

EMPRESS THEATRE ON MONDAY

Jean Paige, who has not been seen upon the screen since her memorable appearance as Jessie Gordon in "Black Beauty," based on the famous story by Anna Sewell, is the star of the big special production "The Prodigal Judge," which will be shown at the Empress Theatre on Monday May 15. It was made under the direction of Edward Jose. The picture is based on the story by Vaughan Kester which was the most talked of novel of the year when it was published some years ago, and has since maintained its place as one of the best American novels.

"The Prodigal Judge" is a story of the antebellum days with the locale mostly in Tennessee. While the novel takes its name from the Judge, Colonel Slocum Price Tuberville, a lovable hero, eloquent at every bar and Falstaffian in capacity of appetite and intellect, the interest centers mainly around the loves and fortunes of the pretty heroine, Betty Malroy, and it is this character that Miss Paige portrays. She is admirably fitted into this story of the late '30's and early '40's, with the quaint and dainty costuming of that period.

"The Prodigal Judge" is a romance rich in incident, hearty in humor, full-flowing in a broad current of life and events. Love and hate and private feud, true friendship and evil ambition, all have their place in this splendid American story. The surroundings are colorful; the characters are of clearcut types and the men and women are of the sort who do rather than talk. It is a strenuous story, of strenuous times, and it is doubtful if another American novel could be found which so perfectly lends itself to adaptation to the screen.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs. Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, become very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

We don't want to hear the ant talk. Neither do we care to know the words of the mosquito's song; it is where he is going to light that is of importance.

HARKINS ACADEMY ITEMS OF INTEREST

George Stohart, Editor

As in all old, as well as, present day schools and colleges discipline squads have been arranged at Harkins Academy. Several advanced High School boys have control of the boys play ground and lines; while grade IX boys control the girls lines. In this way the language, form of play, and order etc, is kept much better. Taken, all in all, the discipline squads are proving a success.

The following is a continuation of "A Synopsis of Miramichi".

Cooney tells us that in 1786 Davidson built two saw-mills on the North West branch, and set many settlers on the land that was granted him by the crown. At his death in 1790 Mr. Davidson's business was taken over by Messrs Fraser and Thom. This firm for many years carried on a very profitable and very brisk trade in furs, fish, and sawn lumber.

During the timber boom of 1844, a tide of immigration flowed into the land. The increase of population was very great and much progress was made in industrial pursuits.

Wealth flowed into the land; many settlements were founded; and the Miramichi prospered, alas, in the midst of the harvest in 1825 came the great fire; sweeping all before it. A greater calamity never fell on any forest country in the world.

Margaret Crocker has been chosen by this year's graduating class as valedictorian, she having made the highest marks in the Easter Examinations, Jessie Harris, a close second mark, is to read the class prophecy in the closing exercises.

The lady-teachers of the Academy donated last week, a fine set of window-curtains to the school to be used in the lower-hall library.

The fire-drill, last Tuesday was entirely unsuccessful. Being the first since Christmas nothing more can be expected. Much more attention will be paid to this exercise in the future, and it is hoped that we will be able to report a successful test before long.

De Omnibus Rebus

The debate which was to have been held last Friday was cancelled by default on the part of some of the debaters.

A downy wood-pecker who chanced to stray into one of the departments last Wednesday, was forced to undergo a critical examination at the hands of the advanced High school before he was allowed his freedom.

Miss McMaster held the Nelson shield last week.

Last week Mr. Barnett rigged his camera in the delicate operation of taking the photo of several of the higher Academy grades.

The lawn was sown with grass-seed last week.

Although there is no fancy iron gate or top-railing on the fence which was erected by the High-school boys it serves its purpose, viz: to keep such animals as school-children, cows horses, etc off the new-sown ground.

Preparations are being made at the Academy for Empire Day.
