

BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEW.—The British Quarterly Review for October offers great attractions to the general reader, several of the articles being of unusual interest. Foremost among them we may mention "The Lesser Light," which is an account of what is known and conjectured concerning our satellite; and "The Mystics of the Fourteenth Century," which, for the most part, men who had felt, more than others, the weariness and sorrow of human life. Motley's writings are so well known and liked, that one turns with pleasant anticipations to anything that comes from his pen. There are many extracts from his "New Historical Works" in the present review. The article on Landseer is not biographical, but is a description and criticism of his style and works. We find two controversial articles on ecclesiastical topics. "The Abolition of Patronage and the Scotch Churches," and "The Established Church and its Defenders." An article, "Our Naval Requirements," is well worth reading. Eighty pages of this Review are devoted to notices of new books, under the heading "Contemporary Literature." Works on all subjects are mentioned, and they are so classified that either student or novel-reader can see at a glance what new treats, the literary world has in store for him. Our readers will do well to provide themselves for the coming year with one or all of the periodicals reprinted by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. They are as follows: The London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and British Quarterly Reviews, and Blackwood's Magazine. Price, $4 a year for any one, or only $15 for all.

Three or four inches of snow fell in the township of Bentinck, county of Grey, on Friday the 30th ult., and by its great weight destroyed a large number of fruit trees. A light snow fell at Walkerton on Sunday, 1st inst., but no serious damage was done.

IT HAS BEEN WELL SAID THAT THERE is great waste of time and energy by those reformers and phisicians, who to bring about better conditions, are always addressing themselves to the head to the neglect of the stomach. It is an elementary law governing the human system, that the Brain and the Stomach are two neighbors who cannot afford to be equally for any length of time, without mental deterioration or destruction; and an improvement in the latter implies improvement in the other. By using Dr. Wm. Rutherford's COMPOUND FLUID OF PHOSPHATE AND CALCEA the Mind and Body will become harmonized by the perfection of Digestion and Assimilation of food, and the formation of Healthy Blood.

BEARINE OR REAL BEAR'S GREASE, A HAIR BEAUTIFIER, Preserver, and Dressing.
