

WORTHY DISPLAYS IN VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS

Fall Fair Exhibits Are Well Up to Other Years
Showing—Some of the Outstanding Features of the Exhibition.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

In spite of the rather cool and breezy weather yesterday the Provincial Exhibition at Victoria is still a favorite with the general public. Crowds visiting the fair yesterday and to-day the attendance will be very much larger, as it always is on the third day. The exhibits are so widely distributed that it is difficult to size up the crowd, but during the afternoon the concert hall at the Women's building was well patronized, the tea rooms were full, the races crowded, the general hall comfortably full and everyone happy. If there was any scarcity it was at the side-shows and especially at the merry-go-round. The tent which covers this, or which should have covered it, was blown away in the gale at the end of last week and rent in tatters, and it is rather cold outside for the youngsters.

The concert at the Women's building yesterday afternoon was prepared by Mrs. Lewis Hall, and was of the highest artistic merit. Every selection was well received and the attendance was good. It was a happy thought that having daily afternoon concerts in the building. The programme included numbers by the following: Mr. A. T. Goward, Mrs. Gideon Hicks, Mr. Benedict Bandy (violin), Mr. J. G. Brown, Mrs. D. C. Reid, Mr. Herbert Foote (cello), Mrs. R. Morrison, Mrs. H. C. Briggs, Mr. Herbert Kent, Miss E. Schell.

In the evening the programme by Mr. Morgan was of high merit. He was assisted by Miss E. Palmer, Miss E. Cocker, Mr. T. O. Dunford, Mr. T. H. Griffiths, Mr. M. Gault, Mr. Wilfred A. Rutler (violinist), Mr. H. Seale (tutist), Miss Helen French Cochrane (accompanist).

Flowers and Fruit.
It seems commonplace to speak of the fruit and flowers of British Columbia and especially of those grown in the neighborhood of Victoria, but the half has never been told. It is necessary to see the exhibits at the Fall Fair in order to properly appreciate what is going on in the orchards and gardens in this district. The exhibits are excellent. They are not quite complete in some lines as yet, but there is little difference, and no one should miss taking an hour or two in the main building if only from an educational point of view.

The feature of the fruit was the carrying off of the first prize in the commercial class by Errington and Cantwell of Sidney, beating R. M. Palmer and Son, who have for a number of years been looked upon as unimpeachable. The first prize winners had fruit that could take prizes in any show in the world. They were large and of very first quality. The packing and displaying too, was very impressive. Mr. Palmer, speaking on the subject, said: "Yes, they have us beaten both in size and quality. We do not pick out our fruit for exhibition, but take just the ordinary trade fruit. It takes much time to select carefully. The younger trees, too, have the advantage. That is really where they beat us. The young orchards, if they have the advantage, Sidney should indeed be proud of this exhibit. They have reason to be, for it shows that it is just as good fruit land in the peninsula as can be found anywhere."

Of the other fruit exhibits it is difficult to speak without going into a lot of uninteresting detail. All were so good and the prize list gives so much information that it is impossible to specialize. It would not be right, however, to pass without notice the exhibit of George Heatherbell of Colwood. He showed and took first prize with a plate of apples from the winter banana variety taken from a tree that was grafted last year, the apples growing on the tender shoots. They were large and of fine quality.

Vegetable Display.
In vegetables the display of all kinds of immense stuff is most confusing. Ripe tomatoes grown out of doors alongside of immense pumpkins and mammoth squashes, with large cabbages and heads not far away; this is the sight that meets the eye. Everything from an onion to a giant mangold is on display. The vegetables grow from Sutton's seeds, from Rennie's and from Jay's, and all say they are best. One exhibit which deserves attention is that of J. A. Grant whose products has attracted attention in Victoria before.

The Sooke Institute is again in evidence this year. Praise is often a good thing, but it was a slighting remark that brought the Sooke people to the front. The Sooke people got on their mettle last year and brought of their best to Victoria, and they are here again this year with even better. It seems rather a pity that some of the other outlying districts do not combine in this way. If the exhibits mean anything Sooke must be one of the most fertile districts in the province.

Flowers of course are good. That goes without saying in Victoria. In sweet peas, dahlias and many others of the garden beauties this city licks the world. The exhibit, although nothing like what it might be if everyone brought out their flowers, is undoubtedly one of great excellence. There are not many trade exhibits but what is shown is very fine.

As usual Flewlin's Gardens are to the fore with a large number of winnings. They have 23 entries and they have carried off 21 first and two seconds. The dahlias and in fact every variety of flower, far above the average. This firm has again won the Virtue cup for making it their own. Wilkerson Brown did not get as many prizes but they did not enter as many classes. They also have some very fine flowers. The display of the Lansdowne Floral Gardens also was beyond reproach, although this firm did not enter for commodities.

In the amateur classes the show is just as good, better in some respects. Many of the amateur growers in this city can beat the professionals where they specialize. It is impossible here again to mention particulars. The flowers are so good and the competition in some classes so keen that it would be unfair for anyone but an expert to dare to speak of their respective merits.

There is, however, a complaint to make. The flowers are many of them set too high. The tables might be a foot lower and yet be high enough for the average person to be able to see the flowers plainly.

MAY AGAIN LOWER RATES

FIRE INSURANCE IN PROCESS OF ADJUSTMENT

Interest is Keen as to the Result of the Salt Water Test.

That the direct saving to the city of Victoria as a result of the return to the old rates of fire insurance which obtained two years ago will amount to at least $25,000 per annum, and that a further reduction may be looked for on the completion of the test of the high pressure salt water system is the opinion held in local fire insurance circles, though officially there is no pronouncement in respect to the latter phase of the situation.

The Times this morning interviewed a prominent local agent and ascertained much of interest in respect to the reduction of 30 per cent. which was recently announced, and the expectations for the future. In the first place a misconception prevailed in regard to the method followed in securing the reduction. Some months ago, when changes were made in respect to the control of the fire department, a promise was made the city council, and through that body to the city of Victoria, that as soon as the department was placed in a state of thorough efficiency and the pressure improved owing to the utilization of the new reservoirs then under construction, a recommendation would be made by the local board of underwriters that the surtax of 30 per cent be removed.

These improvements having now been brought about, representations were at once made to the head offices of the companies, and consent obtained to make the reduction. The local board in this was actuated by a desire to carry out at the earliest possible date the promise made to the city council. This explanation on this point is rendered necessary in view of the opinion that the local board should have awaited the result of the test of the salt water system when it would be possible, perhaps, to make greater reductions.

On this point the Times' informant said the expectation was generally held amongst local agents that a further reduction would be made—inside the fire limits at least. It was likely that in some special cases it would be found impossible to make this further reduction apply. For instance, where a building was so situated as to constitute an extremely hazardous risk, the rate would be high. This will be better understood when it is explained that in all cases the rate given for each building is based on an expert examination of the property as a risk.

Had the local board not asked for prompt action from headquarters in the matter it is not improbable that the lower rate would not have gone into force for a year or more. Explanation of this it was mentioned that ordinarily headquarters move slowly in such matters, but in this instance the local board used as a lever for a prompt action the promise made a few months ago that the reduction would come in force at the earliest possible moment after the department had been improved. As a matter of fact the date fell coincidentally with that on which the increase was made two years ago.

The city has, during the past few weeks, been re-surveyed and this data, together with the result of the salt water test, will shortly be available to the local board to send on, basing a recommendation for a further reduction upon the same.

Another point was alluded to which is of considerable importance. An impression prevails that in all policies which had been issued at the old rates previous to the announcement of the reduction, will entitle the holders to a refund. This will not be the case in regard to all companies. Many of the latter allowed policies to stand at the old rate after the new rate had been imposed, and such companies feel that now that "the boot is on the other foot" it will be equitable to allow such policies in question to run without a refund.

In connection with this matter of fire insurance rates it is of interest to note that a visitor to the city is D. W. MacLennan, general manager of the British Crown Assurance Corporation, Ltd., of London, England. Mr. MacLennan has been at Vancouver establishing branches of agencies and has given C. E. Berg and James Fleming charge of all provincial business. These gentlemen will be in Victoria shortly and establish agencies here. The British Crown is not a "board" company and for that reason agents handling ordinary company business, as it is understood in Canadian cities, do not represent that particular company, but Mr. MacLennan says his people are "out for business" and will be found represented throughout the province.

OPERATION OF BOUNDARY MINE

Plans for Work at B. C. and New Dominion Properties Being Perfected.

Phoenix, Sept. 21.—It is now learned that the mission of J. Parke Channing, chief of the engineering staff of the General Development company, in the Boundary two weeks ago, was for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the joint operation of the properties of the British Columbia and New Dominion companies. A contract will be entered into between the two corporations whereby the British Columbia will smelt the Dominion ores. The smelter owned by the latter company at Boundary Falls is not considered sufficiently up to date to treat economically the Dominion product so that this will be shipped to the British Columbia smelter. On this account the B. C. Copper company is planning the enlargement of its smelting capacity.

Just when the work of enlarging the smelter will begin cannot definitely be stated, if it is commenced at once it is not probable that any shipments will be made from the Dominion properties until the work is completed, while if the orders for enlargements cannot be filled for a time, it is possible that one shipment will commence from one or other of the Dominion mines next month, probably the Rawhide.

John Seward, who is in charge of the Dominion mines, spent the greater part of last week with Superintendent Sampson taking measurements and working out the problem of shipping economy from the local Dominion mines.

After an enforced shut-down lasting some weeks by reason of the coal miners' strike in the Crow's Nest, the British Columbia Copper company, resumed operations on August 8th, and from that date to the end of the month, with two of the furnaces in operation, the company turned out 600,000 pounds of copper. The company is at present holding, in anticipation of better prices, 1,500,000 pounds of copper.

ENJOYABLE FARCE PLAYED BY AMATEURS

"What Became of Parker" Presented by Cedar Hill Club.

Gordon Head, Sept. 21.—The four-act farce, "What Became of Parker," presented on Friday last by the Cedar Hill Amateur Dramatic Club, was a big success in every way. The Temperance hall was crowded. All those taking part acted very creditably, but Miss Irene Carson and Watson Clark deserve special mention. Tom McMartin took the part of the German waiter exceedingly well and kept the audience amused with his broken English. Following is a caste of characters: Fred Parker, merchant, R. Clark; Jeremiah Growler, invalid, W. Clark; James Jones, clerk, A. W. McMoran; Dr. Rogers, C. E. King; Sergeant Ripley, S. Miller; Otto (German waiter), T. McMartin; Cora, maid, Miss G. Holmes; Miss Green, maiden aunt, Miss M. Holmes; Heba Worry, Growler's niece, Miss S. Offord; Vivian Parker, Fred's wife, Miss J. Corsan.

The Court Douglas branch of the Forrester intend to hold a dance in the near future.

Joseph Bull received the tender for the supply of wood for the schools in the municipality.

Mrs. C. Foster of Kansas City, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. H. Green. Dan O'Bryn, of Lander, Ont., is on a visit to see John Carson.

Miss Anna Moray spent the week with her cousin, Miss Ethel Bradshaw. Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Colliers have returned from a visit to the A. Y. P. exposition.

Geoffrey Vantreigert spent some days last week at the A. Y. P. exposition. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McRae and Miss M. McRae have left for Sacramento and Southern California. They will spend the winter there on account of Mrs. McRae's health.

NEARLY CAUGHT BIG SEA LION

Hooked When Trolling But Not Landed Owing to Breaking of Line.

"Did you ever with a sprat hook a whale?" asks the rhyme of the old song, intended, of course, to be irony. Although there was no hooking of whales recorded in these waters on an ordinary line, a big sea lion took a hook in the Straits a couple of days ago. One of the dozens who every day visit the Straits to troll for salmon hired a boat at Lees' wharf-house and rowed quietly along hoping for a bite.

Suddenly he felt a tug which his past experience told him must be a twenty-pounder at the least. Looking back he saw a sea lion rise above the surface a short distance away and in his mouth was the spoon intended for the salmon. The big fellow was trying to shake it off, but apparently failed to do so, for a big tug on the line followed which severed it, and no more was seen of the creature.

AUTO WRECKED.

New York, Sept. 22.—One man was killed, another probably fatally injured, and twelve other persons, several of whom are young women, received painful injuries yesterday, when an automobile crashed into a farm wagon containing a straw ride party from the Windsor Terrace Methodist church. John M. Andrews, the chauffeur, died in a hospital a few days after the accident.

Miss Anna Moray spent the week with her cousin, Miss Ethel Bradshaw. Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Colliers have returned from a visit to the A. Y. P. exposition.

Geoffrey Vantreigert spent some days last week at the A. Y. P. exposition. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McRae and Miss M. McRae have left for Sacramento and Southern California. They will spend the winter there on account of Mrs. McRae's health.
