

The Astronomical and Physical Society of Toronto.

PAPERS READ DURING 1891.

The Great Red Spot on Jupiter.....	Elvins	4
The Position of the Lunar Orbit.....	Phillips	4
The Transit of Mercury, 1891.....	Lindsay	5
Ocean Tides, Currents, and Winds.....	Ridout	7
A Plea for the Common Telescope.....	Lumsden	10
Transits of Mercury and Venus.....	Turnbull	11
Planetary Rotation.....	Elvins	11
Imponderable Matter.....	Pursey	13
Solar Disturbances and Terrestrial Magnetism.....	Shearmen	19
Progress of Astronomy: Historical Sketch.....	Ridgeway	19-22-24
Telluric Lines in the Spectrum of Mercury.....	Winder	19
Amateurs' Study of Double-Stars.....	Miller	22
Electricity and its uses in Medicine.....	Foster	23
Electricity and Electrical Units.....	Bell	25-27
Discovery of Variable Stars (Letter).....	Gore	26
Moving Matter, II.....	Elvins	28
Lunar Parallax.....	Lindsay	36
Partial Solar Eclipse of Oct. 20th, 1892.....	Lindsay	37
Astrolabes, including that of Champlain.....	Harvey	44
The Face of the Sky for November.....	Lumsden	44
The Pleiades.....	Gore	46
Photochromy.....	Harvey	52
Solar Heat.....	Morrison	56
New Nebulæ.....	Denning	69
Annual Address.....	Elvins	73

NOTE.—Authors alone are responsible for the views expressed, or for facts stated in Papers, or synopses of Papers, in this Report.