

APPENDIX C

GUIDELINES FOR CONDUCTING
EVALUABILITY ASSESSMENTS IN EXTERNAL AFFAIRS

OBJECTIVES

Detailed evaluability assessments of specific program components are directed toward a number of inter-related objectives. It is assumed that all components are evaluable, at least in conceptual terms. The assessment is therefore primarily concerned with questions of "how" rather than "if". The specific objectives of this exercise may be identified as follows:

- (a) to assess the extent to which a program component is evaluable;
- (b) to develop a broad outline of the recommended approach and scope of evaluation, and to identify major questions or issues to be addressed;
- (c) to provide a resource estimate for the recommended evaluation approach, and also for a small number of other approaches of different nature and scope;
