REFERENDUM TO BE BINDING ONE

Temperance People Will Never Stand for Any Other Kind, Says J. H. Bowman.

CONFERENCE AT TORONTO

Sentiment of Ontario Alliance Leaders Said To Favor Appeal to Province.

Speaking of the meeting of the Ontarthat the majority of the provincial majority of the provincial temperance men favored a referendum on the liquor question, Prof. J. H. Bowman, president of the Middlesex County Temperance Alliance, declared that any referendum submitted would have to be a binding one. "We have had referendums and lebiscites before in Ontario on the iquor question," said Mr. Bowman to The Advertiser. "The first time we had a majority of 82,000 in favor of the prohibition of liquor sales and on Burns (St. Peter's). the second time we had 96,000. Nothing ever came of them.

"I know that the temperance people other referendum be so worded that if Peter's, tied. a favorable majority is secured prohibition will become law as soon as it Collins (St. Peter's), Reta Smyth (St. is passed. There will be no more fruit- Mary's), tied.

GOES TO BRING BODY

Daughter Leaves for Washington to Secure Parent's Remains. A pitiful story is revealed in the Bessie Wolf, of this city, to Lake Bay, Washington, to bring back the body of her father, Morris Wolf. Mr. Wolf at one time was a wellknown business man of this city. Some eight years ago his health began to Cranston (honors), Frances Crawfail and, after spending a small fortune in seeking a cure, he decided to go west. He sold his business on Ferguson, Jim Fligg, Maggie Gras-Dundas street, east, and with his family sick (honors), Lucy Greensides, Lilmoved to Lake Bay. Washington, where moved to Lake Bay. Washington, where he settled on a farm he purchased. For a time the change seemed to be beneficial: The weather, being mild, the open air life had a most favorable effect on his health. The change, however, was only one of short duration. In March, 1911, he took sick again and died. Before his death he left instructions for his body to be buried on the farm. His wishes were carried

Soon after his family moved back to London and recently, when the farm was sold, it was decided to bring the body back to London.

His widow lives on Dundas street, where she keeps a grocery store. It was her little son David, who a few months ago was run over and killed at the Grand Trunk William street crossing. The body of the father will when it is brought to this city.

WANT SUNDAY CARS

City and Byron Residents Are After a Seven-Day Street Railway Accommodation.

The agitation for Sunday cars to Springbank which lately has cooled omewhat, has assumed red-hot proportions since the advent of the intense heat. Residents who swelter in the city on hot Sundays are loud in their complaints that no cars are allowed to run to the river Park on the first of the week. A similar feeling is brewing at the other end of the line, by residents of Byron, Kilworth and surrounding villages. The general sentiment seems to favor a service that will be available seven days out of seven.

The fact that London has only two parks within the city limits leads to the demand of the citizens, for the privilege of travelling to Springbank by electric car on Sunday. Many Londoners would summer at the river park but for the fact that there is no way of getting into the city on Sunday, except by auto or horse and rig. From statements made to The Advertiser from time to time, it would appear that an attempt will shortly be made to provide for the running of the cars to the park on that day. The number of persons taking advantage of the park without the service is certain proof that a Sunday service would pay from the com-It is considered pany's standpoint. probable that an attempt for the inception of the Sunday service will be gone ahead with within the inxt

A pretty but quite wedding took place at 447 Piccadily, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson when their daughter, Nettie Mabel, became the bride of James Alexander Nesbit, of Bassano, Alta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Craig, of the Church of St.

John the Evangelist. The house was tastefully decorated with roses and sweet peas. The bride who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white silk voile, trimmed with Irish point lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Margaret Davidson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a gown of white messaline, trimmed with lace. Chester Davidson was best man. Little Margaret Turner, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore point de soie over a blue silk dress, and carried a basket of The wedding march was played by Mrs. Harry Griffin, of Brantford.
