Old Iron at the Front.

Considerable speculation has been going the rounds as to the amount of scrap iron and steel that is accumulating on the battlefields of Europe, and how it is to be disposed of.

American companies which regularly deal in such old material have for some time been looking forward to the harvest to be reaped from these battlefields after the war. These hopes have now been rather rudely shocked by observers recently returned from the front, who state that this matter is now being handled by the respective Governments.

According to the systems now established in modern warfare, it is stated, a salvage corps is daily going over all the ground near the battle front exposed to fire, and is getting all the debris discarded by the contending armies. None of the scrap is neglected, with steel worth 1d. to 1 1/2d. per pound, and copper and other metals in proportion. All the metals are taken to shops in the rear, and there worked into the various munitions that a modern army uses.

All the lead that is fired is practically lost, as a bullet travelling at a velocity of 2,000ft. or more per second buries itself so deep into any object it hits as to be lost entirely. Other metals, however, such as tangled steel from wrecked motor-cars, large pieces of shells, bits of copper, pieces of aluminium, etc., are carefully collected and later turned into usable condition.—Tit-Bits.

BEAUTY OF THE EYE.

The first essential to eye beauty is health. In ill health the eyes become dull and strained looking, showing deep hollows beneath them. Very often the eyelids become inflamed, and to correct these defects the general health must be improved. If the eyes are simply tired, and burn from over-exertion, they should be bathed nightly with a lotion. The most soothing eye lotion is a four per cent solution of boric acid. Use an eye cup when bathing the eyes, opening and closing the eyelids in the water.

If your eyes become very much inflamed from exposure, overstrain or congestion, you will find that warm tea leaves will almost instantly remedy the condition. Apply the leaves in the form of a bandage, placing them in a piece of antiseptic gauze which is rolled over neatly. The bandage over the eyes and allow it to remain for some time. Bathing the eyes with cold tea is also very soothing.

A solution of salt water will strengthen the eyes and make them more brilliant. Dissolve an even teaspoon of salt in a half pint of tepid water and bathe the eyes, using an eye cup or a piece of absorbent cotton. When the inflammation of the eyes is caused from weeping, apply hot water to the eyelids to draw out the redness. To do this properly the cloth should be wet and laid over the lids, changing it as soon as the heat subsides.

Ten minutes of this will make the whole face red, and as the blood recedes the lids bleach with the rest of the skin.

When bathing your face be careful not to rub your eyes too roughly with the towel. This is often the cause of the redness that is so unsightly. Take care of your eyes properly and they will be beautiful, and you will possess beauty's greatest charm.

Everyday Etiquette.

"When I write to a person I do not know and request information, should I enclose a stamp for the reply?" asked Jane.

"Yes, you should always do so unless the person is an acquaintance of yours," answered her sister.

Through several different channels the news comes that one of the latest developments for war time fashions will be frocks of simple calico. It is understood that some of the smartest blouses which specialise in garments for the women whose happiness depends on their being chic are creating models in this fabric which certainly before all else should appeal to the war economy instinct.
