

As to Allegation that accused made notes, Val. of pro Have not got piece of paper. Odd. for pul.
4ft 7 20 yrs experience. Does it sound right or reasonable that this upset young man would methodically sit down to make notes.

Admission of Bordele error in matter
"some shirts" not "couple of shirts" time elapsed between time of conversation and notes.

Fact of ant evidence of preconceived notions of police.
likelihood of such a person when making notes long after making this general recollection comide with their preconceived conclusion of guilt.

as to treatment. Accused thoroughly lost his head. Upset. Contrast with that taken by S.I.S. who were fair.

ask you today you are not going to convict this man on evidence of police alone. as pro. properly pointed out. No opening in Simblets' room (c) a fondly recognized most innumerable feature piece - acc. going to Simblets and seeing goods there. Agree it calls for explanation and that it is the surrounding circumstances of this case which can and should decide it. Going to Simblets room not a stage in the transaction. Time not relevant - after another. Pro not here and suspicious if it had happened in middle of day - accused said pink to Lt. Joyce. Can it imagine that if accused knew he was dealing in stolen property would he have dealt with it (the pants) as he did - openly in presence of another and some of his own officers