When to Cut Flowers

When to Cut Flowers.

The best time to cut flowers is early in the morning while the dew is upon them, or else during the evening. As soon as cut the stems should be placed in water, even if in a temporary way, if not convenient to arrange them at once in their proper positions.

When the flowers have to be packed early in the morning to be sent a long distance they must be cut extra early, or what is better, cut the previous evening and placed in water all night in a cool place which can be kept close. In this way they absorb all the water it is possible for them to do, being consequently fresher when unpacked.—From Gardening Illustrated.

WAS A NEWSY.

Voice That Once Cried "Wuxtry" Now Rings in U. Ss Senate.

"Blonde Billy" Lorimer got enough votes in his pocket to allow his name to go before the Illinois state legisla-ture, and be elected United States Senator, he was realizing his ideals.

Newsboy, sign painter, packing house worker, street car conductor—these were the steps in Lorimer's life that lead to millions as a real estate operator, brick manufacturer, contractor, congressman and senator.

Illinois had tired of Albert J. Hop-

Illinois had tired of Albert J. Hopkins as senator, because Hopkins was a politician. So, in his place, they chose Lorimer, the acknowledged Republican boss for many years of Chicago.
"Billy" Lorimer, partly perhaps on account of his early struggles, had the trick of popularity, and mixed well with the men with dinner pails. He was on the popular side, too, in the Chicago harbor improvement and drainage canal movements in congress, and was one of the group of congressmen in 1990 who all but forced the administration into all but forced the administration into declaring war on Spain.

Lorimer first went to congress from a Chicago district in 1895. He was beaten through a gerrymander of the city districts in 1901, but came hurrying back two years later—to stay. He is a member of many important committees. In his fight for the Senate, Lorimer laid low, collecting votes and filing them away, while Hopkins and others were vainly trying to break the threemouth deadlock. When Lorimer got enough he let his name appear.

GOULD CASE FINALLY ON.

Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould the First Witness.

Testified as to the Luxury in Which She Lived.

Couldn't Remember Whether She Saw Dustin F. rnum in 1908.

New York, June 11.-It was a smaller and slighter Katherin Clemmons Gould who took the stand yesterday in her suit for separation from her husband, Howard Gould, than the public remembered, and her loss in weight was becoming. Mrs. Gould wore mourning for her father, and the sombre black of her gown was relieved only by the double father, and the sombre black of her gown was relieved only by the double string of pearls at her neck, and the flash of the diamonds in her long hand purse of black leather. She seemed nervous at times under the strain of cross-examination, and when the questions led her to the early days of her married life she showed visible motion, but so far as the presence of her husband was concerned she seemed not to know that he was in the same room, although he sat but a few feet from her throughout the day's session.

The long-delayed hearing before Justice Dowling, who will make his finding without the aid of a jury, is the culmination of a case that began n May, 1907, and has been marked in its continuance by many sensational accusations of misconduct and attempted subornation of witnesses. Mrs. Gould alleges that her husband deserted her without just cause on July 16, 1906. Howard Gould answers that his justification was the habits of the plaintiff; that, since he left her, he has made her an allowance of $25,000 a year, but that she is extravagant, intemperate and has been guilty of misconduct.

The wife denies the charges, and asks for an allowance of $20,000 a year to enable her to live in the manner to which her husband had accustomed her. Mrs. Gould testified that, while living at Castle Gould she kept from fifteen to eighteen servants in the house, ten to twelve around the stable, and eighteen or twenty gardeners.

GAVE HER $10,000 A MONTH. In answer to questions as to the mounts her husband had allowed her amounts her husband had allowed her month by month, she said they averaged about $10,000, and that in the eight years she had lived with him Mr. Gould had given her $775,000.

De Lancey Nicoll, counsel for Mr. Gould, tried to bring out discrepancies in various statements of expenditure. He read off a long list of figures and dates, Mrs. Gould listening patiently. When he had finished she asked: "What are you talking about?"

When he had finished she asked:
"What are you talking about?"
Counsel caught his breath and tried another avenue of attack.
"Did you know that at the time of the separation there were bills of $112,7000 outstanding against you?"
"I have not the slightest idea."
Mrs. Gould had the same answer for a long file of questions as to accounts. a long file of questions as to accounts with dressmakers, jewelers and depart-ment stores, running some times as high
