No Tariff Changes Now

ONLY VIEW TO TAKE OF OFFICIAL REPORT OF UNIONIST CAUCUS AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, March 20.—The official "handout" concerning the ministerial caucus this morning on the tariff ad- mits of only one construction "there is to be no tariff revision" this year. Such revision will come only at the in- definite time when the period of re- construction is over. How long that will be no one arises to say for the problems are great and pressing and of far-reaching importance. When it does occur and probably at the time of the budget there will be a hint the ministers or a committee of them, will go about the country as their pre- decessors did listen to the jarring argu- ments of conflicting interests and then, coming home will sit down and see what is to be done about it. The Western agitation is very strong and it has been impressed vigorously upon the members from that section of the country but, apparently the Govern- ment does not propose to be stampede- ed. It contends that the tariff is a very big question, which requires to be dealt with scientifically and that a condition precedent to such action is very full and exhaustive inquiry. No Commission.

There will be no tariff commission. Now and then such a body is con- tended for in Parliament with the sug- gestion that it be vested with functions something like a judicial commission. In any event Parliament must legis- late and as the Government must ac- cept responsibility for the measure it submits to Parliament it proposed to accept also the full onus of the inquisi- tional process that comes as a primary essential.
In the meantime it is intimated that something will be done to the tariff and much, it is agreed will depend upon what that "something" is. The Western members have asked before and they asked to-day in caucus that when action is taken it be along "sub- stantial" lines. The measure to which this will be conceded can only be spec- ulated upon. As the budget speech will be delivered and the announce- ments made only in April or May there is much time for the divergent seed- sown in caucus to take root. The West- ern members indicated as above their force in their argument that this period of flux and reconstruction ad- justment unstabilizing as it is by it- self, should not be intensified by the disturbances that often attend exten- sive tariff changes.

After the caucus the Saskatchewan Unionists had a little caucus of their own. Their apparent attitude is not for the present, to throw any fat into the smoldering fire, but to wait with forbearance till the budget is deliv- ered. They have the hope if not the belief that it will be of sufficient gen- erosity to let them out so to speak. They say that if a substantial start is made for this year with reasonable as- surance of more after a scientific in- vestigation they will be satisfied.

British Miners Reports

THREE REPORTS OF COM- MISSIONERS APPOINTED IN HOPE OF AVERTING STRIKE VARY

London, March 20.—The inter- report of the coal commission of which justice Sir John Shankley is chairman, issued to-night, recommends seven hours of work underground instead of eight from July 6 and six hours from July 13, 1921, subject to the economic position of the industry.
The report recommends an increase in wages of two shillings per shift for colliery workers now under sliding scales and an advance of one shilling for workers under 16 years.

In the interest of the country the colliery workers, it is further recom- mended shall have an effective voice in the direction of the mines.
The present system of ownership and system of working is condemned and a substitute must be found either in nationalization or unification by national purchase or joint control.
The Shankley report points out that the recommendations means the dis- tribution of 30,000,000 pounds addi- tional in wages and that it should be considered whether a penny per ton should be collected at once on coal brought to the surface to improve the housing in the colliery districts. This would be equal to 1,000,000 pounds yearly. The Shankley report is also signed by Arthur Balfour, who was master colliery of Sheffield in 1911-12 and has been connected with various advisory committees, Sir Arthur Duham director-general of air craft production, and Sir Thomas Roiden, member of the shipping con- trol board.

Another report by the mine owner on the commission recommends an increase of 18 pence a day in wages and a reduction of working hours to seven.

A third report by the mine's rep- resentatives signed by Robert Smillie, the mine's leader, Frank Hodges Sir Leo Chiozza Money, Sidney Webb and others recommends acceptance in full of the mine's demands including na- tionalization.

Bonar Law said to-night that the Shankley proposals would be put into operation by the Government. It involved continuance of coal control for two years.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

OTTAWA, March 20.—In the Commons to-day, Earnest LaPointe, Kamouraska, asked what the Gov- ernment proposed to do about day- light saving. Mr. LaPointe drew the attention of the acting prime minister to the fact that the United States would shortly adopt it again.

Sir Thomas White replied that this matter had been and was still under consideration by the Govern- ment.

Ruth Law, the celebrated American aviatrice, is now in Japan teaching the subjects of the Mikado the art of flying. The bride veil of a young Japanese woman is put away and reserved till her death when it is used as her shroud.

Concrete Roads SAVE TIME MONEY LABOR

IN the Toronto-Hamilton Highway, we have an excellent example of the "time-saving" which a Concrete Road effects. A farmer, situated on this highway twenty miles from market, can load his motor truck in the morning, be back home for lunch, and make another trip to market in the afternoon. Instead of three un- comfortable team trips per week, which was the most possible on the unimproved highway, he now makes twelve trips, in comfort, in that time. All this means time-saving at a most important season. Then, too, the building of this same Concrete Highway has resulted in the opening of many "wayside markets" to which motorists come for their fruit and provisions—in which cases the farmer saves the items of labor, haul- ing cost and time.

Anyone interested in the subject of Highway Construction, will profit by writing us for literature which explains the advantages of Permanent Highways of Concrete.
