York Nov. 5.

-The Emma Juch subscription list promises to be very large, as subscribers get the choice of several prizes.

-Rev. G. Boyd will preach the anniversary services of the first Methodist Church, St. Thomas, on Sunday next.

-Rev. G. Trotter Carr, of this city, herd of that place is about to enter the city ticket office of the G. T. R. in this city.

-A letter has been received from the daughter of Rev. W. F. Clarke, formerly congregational minister in this city, announcing her safe arrival at Benque, the West African port of embarkation for her mission field.

-Two Old Chums will be remembered by Londoners as an entertainment devoid of the least approach to vulgarity, but brim full of fun from beginning to end. It is booked at the Grand for Monday and Tuesday next.

-The celebrated musical McGilbey family were announced to appear in Victoria Hall Oct. 20 and 21. Secretary Sayer, of the Y. M. C. A., received a letter this morning to the effect that owing to recent customs decisions of the Canadian Government the combination had to cancel all their Canada engagements.

-As a female equestrian it would be hard to beat Mrs. Thomas Black, of Winc-ham, either as a rider or with the lines. On Monday she started with her favorite pony to drive to London, stopping at Brucedale over night, and reached her destination on Tuesday. Her little daughter is also a born horsewoman. (By the Standard.)

-The rain of the previous day had a bad effect on business at the Police Court this morning. Wm. Snell, drunk, was fined $5 or twenty days, and Thomas Fogarty was discharged. Mary Shapine was remanded for six days on a charge of vagrancy.
William McKenna was bailed to keep the peace for using abusive language to C. Reed.

-The "At Home" attraction given by the ladies of St. George Church, London West, last evening sufficed to fill the church with a crowd who enjoyed unlimited refreshments and the sweet strains of the Italian band, together with pleasant social chatting. The affair was in every way a great success, and speaks well for the energy of the ladies.

-The annual meeting of the Wellington Street Methodist Church School took place last evening. Officers were elected as follows: Superintendent, A. Talbot; secretary, T. C. Toon; assistant secretary, Wm.
Southcott; treasurer, Jas. Sney; librarian, A. Gorman; assistants, Jas. Jeffery, Joe.

Case, Wm. Foot, H. Irwin; musical conductor, A. Jones; organist, Miss Booth.

Two lunatics named Kilfoi and Mc-Alpine, wandering away from the asylum about two months ago, and as they could not be found the authorities concluded they had met with some mishap. P. C. Nickle met them on Dundas street yesterday morning in a forlorn condition, and promptly returned them to the asylum. How they have lived in the meantime is a mystery.

-At the meeting of the Court of Revision called for last evening there were present: Chairman, Monie, Aldermen Skinner, Taylor and Anderson and Assessment Commissioner Grant. The petitions for and against the construction of a sewer on Dundas street, east of Adelaide, were read, and after some discussion were referred to the Engineer to report as to whether the necessary number were in favor of the work.

-The sudden death is announced of Miss Mary Scott, 44 Horton street. She was at work as usual yesterday in good health, but was taken sick and carried home, where she died this morning. Deceased was an estimable young lady and greatly beloved by her friends. She was a member of the Akin street Methodist Church, and the secretary of the London South circle of the Companions of the Forest. The members of the latter will attend her funeral in a body.

-St. Andrew's Church lecture room was well filled last evening, the occasion being a lecture by Rev. Dr. Munro Fraser, of Hamilton, on the subject "The Y. M. C. A." The Doctor is president of the Provincial Synod and he gave a vivid description of the aims and objects. The talk proved very interesting and was interspersed with many humorous anecdotes. At the close about 50 persons gave in their names as anxious to join the society in connection with the church. Another meeting will be held tonight to complete the work.

-Among the remarks made by the New York press on Pat Rooney, who appears at the Grand to-night, are the following: "The audience applauded again and again and shouted with delight at everything Pat Rooney was called upon to do, and he never permitted the fun to lag, for somehow or other he managed to be on the stage nearly all the time. He continually changes his make-up and his costumes; he sings several old songs, introduces a number that are new, and when he finally does manage to step it is under protest on the part of the audience. He was ably seconded by his little daughter, who is no less talented than her father."

Questions as to Murder Cases.
The following questions have been propounded by a number of city railway men.
An answer is given to each:
1. If a man were hanged for murder and afterwards his innocence were clearly established and it was proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that another man was the real murderer, what effect would the hanging of the innocent man have on the case of the guilty one?
-None. The conviction, etc., of the innocent man could not be given in evidence by the guilty one, who was not a party to the dissent.

2. Would the hanging of the man, though innocent, prevent the Crown under British law from taking any steps to prove the guilt of the other?
-Yes.

3. Is there any difference between English and Canadian law in this subject?
-No. What is the law or rule in regard to pardoning persons sentenced to be hanged? Is there a limit to the number that can be pardoned in a year?
-There is no limit to the number of persons being executed by the Crown.

4. When a prisoner turns Queen's evidence, is he allowed to go out free?
-Not necessarily. It is an arrangement by which the prisoner is not to be hanged by the Crown counsel for the offense of which he gives evidence, but might be for a mitigated or suspended sentence.

AT THE FAIR.

The great attraction to the left on entering the main building was the display of W. S.
Bryers' Barkwell, consisting of those fragrant and lasting perfumes, Podora and Windsor Bouquet, the great sensation being the ladies may be seen to throng around that the spray of the atomizer till they are almost saturated, then they pass on sweetly smiling at the happy possessors of those popular odors for which Mr. Barkwell received first prize at the Provincial Exhibition and so completely filled the Crystal Palace to the great admiration of all. Surrounding these are all of which are most harmoniously arranged in every particular and contained in an inclosed case, on either side of which it is to be seen elegant show bottles, towering to a great height and containing liquids of various heights and beautiful colors, but we would not do Mr.
Barkwell and especially our readers justice if we failed to mention Barkwell's Sure Cure Cure and Barkwell's Bronchial Balsam, they are well known and reliable articles, which he sends to all parts of the Province. A new one has been added—the new famous Diamond Tea—which promises, if possible, even greater success, and is really the greatest blood remedy ever offered to humanity.

CHANCERY SITTINGS.
SECOND DAY—TUESDAY.

The case of McIntyre against Mc-Naughton was settled to-day. The plaintiff Archibald, Margaret, Malcolm, John D., Catharine, Janet and Christian McIntyre are grandchildren of the late Malcolm Mc-Intyre, formerly of Metcalfe. The property in dispute was bequeathed to their father, but he died before the grandfather, whose death occurred on Dec. 30, 1880. Ten days before the death of a deed was made out conveying the property to another grandchild, an infant named John McNaughton. The executors—D.
McIntyre and Rev. J. Ferguson—pleaded that they were not interested and asked for protection from payment of costs. By the settlement the plaintiff, Malcolm McIntyre, gets the eastern half of the half lot, which is half of lot 22 in division 3 of Metcalfe, and the other part goes to the defendant, John McNaughton.

The case of John Denning against Sarah Gardiner and George Gilleland was an action brought by the executor of the estate of the late Hugh Eccles, of Metcalfe, to have a will construed and the costs paid to him out of the estate. The testator died in April, 1885, making a will by which he previously, giving his wife a life ownership in part of lot 17, in con. 2 of Metcalfe, which was 100 acres, the plaintiff to take it at her death. It was also provided that the children of John Gilleland, of Belfast, Ireland, should have $1,000, but if they were not found the amount was to go to Denning. The sister of the deceased came in for $100 and the residue of the estate.
The defendant Gilleland was a grandchild of the Gilleland mentioned in the will, and consequently his claim could not be entertained. Judgment was reserved both in regard to the bequest to Sarah Gardiner and the costs.

The action of James Barrett, of Byron, against Thomas Fulton, was referred to the Master at London to take account between the parties, the former action being consolidated with the present one. Costs were reserved. The plaintiff will have the immediate possession of the farm, the house to be reserved for the present for the defendant. The chattels covered by mortgage may be sold by plaintiff without prejudice to the defendant's rights under the replevin bond.
