PAGE FOUR

THE Journal of Commerce

Published Daily by The Journal of Commerce Publishing Company, Limited, 35-45 Alexander Street, Montreal. ones:-Business: Main 2662. Reportorial Main 4702.

HON. W. S. FIELDING, President and Editor-in-Chief. J. C. ROSS, M.A., Managing Editor.

Journal of Commerce Offices: Toronto-T. W. Harpell, 4446 Lombard Street. Telephone Main 7099.

New York Correspondent-C. M. Withington. 44 Broad Street. Telephone 333 Broad. London, Eng .- W. E. Dowding, 25 Victoria Street, Westminster S.W. Subscription price, $3.00 per annum, Single Copies. One Cent Advertising rates on application.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1915.

Waterloo.

the struggle which devastated Europe for nearly twenty years.

1821, or six years after his crushing defeat at Wat. employees as "the little Welshman." His bill indi erloo. Napoleon was educated at a French military school, where he excelled in mathematics and in the study of history. Later at the great military school in Paris had specialized in artillery, and ever after relied upon big guns to blast his way to victory.

As a young artillery officer he showed unmistakof Europe finally left him master of every country men or money. except Russia and Great Britain. His disastrous in vasion of the former was the beginning of his down France, called his old soldiers to his side, and commenced a campaign against the Prussians and Brit ish. He defeated the Prussians under Blucher at Ligny, on June 17, 1815, and then attacked Wellington, who had fallen back on Waterloo. On the 18th of June, 1815, Napoleon launched a vicious attack against the allied army under the command of the Duke of Wellington. Wellington commanded British; Dutch and Belgian troops to the rumber of nearly seventy thousand. Later in the day Wellington was joined by the Prussians under Blucher, with the result that Napoleon's fine army was defeated and he himself fled to Paris and abdicated his throne. He tried to escape to the United States, but found this impossible, and surrendered to the British, who sent him to St. Helena, where he died six years later.

Waterloo is rightly described as one of the most decisive battles in the history of the world. ended the career of a military despot. To day the field of Waterloo is in the hands of the Germans, and the French, British and Belgians are endeavoring to drive the forces of the German despot from the soil of Belgium and France. The British and French have never opposed one another since the battle of Waterloo, and there seems no good reason why they will not continue to be at peace with one another. The present conflict is certainly bound to cement the bonds of union between the two nations.

The Next War With Germany.

That the present war will end in the crushing of German militarism is the firm conviction of British writers and speakers everywhere. For the moment all effort is properly directed to the fighting in which the Empire is now engaged. But there are those in England who, in the midst of the struggle to-day, are giving some thought to what is to happower may have been crushed, will endeavor through bankers, manufacturers and merchants to dom- 1913. scuting the present war, says Mr. H. G. Wells, of Canadian development.-London Financier the well-known English writer, Germany is making every effort to crush the industrial life of France, Belgium and Poland, so that, whatever may be the terms of peace ultimately agreed upon, Ger-market or in foreign markets, then we should astified in treating such actio of deliberate economic warfare, and of retailat ing, not by trumpery import duties, but by acons against German entrance to this or British Imperial markets. "Not only so, but if we found it to be the case, as Mr. Wells also suggests, that Germany was using her commercial progress again to pile up arriaments and preparations for our destruct tion that would also be a good reason for pro-hibiting her imports and for inducing our Dominions to do the same."

A general feeling of regret will be felt through-out the world at the tragic death of Lieutenant Warneford, whose daring exploit a few days ago when he destroyed a Zeppelin thrilled manking omen deserve more praise than Mrs. John White, of Edmonton, who has sent her four sons to fight the battle of the Empire. Mrs. White is a widow who went west a few years ago from Ontario. She has only the four sons, but she is will ing that they should go and fight in order that Prus sian militarism should cease "Three strikes and out," applies not only to base ball, but may be equally applicable to the relations between the United States and Germany. The President has now despatched three notes to the Kaiser, all of which have been pretty much to the point

One hundred years ago to-day Napoleon was de-feated at the Battle of Waterloo, and an end put to the struggle which devastated Europe for

The thorough way in which Lloyd George has se Napoleon is regarded as the world's greatest about organizing the industrial plants in Great Brit-military genius and volumes have been written describing the man and his achievements. He was no other man in the British Empire who could get the born in Corsica in 1769, and died at St. Helena in same amount of work out of both employers and cates that he desires co-operation, but if that fails he will enforce compulsory service.

> The war is now costing Great Britain fifteen milin the past few months. The strain upon Great Britain is enormous, but Premier Asquith voices As a young artillery officer ne showed unmistak. Since a is enormous, but Fremier Asquith voices able signs of genius and soon worked his way up to the sentiments of everyone throughout the Empire a commanding position in the French army. His best ful campaigns against the various countries to a successful finish, no matter what it costs in

Last year when the war broke out, Great Britaia's fall, and shortly after his return from Russia he abdicated and retired to Elba. He, however, only remained there a short time, when he returned to doubled owing to the tremendous expenses connected with the prosecution of the war. This is a heavy load for postcrity to bear, but it is better that they should bear it as free men than carry the much heavier lord which Prussian militarism would impose upon them if the Germans were successful in this struggle.

> Wounded soldiers and those on sick leave are row commencing to come home. Complaints have already been made by some of these returned warriors that they are treated with scant courtesy and are unable to secure jobs. It will be a lasting dis- Her Beauty and her Chivalry, and bright grace to the country and to employers of labor if our soldiers returning from the front are not generously treated. Men who have gone out and risked their lives for the defence of the Empire are deserving of the best on their return.

THE OPEN ROAD.

(Memphis Commercial-Appeal.)

The A^tmerican people are always willing to pay to ee others exercise and neglect to exercise themselves. In Germany, on Sunday, even in these war days, be seen a procession of men, women; and children in hobnailed boots, rough outing suits, clasping n their hands stout walking sticks, making their way to railroads and trolley cars, that they may be transported quickly to the outskirts of the city, where Arm! Arm! It is—it is—the cannon's opening roa their walking expedition begins. They carry lunch with them and remain from early morning until sui-

This no doubt accounts for the sturdiness of the nen at the front.

We are not essentially a lazy people. We imagine that we have no time for the open road. We have, It will do every one good. It will give renewed energy and vitality. Try walking these spring days, and watch the benefit you will enjoy later on to day, are giving some inought to what is to hap-pen when the war ends. The present war will be have had a marked effect on the financial situation Two years of rigid economy, voluntary and enforced will then be another war-which, indeed, had been le another war-which, indeed, had been that to know state that the period of liquidation before the öpening of the present con-following the collapse of the real estate boom is fliet-a war in which Germany, though her military almost at an end, and that basic conditions are more promising than they have been since the spring of inate the world's trade. Even in their methods of has had comparatively little effect on the larger issu It must be remembered, too, that the

REVIVAL IN CANADA.

BACK TO THE LAND: HOW TO GET THERE, (Winnipeg Voice

THE JOURNAL OF COMMERCE, FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1915

* "A LITTLE NONSENSE NOW AND THEN"

"Who's the guy who wastes so much time running ick and forth through the building?

"Oh, that fellow? He's our efficient uffalo Express. First Trooper Imperial Yeomanry (discussing ew officer)—Swears a bit, don't 'e, sometimes? Second Trooper—'Es a masterpiece, 'e is; just pens his mouth and lets it say what it likes.—Punch.

Mr. B .- We've been married eight years and have had an argument Mrs. W .- Then you've never tried to dance any on the modern dances with your wife .- Chicago News.

"Come, now, scholars," said the teacher of miner logy, "who can tell me the names of three mine als?" One little girl raised her hand. "I thought so, said the teacher, with satisfaction, "Mary will tell us the names of three minerals." Mary put her ehind her and gently murmured, "Vichy and seitzer and "pollinaris."

A quaint story is told to exemplify the pride that very man should take in the work by which he aker a living. Two streetsweepers, seated on a curbstone, were discussing a comrade who had died afterward. The difficulty was that as man had al the day before. "Bill certainly was a good sweeper," said one. "Yes," conceded the other, thoughtfully. "But-don't you think he was a little weak around the lampposts?"-Cardiff Western Mail

The small daughter of the house was busily setting the table for expected company when her mother called to her: "Put down three forks at each place dear

Having made some observations int when the expected guests had dined with her mother before, she inquired thoughtfully: "Shall I give Uncle John three knives?"

A lumber buyer was staying over night in a little farm house in the backwoods of Northern Georgia The man of the house did nothing but sit by the fire and chew tobacco, relates the Chicago Journal. The umberman had told how he had held his job for seven years. "You got me beat," said the old crack-"I've only held mine for six years." "What is your job?" asked the lumberman. "Oh, I si fire and watch dat de kids don't fall in." "Oh, I sit by de "What do you do in the summer?" he asked. "I sit by de well and pull de kids out when dey falls in." "What will you do when the children grow up and don't need watching ?" he asked. "Den, I s'spose l'se goner take things easy and retire," he said.

THE EVE OF WATERLOO.

(By Lord Byron.)

There was a sound of revelry by night. And Belgium's capital had gather'd then The lamps shone o'er fair women and brave mer A thousand hearts beat happily; and when Music arose with its voluptuous swell. Soft eyes look'd love to eyes which spake again And all went merry as a marriage-bell;

But hush! hark! a deep sound strikes like a rising bell

Did you not hear it ?- No; 'twas but the wind Or the car rattling o'er the stomy street; On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined No sleep till morn, when Youth and Pleasure meet To chase the glowing Hours with flying feet-But hark!--that heavy sound breaks in once more As if the clouds its echo would repeat;

Within the window'd niche of that high hall Sate Brunswick's fated chieftain; he did hear That sound the first amidst the festival, caught its tone with Death's prophetic ear And when they smiled because he deem'd it near, His heart more truly knew that peal too well Which stretch'd his father on a bloody bier, And roused the vengeance blood alone could quell; He rush'd into the field, and, foremost fighting, fell

Ah! Then and there was hurrying to and fro And gathering tears, and tremblings of distress, And cheeks all pale, which but an hour ago Blush'd at the praise of their own loveliness And there were sudden partings, such as press he life from out young hearts, and choking sighs Which ne'er might be repeated; who could guess If ever more should meet those mutual eyes. ince upon night so sweet such awful morn tise !

And there was mounting in hot haste; the steed, The mustering squadron, and the clattering car, Vent pouring forward with impete us speed, And swiftly forming in the ranks of war And the deep thunder peal on peal afar; And near, the beat of the alarming drum Roused up the soldier ere the morning star; While throng'd the eitizens with terror Or whispering, with white lips-"The foe! They com They come!"

A BRITISH SOLDIER. ndon Daily Mirror.)

t the second battle of Ypres, Private Lynn, o Lancashire Fusiliers, particularly distinguished At the se himself during the gas attack. As soon as he saw the greenish cloud rolling to wards the British trenches, Lynn, without stopping to put on his respirator, turned his machin the advancing gas and on to the German trenches be Even when the gas reached him he would not stop. but kept up a fierce fire. When the Germans began to leave their trench to attack the half-unconscious, but still determined British line, Lynn, with a superhuman effort-for was coughing badly by this time-lifted his gun right on to the parapet of the trench, and from there con inued to play upon the advancing enemy able to stand up against such a withering fire, finally turned and sought cover behind their own lin Even then Lynn was not satisfied and had to be literally dragged away from his gun. He was re ved on an ambulance and died the same day.

WAR BABIES.

(New York Times.) Suddenly it is discovered that the eugenic effect of war was argued upon incomplete premises. The adverse case was very plausible. As none could deny that war wantonly consumed the most virile male life, the very flower of it first, it seemed clearly to follow that the quality of the race was bound to deteriorat ways been engaged in war, unreasonably killing of his own best specimens, logic would lead to the conclusion that the race had always deteriorated. Some thing obviously had been left out. What everybod nearly forgot or greatly minimized was that war also is the father of many babies. It is as old as human Where an army camps or stops to res experience. on its way to the business of killing or back, there life attends to its own preservation. The primitiv impulse is aroused. Restraints fail." There is only the will to live, never so strong, so irresistible, as when life itself is carried in the hands dangerously. It always been so, and will be until war does not hap-

DECATUR'S SPIRIT (New York Sun.)

To the Sun it seems that the spirit which armed Decatur and commissioned him to free Americans from the exactions of the Barbary states; the spirit that refused to accept European precedent in dealing with the corsairs of northern Africa; the spirit that broke for us and for the world the oppressive yoke older and stronger nations had long borne patiently was a good, an excellent spirit. It was the American spirit, and if it does not live to-day the nation that Decatur represented has failed of its mission, regardless of its remarkable expansion, it, vast increase in population, and its unprecedented growth in its rial possessions and power.

TOO EASY OPTIMISM.

(Broad Arrow.)

Easy optimism is good policy in Germany, where, as Bernhardi truly says, "seventy millions of people dominated by the one spirit are devoting themselves in absolute unison to one purpose." They have made the necessary sacrifices to attain that result in time of peace, and so in time of war they may be told smooth things for the good of their spirits. But in French prisoners of war in 1870, tells of the terrible England where the majority of men refused to suffer any personal inconvenience in order to fit them part, they were marched on foot to their places of detention, often night and day with scarce a hal with no distinction for those who were broken wit elves for the hour of need; the truth about our de fects and our defeats is an imperious necessity. sickness or enfeebled by wounds. The man who

 The Day's Best Editoria!

ADOPTING A SYSTEM TO DEFEAT IT.

Napoleon taught Prussia how to beat Napoleon Prussia must now teach Great Britain how to beat Prussia. The Englishman feels that his life has been made insecure by a system which he detests He feels that the system must be crippled, or it wil mpose its terms upon its neighbors, either to make them do what is wanted of them or to make them able to resist its demands.

Loose organizations of society are in opposition to George's appeal to the labor men to "speed up" th compact organizations of society; the individual blundering as he wills, for better or worse, is in work of turning out munitions has had splendid r With, therefore, the three magic Ms .- Me sults. opposition to the individual guided, coerced, Muniti persuaded to do the better regardless of individual voli-Allies there can be only one result to the present war.-Kingston Standard

Wise individuals in a loosely organized society may be convinced that they lead the more copious life, the higher for it being one of their own make and choosing, but they know that its inefficiency stands out disastrously when it comes in competition the solidified organization, responding exactly and precisely to a guiding and intelligent will.

It is a hopeless struggle for the loosely organized A sheriff's posse might as well try conclusions with of disciplined soldiers. Then, to destroy the thing which represents perfection in competition, the threatened people must adopt it, and aving adopted it, they do

The mountains and the plains Of his beloved land Were wine within his vein

BANK OF MONTREAL INCORPORATED BY ACT OF PARLIAMENT s U. S. Steel's Announ CAPITAL paid up - - $16,000,000.00 REST, - 16,000,000.00 UNDIVIDED PROFITS, - - 1,252,864,00 Sulphuric Acid Plant Erected Short Head Office-MONTREAL LATE MARKET IN

VOL. XXX. NO. 3

BOARD OF DIRECTORS: H. V. MEREDITH, Esq., President

R. B. Angus, Eag. E. B. Greenshields, Esg. Sir William Macdensid. Hen: Rober Mackay. Sir Thes. Shaughnessy. K.C.V.Q.

SIR FREDERICK WILLIAMS-TAYLOR, LL.D.

A. D. BRAITHWAITE, Assistant General

C. SWEENY, Supt. British Columbia Branches F. J. COCKBURN, Supt. Quebec Branches E. P. WINSLOW, Supt. North West Branches D. R. CLARKE, Supt. Maritime Pros. and Nfd. Branches

Branches at all important Cities & Towns in every Province in the Dominion of Canada

IN NEWFOUNDLAND St. John's, Curling, Grand Falls IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, 47 Threadneedle Street, E.C., G. C. Cassels, Manager

ESTABLISHED 1873

BANK OF HAMILTON

Head Office: - HAMILTON

000

Capital Authorized - - - $5,000,000

Capital Paid Up - - - 3,000,000

Surplus - - - - - 3,750,000

THE BRUTAL GERMANS

Ill-treatment of prisoners of war is no new thin or Germany. Abbe Guers, who worked among the reatment some of them received. For the me gave out was dispatched by bayonet or butt-en-rifle the moment he fell. "This business of finis ing off the poor wretches," says the Abbe. "appear to be an extremely welcome one to the landwel men, but their officers would sometimes rob ther of it by running the victims through with their own

MEN, MUNITIONS AND MONEY.

rifle the moment he fell.

Chicago

Sub-Agency, 9 Waterloo Place, Pall Mall, S. W. IN THE UNITED STATES

R. Y. Hebden, New York, W. A. Bog, American Smelting and Refining w Agents, 64 Wall St. ure and sold down 11/4 to 79%. ensiderable selling of Crucible Steel, 14 to 30. Steel, however, was well s J. T. Molineux Spokane hat is to say, at a level slight day's close Railroad issues were neglected.

> New York, June 18 .- The reaction orts of the cyclone in the West did here was no rally up to the end of the market showed an inclination to

OL. XXX. NO. 37

otive Was a Strong

Leased Wire to The Journ

York, June 18 .- Trading w ng but stocks in general showe

pealings seemed to be almost en

United States Steel opened at 60%

The announcement that the comp uild a new plant at a cost of $3,00

facture of sulphuric acid, wa

tion of confidence in the future

New York, June 18 .-- On the openin

it was assumed that the property egreat and there was talk of havoc

It should be remembered that a cy disturbance, which, while very des old stocks on reports of a cyclo as City, which are not in the al origin.

m occurred.

ced to 60%.

rsday afternoon's decline.

Distillers-Dealings Seen Entirely of Profession

Distillers was a strong feature, adv 16%, a new high for the present moveme The large interests at 26 Broadway ar ight stock heavily of late creating

Federal Smelting sold down to 30, con ligh of 60 on last week's upward mover ay's closing figure was 35 1/4. The d es was said to be because of the bre There appeared to be liquidation in I Rubber and the price declined 11/4 to 6

New York, June 18.-There was an in the second hour following th ices from the west indicating that t Kansas did not cost any lives and that nage was comparatively small. Some ave been ruined but it was contended in that way would be more than countera fit conferred upon corn.

Baldwin Locomotive was strong featur to 63%, a gain of 1¼ and a new high rec from the Russian government for 250 loco 365 traction engines are in the line of th regular business and in addition large have been received.

A private banker having important Fre ns was said to be the seller of Uni Steel in the past few days, and it was sa ales were connected with ilquidation for ount or in some other way resulted fro hange situation

Great Northern Ore was strong, advanci a 37% in expectation of big demand for o revival in steel industry.

New York, June 18.-Except for a little w specialties, the market was at a comp still in the early afternoon. ons, and Money,-at the command of the There was some activity in Interboro-M ies in expectation of early dividend act ferred stock of the new company. There was some selling of Tennessee Cop hs a decline to 37%, compared with 38 at ' due to the announcement that the Ste tion will build a big sulphuric acid plant. (Chaplain Frederick George Scott, Fourteenth Batt.) A good part of Tennessee Copper's car le from that commodity. There was a little spurt in Central Leathe gained 1% by advancing to 40%. ressive.

PPER MARKET IS DULL York, June 18 .- Copper market is ess reported though inquiries co Most of these inquiries, however cted toward obtaining concessions in p mpanies which have shown no disp ir quotation of 201/2 cents for electrol maller producers, shading of prices nd the metal may be had as low as $0\frac{1}{4}$ swords or riding at them and trampling them to (Chicago Tribune.) death beneath their horses' feet."-London Chronid was a most reassuring statement which That remier Asquith made in the House of Commons to the effect that the response to Lord Kitchen appeal for 300,000 recruits had been satisfactory. ess assuring was the further statement that Lloy sures will be needed to ward off the blow? Mr. Wells land value taxation. Will the political doctors have is so impressed with the danger in this respect that courage enough to apply the remedy? he is ready for a protectionist policy of defence. He would have a Zollverein, comprising not only the various parts of the British Empire, but also the intries which are now the Empire's Allies, for the purpose of encouraging trade within these limits and shutting out the German competitor. The idea follow Iowa in this list: Connecticut and Massachucan hardly look upon it as likely to be realized. Mr. Choizza Money, M.P., recognizing that a commercial war with Germany will have to be met, differs from Mr. Wells as to the proper way to meet it. He quotes the expression of Mr. Gladstone that a Protectionist is a man who, having been smitten or e cheek, smote himself upon the other. Mr. Money thinks that the value of the British market to Ger many will be a guarantee against the extreme mea-sures which Mr. Wells fears. Whatever might be many will be a guarantee against the extreme mea-Germany's will in the matter, she could not afford deny herself the privilege of the British market. If British trade, Mr. Money would have a policy, not merciy of increased duties against German products, but a total prohibition of German trade. He con-NATIONAL NEC

"If Germany were to withhold certain goods, for example, dyes, in order to cripple the im-portant British dye-users, or if, on the other hand, she were to cut prices in certain direc-tions with the deliberate attempt of ruining British industries, either in the British Imperial that she has destroyed dangerous the question. One hundred million acres of arable commercial rivals, and left the way more open for land in the three prairie provinces are in the hands commercial rivals, and left the way more open for the vigorous prosecution of German trade policy. The trade of the British Empire will, of course, be assailed in this way by the Germans. What mea-be assailed in this way by the Germans. What mea-this land it will be necessary to get the speculators off it. The best means of accomplishing this is by

PER CAPITA AUTOS.

In the use of automobiles per capita Iowa is the purpose of encouraging trade within these limits placed at the head of the list of states, having one setts come next, while New York is 26th, with one automobile to every 64 inhabitants. Louisians which is at the end of the procession, has one can to 512 of its population .- Outlook.

THE MADE-IN-GERMANY IDEA. (Grain Growers' Guide.)

The design to buy where one can get the best value the Winnipeg Industrial Bureau, the leader of the this expectation should prove incorrect, and Ger-"Made-in-Winnipeg" resort to extreme measures against ing the people to eat "Made-in-Winnipeg" bread was

NATIONAL NECESSITY. (Hamilton Herald.)

If there is truth in the charges made by the Glasgow Heraid in connection with wilful slackness of British union men employed in armament factories, it may yet be necessary to put all such establishments under military discipline. Such a course would be justified by national necessity.

And wild and high the "Cameron's gathering" rose! The war-note of Lochiel, which Albyn's hills Have heard, and heard, too, have her Saxon foes; How in the noon of night that pibroch thrills, Savage and shrill! But with the breath which fill mountain-pipe, so fill the mo neers With the fierce native daring which instils The stirring memory of a thousand years, And Evan's, Donald's fame rings in each clansman's ears !

And Ardennes waves above them her green leaves. Dewy with nature's tear-drops, as they pass, Brieving, if aught inanimate e'er grieves, Over the unreturning brave-alas! Ere evening to be trodden like the grass Which now beneath them but above shall grow, In its next verdure, when this fiery mass low.

Last noon beheld them full of lusty life, Last eve in Beauty's circle proudly gay, The midnight brought the signal-sound of strife, The morn the marshalling in arms-the day Battle's magnificently stern array! The thunder-clouds close o'er it, which when rent The earth cover'd thick with other clay, Which her own clay shall cover, heap'd and pent, Rider and horse-friend, foe-in one red burial blent!

A search

Prussia organized against Napoleon, and Prussia ow stands in the imagination of Europe where Napoleon stood a hundred years ago to-day, when he was about to send his army into Belgium with all of his fate in its muskets.

In the British Parliament Philip Snowden, Socialis nember for Blackburn, alarmed by the proposals of the Government, says: "We must take care that this war does not result in the establishment of Prussianism in this country."

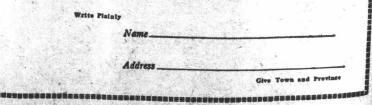

The British statesmen are convinced that the only ray the British can win is by approximating the efficiency of the force they have to fight. Prussia fought its way out from under Napoleon by becom-ing, what Napoleon would have made it if he had tin the and a a a constant a

If you are not already a Subscriber to the JOURNAL OF COMMERCE .-- the Business Man's Daily---fill in the Coupon:

You are authorised to send me THE JOURNAL OF COMMERCE for One Year from date at a cost of Three Dollars.

And gave an iron hand.

A CANADIAN.

He scorned the thought of fear, He murmured not at pain; The call of God was clear, The path of duty plain.

The glad and brave young heart

Had come across the sea;

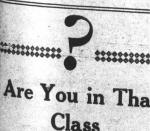

He longed to play his part

In crushing tyranny

Beneath the shower of lead, Of poison and of fire. He charged and fought and bled, Ablaze with one desire.

O Canada, with pride Look up and greet the morn. Since of thy wounded side Such breed of men is born. Vlammertinghe, April 27, 1915.

TIN MARKET QUIET. York, June 18 .- Metal Exchange qu quiet, 41 cents bid. Lead weak and ed at 6 cents. Spelter not quoted.

"I can conceive of no commercial or business man caring to be with-out your paper," writes a Palmerston Subscriber to The Journal of Com-merce. This is the opin-ion of all progressive ion of all progressive business men. Are you in that class ?