I ZINGARI v. HAMILTON.

This match took place at Hamilton on Friday 4th inst., and resulted in a draw. The wandering tribe were unfortunate in losing Logan and Hall, who both failed to put in an appearance on the ground. Montgomery kindly filled one place, but the other was left vacant. I Zingari won the toss, and took the innings. Merritt only lasted a few overs, but when Ray and Morrison entered into partnership runs came quickly, and 76 was on the telegraph when the former unfortunately ran himself out. He had played a useful innings, but owing to want of practice showed scarcely his old form. Allan got a good 3 to leg, a double, and two singles, but his impatience led him (unwisely) to hit at Gillespie. Morrison played much more carefully than usual—a decided compliment to Hamilton's bowling; he had no lives. Kirchoffer played a good innings; he hit out several times, but got half his runs by placing his hits. The rear stand was made by Brown and Macdonell, the former of whom got his runs all to leg. Howard and Montgomery quickly retired. The Hamilton bowling and fielding was as good as usual, but the batting conquered it.

Hamilton began with her usual men, and 37 had been put up before they could be induced to part company. Morrison was bowling, and noticing the Doctor's disposition to go out of his ground, he balked and put down the wicket. Hope in the meantime had been missed by Merritt, and an easy chance of running him out was refused by Brown. He was finally captured by Morrison. Although his score was large and some of his hits safe, half were skied, and many were the times the ball shaved his wickets. Blomeley played in really good form. Montgomery bowled Sayers and Mulligan on very good length balls. Cummings contributed a useful 9. The others were run out foolishly. The Zingari fielding was loose, although allowance should be made for having only ten men while Hamilton fielded eleven. The full score and bowling analyses follow :
