Inter-state commerce commission in report to senate charges illegal acquisition of western coal plans by various railroads.

MOENING LETTER.

NEW YORK, April 23—As a matter of fact it is believed that commission houses have been sellers of stocks on balance in the past day or two which is taken to reflect the belief on the part of the public rhat the advance has been too rapid to be healthy. This reduction of the outside speculative long account, however, has added materiality to the technical strength of the market. It is unlikely nevertheless that the process of marking up prices will commine of the best friends of the market took profits yesterday with the puppose of buying back on a fair reaction.

Modern but by no means a new idea. The same service as is available in the largest cities at a lower cost.

We are deeply gratified with the business which has thus far come to us. We realize that the present week will see it doubled. Therefore, we have arranged to send for the furs of those who do not care to bring them in, always preferring, however, to have them brought in, so that no mistakes may arise for discovery six months hence. And then we like to have you see the room in use, note the dustless construction, feel the cold atmosphere, see how the work is handled, get your receipts at first hand with insurance all arranged, and go home to tell your friends of the fur storage that is not a combination of a dry kiln and a fumigating plant.

PULPIT ATTACK ON SERVIA'S KING

LANDING MINISTER

Ruler Forced to Listen to Captain of German Liner Was Too Complaisant

But Latter Give Monarch Some

LONDON, April 28.—From time to time there comes news from Belgrade for such a nature as to force speculation as to how long King Peter will remain seated on his blood-stailed throne. Chaing under court predominance of the regicides, their opponents seem daily to grow bolder in their expression of hatred and determination to rid the country of the men who are the cause of its practical boycott among the nations of Europe. Back time that the miserable monarch attempts some step to satisfy the antiregicides it is evident that he is given a grim reminder that the men who murdered King Alexander would not shrink from the murder of King Peter. The Servian King's latest experience of his humiliating position was on April 18, the Servian Palm Sunday, when he sat in the cathedral at Belgrade, and was forced to hear himself publicly condemned before a crowded congregation by a military chapitain. In addition to the King all the notabilities of the city were present in the church when the preacher's opening words aroused at once admiration and consternation.

Taking advantage of the fact that the day was the anniversary of an event which happened a century ago, the preacher was able to speak directly to the King of the circumstances of his accession in words which nominally applied to events of a hundred years ago: "My conscience," he said
