SIR W. MACKENZIE WILLS AN ESTATE OF TWO MILLION

Former President of C. N. R. Gave Specific Instructions in His Will.

WIND UP AFFAIRS

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 19.—The will of the late Sir William Mackenzie, railroad builder and former president of the Canadian Northern Railway and various traction concerns, disposes of an estate of between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 between his surviving children and grandchildren. The surviving children are J. M. MacAndrew, Mrs. C. S. Griffin, Mrs. Cyril Andrews, Mrs. Frank McCarthy, Countess De Lesseps and Mrs. Wm. Beaudry, all of Toronto, and Mrs. James Adams of Sao Paulo, Brazil. One share of the estate is divided between the children of the late Alexander W. Mackenzie, who died in 1908. In his last will and testament, made May 20, 1909, Sir William specifically stated that his property was to be divided among the surviving members of his family, as by law required as if he died intestate. Lady Mackenzie predeceased him in 1917, and a son, Roderick J. of Winnipeg, died in 1923.

The executors named are Sir Edmund Walker, R. J. Fleming, J. M. Mackenzie and Frank McCarthy. It is frankly stated that the inventory of the estate at the present time is approximate, and does not represent the gross amount of the estate. Sir William had interests in many parts of the world. It will be at least a year before the actual value of the estate is known.

Securities for money, including life insurance, cash on hand and in the bank constitute the largest item in the inventory—$566,000; real estate in Ontario, approximately $550,000 and outside of Ontario, $53,000. There is an item for bank and other stocks at $220,000, and household furniture $125,000.

Provision is made for the maintenance for members of the family who require it of the big family residence "Genevotino," one of the show places of Toronto.

French Parasite To Be Used In An Effort To Eliminate The Corn Borer In Ontario

New Wasp Reputed To Be the Deadliest Enemy Known to the European Borer.

RELEASE THOUSANDS

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Feb. 19.—Experiments of interest to farmers throughout the Dominion Parasite Laboratory in this city within the past few days in connection with the European corn borer suppression work. The experiments, which are being made under the direction of A. B. Baird of the Dominion entomological department, have to do with a new parasite wasp, wearing the scientific title of "Exochus," which was imported from France a few months ago.

A supply of the new parasites were sent here a few days ago and propagation work has already started, but Mr. Baird reports that it is improbable that the new parasites will be liberated in sufficient numbers inside of two or three years to successfully combat the borer. The new parasite is considerably larger than the tiny nemeton flies called habrobracon that were brought here last year from France, and have been liberated to the number of about 600,000, and Mr. Baird believes the newcomer will be a greater foe of the borer and habrobracon.

The female exochus are endowed by nature to fight the elusive borers, being provided with long tails that are used like a drill, boring into the heart of the cornstalk and stinging the borers. The sting kills the borer and the parasite then lays its eggs on the borer bodies and the young maggots feed on the borer bodies and develop into cocoons.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisulfed cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisulfed will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Multisulfed cocoon oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggists gives you Multisulfed. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.—Advt.

SERVICES WELL ATTENDED.

Special to The Advertiser.
Port Burwell, Feb. 19.—All church services Sunday were well attended. At St. Paul's Methodist Church at 11 a.m., Rev. W. Holly, the pastor, preached a sermon on "Character building." A good-sized congregation at the Baptist Church listened to an interesting discourse by the pastor, Rev. A. A. Fanjoy, on exhortation. Modern church methods were apt to leave all such work to the minister, and Mr. Fanjoy thought that this tendency was greatly to blame for the prevailing spiritual coldness. Miss Ruth Fee sang a solo, which was greatly appreciated.
