The family of the late Timothy J. Cronin have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement. Mr. Cronin passed away on Sunday last at his residence, 219 King street east, after a comparatively short illness. As he lived, so he died—peacefully, quiet and plously. The deceased was born in Ireland and came to this country when quite young. For a time he resided in Fredericton, then came to St. John and was for many years in the employ of Mr. Thomas Furlong, finally starting in business for himself on Germain street almost twenty years ago. In October, 1834, he married the daughter of Mr. Patrick McGrath, of Quincy, Mass, who with five sons and one daughter survive him. NEW CHURCH TO BE BUILT AT ST.
THOMAS.

[Evening Journal, Feb, 8.]

At a meeting of the congregation of the Church of the Holy Angels it has stone church on the site of the present edifice, which will cost not less than $50,000.

This has been rendered necessary owing to the rapid growth of the congregation, the membership of which has doubled during the past few years, and now numbers about four hundred families. The present church has been found to be altogether inadequate to the requirements of the congregation, and it has been decided to erect a structure which in design will be a credit to the ecclesiastical architecture of the city, and at the same time afford about double the seating capacity of the present church.

The arrangement of the details has been left in the hands of Rev. Father West, the parish priest, who has a record as a church-builder equaled by none in the Diocese of London. He has been instrumental in erecting several churches, the last being in his old Parish of Goderich, where the congregation is not one-third the size of St. Thomas, and there a handsome stone church stands as a monument to his energy and his memory, in his present venture he will receive able support from his assistant, Rev. Father O'Nell.

The work of the construction of the new church will be commenced next summer, but it is not expected to be completed before a couple of years; but it is safe to say that the new parish priest, who has already proved himself to be an able administrator, will not allow the grass to grow under his feet, and that the work will be pushed forward to as early a completion as possible.

His Lordship Bishop McEvay has given his sanction to the undertaking, which

His Lordship Bishop McEvay has given his sanction to the undertaking, which will be vigorously pushed to a successful conclusion.

Besides the wealthier members of the congregation, who will make donations towards the expense, the wage-earners of the church will give one day's pay each month until the new church is paid for.

The old school house, too, is to be remodeled during the coming summer: innection with this be quoted many eminent non-Catholics who advocated retiginin the schools, mentioning the names of Premier Balfour and others.

The efficiency of the Separate schoole was next pointed out. Mr. Power paid a very high compliment to the z-al of the lay teachers in his inspectorate. He also pointed out the special advantages enjoyed by religious communities as educators.

While the foregoing were subjects for congratulation, he regretted very much the lack of narental inte est in our Separate schools. This did not reply to all purerise, but a very large percentage of them. Mr. Power pointed out the great importance of a proter home training and went on to argue that it was very unfair to held the teachers responsible for the many defects that appeared in the training of school children. The teachers were ever ready to do their share, but they expected the hearty co-operation of parents. He started that too much freedom was given by parents to the average child of the present day.

He then pointed out some ways in which parms could help to increase the efficiency of curschools. First by selecting cap ble School Boards who would not keep too tight a hold on the pure strings and who would not precife a false eccany, as was very marked in many schools. Education was cheeper than anything else, of anything like the same importance and no money was so well invested as that spent in educating our children. The Charlottetown, P. E., I., Patriot of 2nd instant. says: Sunday last the choir of So. Joachims whited upon Rev. Dr. Doyle, Verson River, and presented him with an address accompanied by a handsome and expensive traveling bag, the occasion being the fortigth anniversary of the reverend gentle man's ordination to the priestheed. The older members of St. Patrick's in this city will remember Rev. Father Doyle, who, having competed his studies in the venerable S. minary of Quebec, was ordained in mid-winter of 1864 and, owing to the then existing difficulties in the way of reaching his native island, was immediately attached to St. Patrick's as Assistant to the then Pastor Rev. B. McGuran, till the opening of navigation in the following spring, meantime making many warm friends who will now join his fiends at Vernon River in wishing him Multos Annos! The following is one paragraph from the address which shows the reverend gentlemen in the light of the true Pastor of souls: 'Forty years! How many grief burdened souls have sought release in your kindly admonitions and your wise counsels, sure of receiving that consolation which may have been dented them else where. Many a careworn face and tear bedimmed eye have brightened under the influence of your benigh and fatherly smile during those years of your saintly office."—Quebec Telegraph, 1th lost.
