Condition of the Streets. To the Editor of The Advertiser: Is it not time that we had a street commissioner, who should devote his whole time and be held responsible for all street time and be held responsible for all street repairs and improvements? It is very evident that our city engineer has not the time at his disposal to properly attend to this department. I am not in favor of increasing the expenses of the city, and am certain a capable man for this position would be a great saving to the city. I would have it an elective office, so that he could be free from petty aldermanic interference. An example of how this department is at present conducted will go to show the necessity of such an officer.

A few years ago a very large amount was spent on Ridout street, from Maple to Dundas streets, to cut down the street in order that it might be properly drained. Now, what has happened? The money spent for this desirable purpose has been utterly wasted by again filling up the street with a most objectionable lot of mud and filth, taken from Talbot street, which has been gathering germs of dis-A few years ago a very large amount which has been gathering germs of dis ease for the last forty years, with the result that we have now in one block three cases of typhoid fever, and in a short time axle-deep in mud, which will all have to be carted off in the spring at a heavy expense.

heavy expense. I know not who is individually responsible for this outrage, and the board of sible for this outrage, and the board of works must therefore assume the responsibility. It seems to me our medical health officer should see that such things do not occur on our public streets. Talk about the sanitary condition of the city! How long can it be sanitary if such mismanagement is permitted to continue?

Reaches London in Good Health After His Bohemian Trip.

London, Sept. 12.-King Edward reurned to London Saturday, in splendid health, after taking the cure at Marienbad, Bohemia.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure.
