the stage. As the celebrated actor, Barry Carleton, Mr.

Tynan presents an intensely human characterization. He is equally convincing as a young man and later as an aged and broken figure.

Excellent support is given by "favorites." Mary Astor is charming as the daughter of the actor, and displays strong emotional ability. Dore Davidson and Naomi Childers are also prominently cast. Others are Lionel Adams, Stanley Ridges, Robert Lee Keating and Billy Quirk.

This excellent picture will be shown for the last time today.

The Canada Gazette contains announcement of the appointment of Hugh A. Morrison, sub-lieutenant, to be acting lieutenant and company commander of the St. John half company of the Royal Canadian Volunteer Reserve with seniority of April 14, 1923. There are still some vacancies in the St. John half company, and applicants are being medically examined and measured for uniforms on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week.
