

	PAGE
Jerome Horsey, where with is also joined his journey overland from Mosco to Emden	202
XXXV. Pheodor Ivanowich, the new Emperors letter of privilege to the English merchants, 1586	211
XXXVI. The ambassage of M. Giles Fletcher to the Emperor of Russia, 1588	216
XXXVII. The booke of the Russe Common- Wealth by Giles Fletcher
Section I.
The description of the countrey of Russia, with the bredth, length, and names of the shires	219
Section II.
Of the soile and climate	221
Section III.
The native commodities of the countrey	224
Section IV.
The chiefe cities of Russia	230
Section V.
Of the maner of crowning or inauguration of the Russe Emperours	233
Section VI.
The style where with he is invested at his coronation	234
Section VII.
Their forces for the wars with their chief officers and their salaries	235
Section VIII.
Of their mustering and levying of forces, maner of armour, etc.	239
Section IX.
Of their marching, charging and other martial discipline	241
Section X.
Of their colonies and maintaining of their con- quests	243
Section XI.
Of the Tartars and other borderers to the country of Russia, etc.	246