and FINANCE

Saturday, May 9.—There was a large market and a good demand for produce this morning. Prices generally were steady. Butter and eggs were a trifle easier, although the quotations remained the same. Mests remain the same with the exception of beef which went up 50c per cwt. Some fresh English soles are selling for 15c a pound. On the grain market cats dropped a couple of points. To-day's ruling prices were:

Bradstreet's Trade Review.

Montreal—Continued cool, wet weather has acted against retail business here and at surrounding points. There is, however, a fair movement in most lines and everything points towards a good summer and fall trade. Considerable activity has been occasioned by the arrival of ocean vessels and fair shipments of goods are going through the canals. The dry goods trade reports a good cemand for staples. Cotton mills are still working on reduced time, but manufacturers of cotton hosiery state they have all the business they need for three or all the business they need for three or four months. They hold prices steady to firm. Despite lower prices for canned tomatoes in the States prices here hold steady and may be expected to continue so until the new pack comes in. Toronto—General trade has shown so until the new pack comes in.

Toronto—General trade has shown, little change here during the past week. Sentiment regarding future business is exceedingly hopeful in view of further excellent reports regarding western crop conditions. Seeding in Ontario has gone through well. The weather has been rather against a heavy movement of spring lines, but retailers bought light and even should spring be late in arriving, stocks carried over are not likely to be heavy. Sorting trade is moderate in volume. Travellers report a continued good business in fall lines. Dry goods prices show little change, although there is an unsettled tone following reductions in the United States markets.

Winnipeg—A steady improvement is noted in all lines of trade here. The weather has been quite favorable to crops and business is taking on a more cheerful tone accordingly. The city retail trade is good.

**Giff of the cause of David at the City of Hamilton, and the Linds of of Hamilton, and the Toronto Saturday Night: Both time and call money here rule at 6 per cent. on approved collateral, but the demand is not large for the season that loans can be had in New York at 3 to 4 per cent. for sixty days to six months. The result is that a large proportion of the international stocks, such as C.P.R., Twin Cit. the Mackays and the Soos, are carried down there for Teronto and Canadian accounts. Clients are paying 6½ to 7 per cent. here as against 4½ to 5 per cent. on loans in New York. It is little wonder that the local trading is on such a limited scale. It is not unlikely that speculative trade will continue at the present low ebb for some months to come, and the legitimate business community here hope that such conditions will continue to prevail even for a longer period. Although the interest and dividend payments are small for the month of May, there is nevertheless quite a good demand for investment stocks, and the market for these issues continues firm as a rule. The returns on such investments are comparatively large, and the best of them are being gradually picked up and put away in strong boxes.
