THOUSANDS KILLED AND WOUNDED

Forty Thousand Killed and Wounded in Ten Days Fighting

London, July 2.—Any remaining hope of averting a Balkan war is disappearing. Bulgaria has sent warning notes to Serbia and Greece, demanding a cessation of all aggressive movements within twenty-four hours. These notes are regarded as tantamount to an ultimatum.

A Belgrade despatch via Paris, tonight announces that the King of Serbia is presiding at a Council which is expected to decide to declare war on Bulgaria.

Greece, in notes to Bulgaria and the Powers, justifying her actions, accuses Bulgaria of treacherously attacking the Greeks and Serbians, in order to seize important territories and so place herself in an advantageous position in the coming negotiations for a settlement of the Balkan difficulties.

FIGHTING CONTINUES.

In the meantime fighting continues, according to Serbian advices, on a heavy scale, and the King of Greece, with his staff, has left Saloniki for the front to direct the operations personally.

The representatives of the Powers at all the Balkan Capitals are urgently pressing the respective Governments not to allow unfortunate occurrences to drag them into war.

Press despatches report that sanguinary fighting has occurred at Ovtchepele, where the Bulgarian losses were enormous and four thousand Bulgarians surrendered. In this engagement two thousand Serbians were killed or wounded.

According to the best information to be obtained at the Serbian Capital, the battle line extended from Kotchana, Istip and Strumozia towards Guevgeli, and thence onwards to the Gulf of Orfani.

The Bulgarians delivered their heaviest blows at Guevgeli, where they severed the Greece-Serbian line, and at Istip. They still hold Guevgeli, but were driven from Istip eventually with heavy losses, to Ovtchepele, where the Bulgarian porting forces, coming up in time, met the Bulgarians at Dermak and Petrishino, behind Kotchana, where a fierce fight ensued. The Bulgarians suffered heavily, the Serbians capturing an important height near Osgovtt, called Retkibukwe.

London, July 6.—After ten days of fighting, more severe and deadly in character than anything in the last Balkan war, a little light begins to break upon the hitherto obscure operations. In the first place, the Serbians have lost more men than in the whole previous conflicts, and semi-official statements issued at Belgrade have the appearance of an intention to prepare the public for news of a disaster.

Desperate fighting, with fluctuating fortunes, is proceeding along the Vardar and Bregalozza Rivers, which seem to be in favor of the Bulgarians. Important news has been received of the Bulgarian invasion of Serbia through Belgrade, about forty-five miles northeast of Nisn, Serbia's most important fortified town.

TERRIBLE LOSSES.

No indication is given of the strength of the Bulgarian column, at this point, but the Bulgarians claim to have defeated the Serbians and captured five guns and a quantity of other war material, and by the occupation of the passes, to have opened the road to Nish.

There was a heavy fighting also between the Serbians and Bulgarians to the south of Istip, and in the neighborhood of Kotchana. About two hundred thousand men were engaged, and the losses on both sides appear to be terrible.

Bulgaria's strategy appears to be to hold the Greeks in check, probably with comparatively small forces, while she deals with Serbia. This assumption, if correct, would explain the victorious advance in the Greek army.

Unconfirmed reports credit the Bulgarians with victories near Koprlin, giving them the key to Uskup, and with an outflanking movement from the south of Tabyra Lake, which would cut off the Greek retreat.

GREEK VICTORIES.

Salonki despatches continue to report Greek victories. The Greeks are said to have captured sixteen guns at Dermak, and to have captured thirty thousand to forty thousand wounded at Salonki, taking the town's accommodations and resort to the utmost.

A conservative estimate of the killed or disabled in last week's fighting fixes the number at from thirty thousand to forty thousand. Thousands of destitute refugees from the scene of the fighting are pouring into Salonki.

The Greeks have made wholesale charges against the Bulgarians of burning and pillaging all the villages they abandon, and of committing murders, mutilations and other horrors. More than four thousand refugees are concentrated at Nigrata and adjacent villages.

Sudden Death of Dr. Hibbert Woodbury

Halifax mourns the Death of One of Her Best Citizens.

(Halifax Chronicle, July 3)

Dr. Hibbert Woodbury, a foremost member of the dental profession of Nova Scotia, one of the best known men of Halifax, President of the city's Y. M. C. A., and an active worker in numerous religious, philanthropic and civic enterprises, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his residence, 225 Robie Street. The shock which the unexpected death of Dr. Woodbury occasioned to the people of Halifax in all walks of life will be great. Dr. Woodbury, who up to the hour of his death had been the energizing force behind a score of activities, had while quietly chatting with his family physician, stepped from life to death, without warning, without a word. Yesterday morning the Doctor arose complaining of a slight suffocation. His indisposition however, was not looked upon as anything serious, but as a precaution Dr. Reid was summoned. The physician called several times during the day. In his afternoon visitation, he found Dr. Woodbury apparently better but while talking with him, the Doctor threw back his head, and with no outward sign had passed away.

His death removes from Halifax and Nova Scotia one of the Province's most widely active men. To few does it come the honor to be enlisted in so many branches of human advancement, and to few belongs the unchallenged position in the estimation of the people held by the deceased. He was a man of an exceptional fine temperament, and if there is any idealism in the term of Christian gentleman, Dr. Woodbury exemplified it to the fullest human ability. If there be anything in the imperishable influence of character, the Dr. Woodbury is not dead, but lives forever in the life of his city and province.

WAS 70 YEARS OF AGE.

Dr. Woodbury was seventy years of age, the son of the late Dr. Frank Woodbury of Wilmet, Annapolis County. His wife, who survives him, was a Miss Weatherspoon of Grandville Ferry. Dr. Woodbury was a graduate of the Philadelphia Dental College. Coming to Halifax in 1879 he practiced in partnership with his brother, Dr. Frank Woodbury. Several years ago this partnership was dissolved, and Dr. Hibbert entered into another with his two sons, Doctors Ralph and William, forming the firm of Dr. H. Woodbury and Sons, with office at the corner of Spring Garden Road and Queen Streets. Beside these two sons, he is survived by a brother, his former partner, Dr. Frank Woodbury, the widely known Sunday School worker and one sister, Mrs. Bell, wife of the late Dr. Bell of Shelburne and Annapolis.

Dr. Bond of Grafton Street Methodist church, the late Doctor's pastor, when asked last night by the Morning Chronicle representative for some tribute to his late parishioner, said he had been in conference with him less than forty-eight hours before his death. He felt that Dr. Woodbury had been carrying a great load under the weight of which he had passed beyond. Dr. Woodbury and he had been warm personal friends for years. "The loss comes very acutely to me," said Dr. Bond, "but I do not know a man of my acquaintance more ready for sudden death than Dr. Woodbury. His loss is a very grievous one to this circuit."
