The way he has treated her.

One story is that when she got home from attending a small royal bail in Buckingham Palace, to which she was invited alone, she found that the porter at Grosvenor House had orders from the Duke not to admit her. This story aroused great indignation, for although the Duchess is not particularly popular as her manuers are reacher abrunt and BOSTON, April 6.—(Special.)—Miss Evlyn Delatre Street, youngest daughter of the late Hon. Justice Street of Toronto, Canada, became the bride of William Micke Boykin of this city, a son of the late Dr. Thomas J. Boykin of Baltimore, Md.

The ceremony was performed at the Hotel Somerset. The Rev. Markham W. Stackpole officiated. Miss Martha Peabody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peabody of Highfield, Milton, who will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Constance Zerrahn in Milton on Saturday, was the bride's only attendant.

The Duke is a poor hostess, all the society women say that such treatment is unpardonable.

The Duke's friends defend him on the strength of a boy and girl engagement, from which when he came of age he asked to be released. The result is that they never have been happy.
