Only Seven of the Crew of the

Wrecked Her as With Winds and Wayne

New York, Jan. 11.—Seven survivors of the ill-fated Norwegian ship Marpesia, which was wrecked at sea on Christmas Day arrived here yesterday on the steamer Trinidad. They had been rescued by the Danish steamer Gallia, which was at hand when the Marpesia was blown into a shapeless mass and the seven men who survived the shock were taken from the sea. They were landed at Bermuda by the Gallia, which was bound from Hamburg for Savannah. The Marpesia salled from New York for Cette, France, on Dec. 9, with a cargo of naphtha and had been out only a day or two when her troubles began. One gale succeeded another, but all were weathered and knocked about, her ventilators carried away at the decks, her hold began to fill and soon the cases of naphtha began to give way under the strain, and in a little while the freed naphtha was floating cases of naphtha began to give way under the strain, and in a little while the freed naphtha was floating around on top of the water in the hold. Gas from the fluid accumulated steadily and by Christmas Day the Marpesia was a loaded bomb, needing only the slightest spark to blow the whole structure to atoms. How the spark reached the highly charged held never will be known, but suddenly there came a terrible report, the forward deck shot up into the air with a crash and a roar and in a moment the entire ship was wrapped in flames. Those of the eighteen men on board who had not been caught in the first hurst threw themselves over the side of the flaming ship into the sea. They were only seven. The Gallia came down to their aid.

Crew Barely Escaped.

The schooner Robert Mason, coal laden, was sunk at St. Pierre in the same gale. The schooner Albion was driven from her moorings at St. Joseph's and probably will be a total loss. The crews of the last two vessels are safe.

Irish Leaders See Danger to Cattle Trad

London, Jan. 11.—(C. A. P.)—The proposed admission of Canadian store cattle into Great Britain is still the foremost topic for Irish cattle associations and societies At committee meeting of the South of Ireland Irish Cattle Trade Associa-tion, letters from J.
