CANADIAN RED CROSS

IS DOING FINE WORK

Nearly Forty-Nine Thousand Par- cels Sent to Sick and Wounded.

MEN'S WANTS VARIED

Chewing Gum of German Origin Was Rejected With Emphasis.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

LONDON, June 12.—Nearly forty-nine thousand parcels have been sent by Canadian Red Cross to the sick and wounded in hospitals. The contents were not chosen at random but according to each man's request.

A recent list includes notepaper, toilet articles, mirrors, pipes, tobacco, socks, sport boots, canvas shoes, stylo pens, books, sweaters, khaki shirts, underwear, fruit, flowers, puzzles, mouth organs, playing cards and sweets.

Comfort bags have achieved such fame as to create an embarrassing demand. Most articles thus sent out come in generous measure from Red Cross branches in Canada. Others are purchased with money which comes here as thanks offering or marked specially to be devoted to comforts.

This makes no account of the huge numbers of newspapers sent Canadian troops, which are sent with such unstinted liberality from all parts of Canada. A certain shortage is experienced just now of papers from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Kingston. As protest has just come from some men against the present chewing gum which they found it came from Canada, had been made in Germany. The recipients to quote a structural expression "spewed this out of their mouth" now sigh for the real Canadian article.

SOCIETY

Conducted by Mrs. Edmund Phillips

The garden party to be held at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, under the distinguished patronage of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught on Saturday, June 17th, will be in aid of the Princess of Wales Fund of the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the lovely, the soft ivory color of the stone pillars surrounding the dome. The lighted shrines arranged with pink gladioli and ferns and the majestic altar draped with white flowers and the lace altarpiece, the magnificent crimson and gold robes altogether made a very impressive and beautiful scene, further enhanced by the fine music of the organ and the solo in the service sung by a young man with a very sweet voice.

The bride, who was brought in by her father, wore a very plain but elegant gown of white tulle, a long train of satin from the shoulders and a full skirt of pleated tulle. The bride's hair was styled in waves and she wore a crown of white flowers and leaves. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and lilies and wore the gifts of the bridesmaids, a platinum and diamond bracelet and a ring set with a large diamond. Her bridesmaids were her young sister, Miss Margaret Whitmore, a sister of the groom, Miss Margaret Whitmore. They were gown in white tulle with a long train and a full skirt. The bridesmaids wore white gloves and carried white bouquets. The groom wore a tuxedo and a white shirt with a blue bow tie. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Whitmore, who read the wedding vows and pronounced the couple man and wife. The reception was held at the home of the bride, where a large number of guests were present. The refreshments were served by the bridesmaids and the groom's family. The party was a very successful one and the bride and groom were very happy.
