

30 PERCHERONS

Also Shires, Hackneys and Clydes and 12 Percheron Mares (3 and 1 year old) have just arrived with our new importation from Scotland, England and France, of high-class stallions and mares. Many of them prizewinners in their native lands. Bred by the best breeders. Percherons, blacks and grays, weighing 1,600 to 2,000 pounds. Shires at two years old weighing 1,700 pounds. Clydes, bays and blacks, 4 and 5 years old, weighing 1,800 to 2,000 pounds, bred by the best in Scotland. Our Hackneys are bays and chestnuts, combining size, quality and breeding that cannot be beaten. These horses can be seen at Toronto and London fairs, and all for sale at reasonable prices.

GOSSIP.

A contemporary tells the following story as a solemn fact. Probably it might prove suggestive to those churches that are talking union, and are consequently in search of a new ecclesiastical title. "An Irishman who had married a Jewess, wished his firstborn son to be called Patrick. The mother was equally desirous that he should be called Moses. Finally it was agreed that the name should be taken from the Scriptures, the priest to make the selection. The priest baptized the child 'Pat-Mos.'"

Many years ago a Philadelphia clothing manufacturer received a contract for making uniforms for the telegraph operators along the line of one of the railroads. In order to measure the operators along the line he sent telegrams asking them to meet him on the station platforms.

He sent this telegram to the operator at one of the small stations:

"Meet me on the arrival of the 2.15 p. m. train. Wear nothing but shirt and trousers."

At the appointed time he reached this station, and enquired for the operator. He saw a young woman looking embarrassed. She said, in answer to his enquiry:

"I am the telegraph operator, and am here in response to your summons; but I decline to comply with your instructions as to apparel."

LESSONS OF THE HORSE MARKETS.

Those who study the horse markets can hardly fail to learn the practical lesson of good breeding. Quotations on horses from week to week are both high and low. In the draft-horse classes, we find keen competition and plenty of outlet for the supply of horses which are of size and have quality, while for the undersized, the scrub, the misfit and the plain horse of common quality, we find a low market, which means a poor demand. Buyers have learned their lesson; and their action in the markets is sufficiently plain to indicate to the producing class what is needed and what will bring profitable values in the public mart. For the right kind of a horse, the demand is increasing, but for the other kind lower values are bound to rule. Neither on the market nor the farm is the scrub a profitable animal. In our breeding, let us avoid him and prosper.

A good story is told of a couple of farmers living a few miles apart. One day one called on the other, happening around at dinner time. The person called upon, by the way, was rather a penurious old fellow. He sat at the table enjoying his dinner. The visitor drew toward the table, expecting the old farmer to invite him to dine. The old farmer kept on eating.

"What's the news up your way, neighbor? No news, eh?"

Presently a thought struck the visitor. "Well, yes, friend, I did hear of one item of news worth mentioning."

"Ha! What is it?"

"Neighbor John has a cow that has five calves."

"Is that so? Good gracious! What in thunder does the fifth calf do when the others are feeding?"

"Why, he stands and looks on, just as I do, like a fool."

"Mary, put on another plate," drawled the farmer, as he caught the point.

TRADE NOTE.

CHICKENS BY STEAM.

If you are interested in poultry raising, write to George H. Stahl, Quincy, Ill., and get a copy of his interesting book on this subject, and which also gives valuable information regarding the growing of incubator chicks for market. This book is sent absolutely free. George H. Stahl is widely known as the manufacturer of the famous 1-cow and Wood-en Hen incubators. These incubators are recommended by leading poultrymen, as being the leaders whose results are considered, and they are created by the manufacturers to hatch a larger percentage of fertile eggs at lower cost than any other hatching. The Excelsior and Wooden Hen incubators, when in use, require only five minutes' daily attention.
