

New Brunswick's Third Apple Show Auspiciously Opened Last Night

Display of Fruit on View in St. Andrew's Rink Larger and Finer than on Previous Occasions--Plain Evidence of Progress.

Mayor Hayes and Other Speakers at Opening Ceremonies Congratulate Hon. J. A. Murray on Great Development of Provincial Agricultural Department in all Its Branches —Mr. Murray Outlines Even Greater Triumphs to Come in Future.

There's a tang to the taste of an apple.
A zest like the keen autumn breeze, With a savor that's won from the smile of the sun.
When it ripened the fruit on the trees.

Are you feeling sort of blue, Don't know hardly what to do.
Everything gone all awry?
Or, at least, so to your eye?
Eat an apple.

Mayor Hayes

Who paid tribute to great success which has attended Hon. Mr. Murray's administration of agricultural department.

The third New Brunswick apple show was opened last night in the St.
Andrews rink by Hon. J. A. Murray, minister of agriculture, and every lover of the beautiful should make it a point to visit this show at least once while it is going on. The rink last night was a perfect picture, and a distinct revelation of the possibilities of this province as an apple growing centre. The apples are arranged in boxes around the sides and at one end of the rink, and in the centre are a number of tables with apples on plates.

When one enters the door the first thing to strike the eye is a large board at the end of the rink with the Union Jack in the centre and around it a number of maple leaves in all their various shades and the motto "Canada will never let the old flag fall" all made of apples. The colors of the flag are obtained by wrapping colored paper around the apples, but the maple leaves are made from the different colored fruit.

The Women's Institute have an exhibit of preserved fruit, the experimental farm an exhibit of apples and potatoes, and there is also an exhibit of honey.

At eight o'clock H. H. Smith, president of the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association, took the chair.
On the platform with him were Hon.
J. A. Murray, minister of agriculture, Mayor Hayes, George A. Perley, M. L. A. for Sunbury, H. W. Woods, M. L. A. for Queens, Senator Thorne, H. P.
Timmerman, industrial commissioner, representing the fruit commission, Otis wa, J. A. Likely, president of the Board of Trade, J. B. Daggett, secretary of agriculture, S. L. Peters, fruit inspector for New Brunswick, Dr.
Townsend, River Glade, R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the Board of Trade.

After the band of the 180th Battalion had rendered very acceptably two selections, the chairman announced that the time had come for the opening of the third New Brunswick apple show. The quantity of fruit on exhibition bore evidence to the fruit growing possibilities of the province.

He was sorry to have to announce that D. J. Johnson, Dominion fruit inspector, would be able to be present on account of illness, but he would be represented by C. W. Baxter. He then called on Mayor Hayes, who complimented the association on the splendid exhibit and the evidence of development which the apple show made manifest. He also congratulated the minister of agriculture on the advancement which had taken place in all the agricultural life of the province in the last few years as well as in the fruit growing.

The band then rendered another selection, after which the chairman called on Hon. Mr. Murray to address the gathering and declare the show open.

Hon. J. A. Murray.

On rising to speak Mr. Murray was greeted with applause by the large audience present. He said:

One could hardly realize that it was five years since the last apple show had been held. In that five years much had taken place, there had been a marked development in the fruit growing industry of the province, but there was another change which the music of the band and the uniform they wore brought to his mind. Looking around he saw many familiar faces, but he also missed a number of the younger men, men who had just begun to take the place in the agricultural life of the province which was theirs, who were today fighting the battles of the Empire in France and Flanders and willing, if necessary, to make the supreme sacrifice, and he desired to pay a tribute to the men in khaki before proceeding further in his remarks.

Credit To A. G. Turney.

Despite the world war which was raging and taking some of our best young men there had been a wonderful development in the agricultural life of the province and especially in

Under whose able direction Department of Agriculture has shown wonderful development.

the fruit growing branch. One man to whom much of the credit of the showing which the province was enabled to make today in this line was A. G. Turney, who had come to the department in 1910. At that time there was no definite government programme as far as apple growing was concerned and the showing of fruit they saw before them bore evidence to the good work Mr. Turney had done.

Previous to that time practically all that had been done to encourage apple growing was to have a few demonstration orchards, but since that time the government had planted a very large number of trees which will be bearing in a few years from now, as a demonstration of what the province is capable of in this line. It has also been the aim of the government to establish the quality of New Brunswick grown fruit, and it had been established beyond a doubt that this province could and would raise fruit that could compete anywhere in the world. He wished that every man, woman and child in the province could see the splendid exhibition which was before him that they might get a glimpse of what the province was really capable.
It was hard to get the people to believe that the province could grow such fruit as was presented to their gaze.

Higher Than Ever Before.

The work of the agricultural department and the agriculturist in the home was not always apparent to the gaze, but the province of New Brunswick stood higher today than ever before in this branch. He said that his department had had the hearty co-operation of the department at Ottawa in the advancement of the fruit growing their work in the past and they were now planning for agricultural developments which would make the province better known than ever.

There was another matter of which he wanted to speak in connection with his department. For about a year and a half he had been trying to get an outstanding man to take charge of the five stock and dairy branches of the department, and at last had succeeded in obtaining the services of such a man in the person of Prof. J. W.
Mitchell of Manitoba, who would be here on November 15th to take up his duties. The department intended to go on with their work in the fruit culture and live stock and dairy branches until they attained the place which they deserved. It was only recently that the province had awakened up to the fact that the very best men obtainable were needed for work of this nature and in Prof. Mitchell the province had gotten such a man.

Evidences of Development.

He was glad that they had with them at the show H. P. Timmerman, industrial commissioner of the C.P.R., who could take back to the west news of the advancement which this province had made in the fruit growing line and he was sure Mr. Timmerman was delighted to see the evidences of development in the province. He felt that one of our troubles was that we were not boosters enough, we should make the fact that we were not only a lumber country but an agricultural and fruit growing country as well known everywhere and not hide our light under a bushel.

After the band had rendered another selection the chairman called on C.W.
Baxter, representing the Dominion Fruit Inspector, D. J. Johnson.

C. W. Baxter.

Mr. Baxter said it was unfortunate

THANKS DUE TO AMERICAN AMBASSADOR

Minister of War Trade Declares Gerard Secured Better Conditions for British Prisoners.

London, Oct. 31.—Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, announcing in the House of Commons today the transfer of the responsibility of matters relating to British prisoners in enemy countries from himself to Lord Newton, under-secretary for foreign affairs, took occasion to express "in the strongest language at my command the deep debt of gratitude which, in my judgment, this country owes to Ambassador Gerard in securing better conditions for British prisoners."

Lord Robert added:
"Whatever may have been true at the beginning of the war, I believe it is no longer true that British prisoners are treated worse than those of other nationalities, and this relative decency is due, almost entirely, to the exertions of the American ambassador. At the same time I would not like to conceal from the house that conditions in some of the camps in Germany and other countries are still very far from satisfactory." that New Brunswick had not gone in sooner for raising apples as they had the climate not only to grow apples but other fruits as well. At the present time they were not producing enough to supply the home market, but if fruit growing was undertaken in earnest here it would not be long before they would not only be able to supply the home market but to export.

One thing that was absolutely necessary to grow fruit successfully was spraying, and if the farmers of this province would take the proper care of their orchards there was no reason why fruit growing could not be a profitable branch of their work. Another thing which he laid stress on was the packing and grading of the fruit and the educational work which was being carried on through the department of agriculture. Any farmer who would write to Mr. Turney could obtain any and all information required and he was sure Mr. Turney would only be too glad to furnish them with it.

Senator Thorne.

The chairman then called on Senator Thorne who said he had always taken a keen interest in agricultural pursuits having been for a great many years interested in the Exhibition Association of St. John and he well remembered the time when a very small table sufficed for the apple show.

The first thing which struck him on entering the rink was the wonderful development both in the quantity of fruit shown and the way in which it was displayed, and it was a revelation to him that the fruit growers had succeeded in improving conditions so materially.

C. P. R.'s Good Work.

This had been brought about by the care of the fruit growers assisted by the government, and another factor had been the industrial department of the C. P. R., who had done good work in this connection. The raising of fruit was a science and if the farmers would go about the work in a scientific manner they were bound to succeed. Another factor in the success of any business was the marketing of the product and he advocated the formation of co-operative associations, such as they had in Nova Scotia, to handle that end of the business.

Hon. Mr. Murray called attention to the exhibit of the Women's Institute at the left hand side of the entrance and announced that after the show all the boxes of apples belonging to the government would be sent to the hospitals in London to be distributed among Canadian soldiers, that they might get a taste of home.
