sick with serious lung difficulty, which threatened to end in quick consumption. We summoned our family physician, who attended him faithfully for four weeks, during which time he gradually grew weaker. Becoming very much alarmed about himself, and being satisfied that he was growing worse all the time, he finally refused to take any more medicine from the physician, and expressed a wish to try Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I immediately told the physician, expecting that he would object to his using it; but he did not. He said 'let him try it; it won't burt him and may using it; but he did not. He said 'let him try it; it won't hurt him, and may do him some good.' He did try it, and continued to use it some time, taking it inwardly, and bathing the chest and lungs outwardly. Very soon he began to improve, gradually gaining strength, until at last we had the satisfaction of knowing that the foundation of his disease was proken up. My son't slive.
