WELCOME TO HOME

AND HARMONY. We welcome the Premier of British Columbia back to his home again; we are pleased to hear that he and his family have enjoyed their trip; that a method of settling the disagreement with his partners in the railway and coal mines has been devised and that harmony generally reigns within the Dunsmuir environment. We trust also that the Premier will find all his colleagues in the government in an agreeable and harmonious frame of mind, and that no question of personal ambition may arise like a cloud on the political horizon to create forebodings of an impending storm. At the same time we consider it our duty to point out to Mr. Dunsmuir that his Minister of Mines has declared himself in favor of party lines in provincial politics, and, like another celebrated politician. Rogue Riderhood to wit, has taken his solemn Alfred David that he will "use his utmost endeavors" to bring about that, to his mind, very desirable consummation. It is not very clear to us how the Colonel proposes to reconcile his duty to his colleagues in the present composite government with his announcement that he will labor without ceasing until he has cleared the ground for a Conservative administration. But of course we are not conversant with the workings of the Colonel's mind-and it is but just to it to admit that it has given examples of wonderful ability to guide the corporeal body it directs around unexpected corners. No doubt the Colonel will be able to explain everything satisfactorily to worn-out timber, but he has advanced no his chief. We expect work on the extension of the Great Northern railway the prosperity of the country has been through British Columbia to commence | so marked should be rejected by the peoimmediately. General Manager Hubbard, of the Southern Pacific Company, who was an unreasoning obstructionist, has been removed from the pathway of progress and no obstacle remains to delay the fulfilment of the pledge of the Colonel. If the work still cannot go on, no doubt he will resign his seat at once. He was never known to break his word; but he has been known to resign a seat to avoid exposure on account of broken

SEVERAL "PICTURESQUE FIGURES."

"The present government is nothing ection of sectional mediocrities cemented by the appeal made to the imagination of the people of Quebec by the icturesque personality of Sir Wilfrid

It is scarcely necessary to inform our readers that the above silly, spiteful sentence is taken from the columns of the Colonist. Like all our Tory contemporaries and all the politicians of the Tory stripe, the Colonist is bewildered by the success which has attended the administration of the affairs of Canada under the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it is maddened by the prosperity which has descended upon the Dominion under a government of higher average ability than any other that has been called upon to counsel a Governor-General since Confederation. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is something more than a "picturesque personality." He is a man who stands out conspicuous in any comthe movement towards the consolidation of the British Empire. His voice was notent in the colonial conference. He has been specially honored by his King and His Majesty's ministers. The newspapers of Great Britain have extolled his services, not only to the Colonial portion of the Empire, but to the Mother Country. His tour through France and his conferences with French statesmen were referred to as having had a potent influence in increasing the cordiality of the relationship between the two great nations, notwithstanding the sneers of a section of the French press which bears a close relationship to Tory journals of Canada that speak in spite, envy editors cavilled at the Imperial spirit of the Liberal leader. They hinted that he might if he would restore to France her ancient possession. Their counterparts in Canada snarl because Sir Wilfrid, they imagine, is the principal obstacle to their regaining power. They claim it is through the appeal to the imagination of French Canada this picturesque personality makes that the Liberal party is in power to-day. The "picturesque personality" must be attractive to more than French-Canadians, inasmuch as the government is supported by a majority from every province in the Do minion save Ontario, and if it had not been for the appeals to race prejudice that were made there, and were ordered by the Conservative organizer, Mr. Dalby, of the Montreal Star, to be made by every Tory newspaper in the country, Ontario would undoubtedly have been in line with all the other provinces. It is but just to many Conservative editors to say they refused to descend to such ignoble tactics. In the case of the Colonist, however, its conscience has departed and there is now no influence to restrain it within the lines of decency

And what about the Ministers this merely "picturesque personality" has gathered about him? How does Sir William Mulock as Postmaster-General compare as an administrator with Sir the department of finance? Is not Mr. Fisher, a practical farmer, just a trifle ment of agriculture than Sir John Carling, a brewer, or Dr. Montague, a physician? Is the present Minister of Railways and Canals, Mr. Blair, not more Hon. John Haggert, the hero of the raging Tay canal, which cost a very Public Works than did Sir Hector Langevin, the treasurer of the boodle fund. And still we have Sir Richard Cart-Mr. Sifton and others left to compare in ability and probity with Ministries which were collected not so much on account of their ability to serve their country as from motives of expediency. That was the foundation principle in the selection of Tory governments. And it served for a considerable time to avert the smash that was threatened through jealousies, strife, corruption and incompetence. But when the edifice which was supported so long through the potency of the influence of Sir John Macdonald did come down, it came with a great crash. The ruin was complete. No leader has yet arisen capable of rearing another such structure. Mr. Borden has thrown aside a great deal of rotten reason why a government under which

THE MOTHERS' MEETING.

New President Was Elected at Last Session-An Interesting Paper.

The Mothers' Club met in the first division room, Spring Ridge school, on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Sherwood was elected president, Mrs. Jones, the former president, having resigned. The question of providing a room for boys was again considered. It was finally decided that, before taking further steps, exact information should be obtained re garding the funds necessary for success fully carrying on the work.

Mrs. Sherwood then gave a very excel ent paper on the subject for the day, "How to Establish a Habit of Truthfulness in the Child." She dwelt strongly on the point that a child learns chiefly rom example, and he must, therefore, find in his mother a perfect example of truthfulness.
