A Needle in Her Hand. A Needle in Her Hand.

A Needle in Her Hand.

Mrs. Charles Hell, of Thedford, was washing some clothes about six months ago when she suddenly felt a sharp twinge of pain in her hand. She could not account for it and although suffering considerable pain she continued her work. This week a hard substance was folt at the region of the old pain, and further investigations revealed about two thirds of a needle which had run into her hand and broken off. The steel was extracted and now the hand is free from pain. The flosh around where the needle entered had been hard ever since the accident, and the feeling benumbed.

Country Hotel-Keepers Fined.

The charges against Mesers. C. Tupholme and John McLutyre, two hotel-keepers in the township of Lobo, of selling liquor without licenses, were given a hearing before Squires Edwards and McLutyre Wednesday at Komoka.

Tupholme was sworn in his own defense. He denied having sold any intexicante himself, and said that none had been sold in his house. He had only bought some beer for personal consumption. About a dozen witnesses were on hand to aid in the prosecution. Only two of these were called. The first stated that beer had been supplied him on several occasions at the defendant's hostlery, while the second had whetted his thirst a dozen times during the present month with forbidden liquids at the same place. The accused then decided to withdraw his plea of "not guilty." He was summarily fined $50 and costs or three months in jail Tupholme, "for reasons best known to himself," had summonsed a unmber of temperance people, including several ladies, as witnesses. Their testimony was not required.

McIntyre pleaded guilty of the accusa-quired.

McIntyre pleaded guilty of the accusation against him, and a similar judgment to that in the preceding case was meeted out.

Mr. J. B. McKillop conducted the prosecution and R. H. Dignan acted as legal defendant.

Both the accused with begiven time in which to pay their fines.

"The contention," observed Mr. McKillop, in conversation with an ADVERTISER reporter, "that the local option by-law is invalid in this instance is of no avail, as the prosebution was entered under the Liquor Lie nee Act."
