to her mother to help along, and I thought possibly you would also like to have some part in recognizing Barbara Ann's successes. Mary (her mother) thinks all the expenses can be taken care of with a total of $5,000, but personally I would doubt it. This young girl has certainly "scorned delights and lived laborious days." She really has about everything needed for success in life, and if she reaches the World Championship and chooses to turn professional I do not doubt she can make an extraordinarily large income. Miss Millar, of course, knows her just as well as I do.

Personally I am not by nature enthusiastic about athletics, and neither are you, but I thoroughly agree with Mrs. Scott on the wisdom of having Barbara Ann try the World's Championship in February. She has the goods, and while all these things are something of a gamble, she will have at least the best chance to win. Certainly she will not fail through any fault of her own. She will, of course, be travelling via England.

Very truly yours,

AM/E.
