

Sheppardton. Jan Kirkpatrick building a large stone mill house.

For a Photo. Was the manly group, composed of tall giants from the boundary wry lads of Leeburn, horly boys from the Butternut Row, slim lads of Toll Run Avenue, with a few stray black sheep from Dunlop, gathered together round the stone foundation of the new barn of A. Horton on the 23rd of June, to set the timbers of the new barn on its base.

Dunlop. Miss Maud G Allen with master Francis visited at Exeter last week.

A hay fork has been purchased for the county hay harvest on Homerule farm, and a new binder for Lansdowne.

New potatoes for 1887, grown by our townsman, A. Allen, were eaten at dinner on Jubilee day. His mine host of the Point Farm had any yet from his garden?

Jan Young, of Bellevue farm near here, has sold his fine yearling colt to Colborne's far famed equestrian, D. Fisher, for $250. Dave has named it "The Young Leopard."

Mrs R Sterling and Miss Carrie Sterling, of Garfield, visited here last week; also J C Robinson, one of Goderich's popular vaudeville, took in an evening in our burc. He is full of song and is a right jolly fellow.

Dunstanon. PRESENTATION. A few evenings prior to the leaving of Rev. A. McKibbin, for his new field of labor, a social gathering was held at Mr Dishers, which was largely attended by both old and young, who feeling that they could not allow this efficient pastor depart without showing him some tangible expression of the high esteem in which he is held, presented him with a very beautiful album and gentleman's toilet case with the following ADDRESS. DEAR BROTHER.—We, the young people of the Methodist church, being about to say farewell to you, have thought it proper to embrace this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your services amongst us during the year. You found us as strangers, but you leave us devoted and admiring friends who shall follow your future career with interest wherever in the Providence of God your lot may be cast. One short year, but Oh! how eventful! One year of association as pilgrims together, in which to commence a friendship which we trust shall be perpetuated in eternity. God alone can tell the quality of your faithfulness in preaching and ours in hearing. In each of these we have enjoyed great privileges and laid ourselves under equally great responsibilities. May God help us to be faithful. And as you look forward to a new ministry may the new relationship be, if possible, even more pleasant and profitable. We wish to assure you of our confidence and esteem as a friend and brother, and beg you to accept this present as a part token of the same, cherishing a hope that you will esteem it, not so much on account of its value as on account of the memories which it recalls.

Signed on behalf of the young people, MISS WEST, MISS DISHER, MISS THOMPSON.

Mr McKibbin then made a suitable reply and a pleasant evening was spent by all.

LEOBURN. Mr B Hoggarth has built a neat dairy house.

Joseph Healy has put an addition to his barn.

Miss Blair, from near Bayfield, is visiting her cousins, the Misses McManus.

Communion service on Sunday. Preparatory service Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

The barn of Joe Cook took a rise of eight feet for stone work last week to be built under it. It was not an earthquake that did the job but manual power.

A large stable was raised on the farm of H McManus, on the 20th of June. Twenty four hands divided into two sides put the building together in a tie, Ohas Morris was builder.

HORSES SOLD.—T Kelly sold his two year black colt to A M Polley, of Goderich, for $200 and E N Shaw, a team of colts for $110 each to different persons. Mr Strachan sold a colt to H Hayden, for $115.

PERSONAL.—Jos. Morris, of Garbraid, who recently returned from Toronto, visited several of his old schoolmates here last week, and at a social gathering defeated our medico and the Dunlop scribe in a hard fought game of croquet.

A quilting bee at our Teuton friend's, H. Zeilner's, Wednesday last week, made him think of testing his new barn floor by entertaining the escort of the fair maidens to a social hop in the evening with other guests, with J Reilly floor manager, and Percy Stewart and James McCracken as ushers. The violin of D McDonald till 5 a m kept the dancers in busy motion.

THE DAUNTLESS.—This triad sailing craft from Goderich, under the command of commodore R Clark, anchored in our little bay here with P Stuer, as pilot, where a number of L O G T. No. 213, were waiting for a jubilee sail on the lake, the party being under the care of F B Linfield, A Gordon and Gavin Clutton. For several hours the party enjoyed a pleasant sail. The ladies of the party proved fair sailors this time, and tenderly cheered and cared for several of the brethren who felt rather curious with the toasting of the boat on the blue waters.
