Notes. Maryville Hockey team defeated Sussex septette 7 to 6 in Fredericton night.

News of the Boxes. Bedford has a match for Washington, which borders on the championship order, when Honey Melody and Parker meet for 12 rounds.

Wood, a clever Fall River light, will meet Fighting Joe Hyland in round bout at Fall River tonight.

Francisco, Feb. 21—Odds on Frank us over "Saloon" Petrovsky, whom the suburb man is to meet in a twenty round match tomorrow, opened today at 10 with little money in sight from the river of the blue jacket. Both are ready to be in the pink of condition.

Palmer and Bombardier Wells have a articles to fight in San Francisco by 4. Palmer is an aspirant for Jack's title.

Know a Lot About Dogs. (Boston Globe.) A company of men advocating the high ideals in the dog show game, and primarily for the sports sake, make the Eastern Dog Club, which aims to give this city one of the greatest exhibitions at the all-breed show in April at Mechanic's Building in the history of Boston bench exhibits. Already there has been offered a list of special prizes that includes 90 or more 410 cups and several $50 and $25 trophies, and the latest is a $100 trophy just offered by a friend of the bird dog.

This prize is for the best pointer or setter, and will be won outright. The offering is to secure a bona-fide bird dog on the bench. No dog will be eligible unless it has been shot over at least two seasons in the United States of Canada, and has at least 25 birds to its credit. No dog will be allowed to compete for this special unless a certificate duly attested by witnesses accompanies the entry. Needless to say owners of the hunting dogs will meet a great sport to land this prize. Money prizes of $40, $20 and $15 have just been added to the special, those for the owners or handlers having the largest entries.

The men back of the show movement are well known in Boston. George S. West, of Chestnut Hill, identified with banking interests, is the president of the Eastern Dog Club and the All-Breed Club of New England. He was a Harvard athlete and earned his "I" in the game with Yale in 1909. He has bred and owned many track and field champions, one of the best of which being Gamecock Dazler. He is also interested in the whip-pet dog.

James L. Little of Brookline, vice-president, is a kennel of the most noted Scottish terriers in America, among them Newcastle Vindicator and Newcastle Flashlight. He has shown dogs for many years.

W. Prescott Whitcomb of Rosbury, son of the late Governor Whitcomb, treasurer of the club, has a very large kennel of splendid siredals, Irish and Manchester terriers, one of the best being Ch. Lomero Sorcerer. Not long ago he purchased the Irish terrier ch. Thurncroft Sportsman and the imported siredal, Soudan Siamouli.

T. Dickson Smith of Weyland, the club secretary, after having had a most successful career with bull terriers, is now trying to popularize Manchester terriers. His English Terrier won at New York and Boston shows. He is service-president of the Bull Terrier Club of America, and his champion Edgewood Dorothy was defeated only once in four years. He is regarded as one of the best judges of the bull terrier in the United States.

L. Loring Brooks, of South Sudbury, one of the best committeemen, is president of the Irish Terrier Club of America, owner of the Irish kennels, and one of the oldest men in the game. He is the Irish terrier specialist at the Country Club last spring.

Arnold Lavender is one of the best judges of the English bulldog in the country, and is a judge at the show. He is a member of important committees in the club, and no doubt he will have one of the largest and most formidable entries. The 1910 match between his French bulldog, Nowal Nabob, and his father, ch. Nellie Gamin, will be one of the features of the April Boston show.

Do Your Hands Chap? For badly chapped hands, cold cracks, frost bites, etc., Zam-Buk is the best known balm. Wash the hands or part affected in water as hot as can be borne. Dry with a soft towel, and then smear the Zam-Buk well over the part. If it is the hands, wear a pair of old gloves overnight. By morning the pain will be gone. Then use Zam-Buk a few more times and the cracks will be healed.

Mrs. W. M. Ballant, of Port Hawkesbury, N. S., writes:—"Some time ago my hands were very badly chapped. Ordinary ointments did not heal them, and I was advised to try Zam-Buk. To my great delight, it healed my hands completely."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for piles, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price.

An Ancient Schooner (Portland, Me., Express) The second oldest schooner in the United States is now tied up at Red Beach, nine miles from Calais, her home port. She is the Hiram, and she was built twelve years later than the famous old Polly. Her keel was laid down at Biddeford in 1810, and since she was launched the little two-masted schooner has led a strenuous life up and down the Atlantic coast.

Although the vessel has been repaired time and again, she still has her original keel and bottom, which are in good condition. She is 69.5 feet long, has a gross tonnage of 67 tons, and carried a crew of three. For many years after she was built, the Hiram was commanded by members of the Cook family of that city, and she is now owned by Elmer McDonald, of Red Beach.

To meet the requirements of persons not wishing to go to the expense of registering a letter, but desiring merely to have proof of posting, the Postmaster General has made by the arrangements have been made by the Postmaster General of Great Britain, whereby since October 2 a certificate of posting may be obtained for one cent on application at any post office.

TY COBB TALKS OF HIS BEST DIAMOND FEATS

Tells the Fans What He Considers to Be His Best Plays in Sensational Baseball Career

Ty Cobb is credited with the following talk which is in response to a series of questions put to him. "The editor of the Baseball Magazine has supplied me with a list of questions which he assures me the great American people would like to have answered. Some of the questions are a bit personal and such as I would prefer to let someone else answer or dodge altogether, but ball players are after all a type of public servant and as such are in a way responsible to the public for their records on the diamond. As I rate the public through the pages of the Baseball Magazine, seems to have men up for cross-examination, so I will try to answer some of its questions at least as well as I can.

It is pretty hard for a ball player to write about the greatest plays he ever made. If he didn't make an occasional good play he would have to get out of the business, because that is what he is hired for. And a player in the ordinary run of luck makes so many plays that he knows are foolish and gets so many callous from his manager and fellow team mates, as well as the public that he is perhaps entitled to a little satisfaction when he has done something slightly above his average work. In any case, since the public has asked me this question, I will pardon me for trying to answer as briefly and simply as I can.

In a game at Cleveland in 1909 I was fortunate enough to score under circumstances that were a bit unusual. Detroit was one run behind when I came to the bat in the ninth inning. I hit sharply to short, who lagged on the throw, so that I fell by first base. I was safe and immediately afterward stole second. I saw that the throw to second was bad, so I kept on to third. Here I decided to take a chance on a bad throw and started for home. As I expected the throw to third was hurried and a trifle wild, so I managed to beat out the throw home by a hair, thus tying the score. Detroit finally won the game.

In Philadelphia in the season of 1910 I was on first when Delehanty singled. By doing the hurry-up act, I managed to get home on this, dodging Thomas at the plate by a very close play.

In the same city in 1911 I had great luck in base-stealing on one occasion. The in bank stock and farm lands, I have been interested in the automobile business but I shall probably not again be engaged in that enterprise as that particular field is small in the south, which is my home, have tried the stage and frankly do not like it. It is more exhausting and nerve-racking, professional baseball, and that is saying something.

Mrs. Savard Tells How They Cured Her Kidney Disease From Which She Had Been a Sufferer for Many Years

St. Simons, Doris, Charlesville Co., Quebec, Feb. 21—(Special)—One whose name has suffered from the blessings of perfect health. The joy that it brings into every day. They always cure Kidney Disease and Kidney Pills had done for a similar sufferer. She always cured them a trial. Six boxes cured me completely.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for Mrs. Savard, have done for thousands of other sufferers in Canada. The daily papers tell of cures made by them every day. They cure Kidney Disease and Kidney Pills had done for a similar sufferer. She always cured them a trial. Six boxes cured me completely.

AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN: WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

Young-Adams Company in St. Elmo.

The familiar story of the south, St. Elmo, by Augustus Evans Wilson was played at the Opera House last evening by the Young-Adams Company. It was a most interesting and well acted play. The play is a story of a man who is a slave and who is a man of color. The play is a story of a man who is a slave and who is a man of color.

It remained for the Ramboli Trio to claim the topmost favor with last night's audience. These talented operatic singers will long be remembered for their artistic merit which marks a new point of perfection in the maritime provinces. Their selections were as follows: The Anvil Chorus from Il Trovatore; the Toreador Song, from Carmen in solo and trio, and the sextette from Lohengrin. St. Elmo was repeated at the matinee today and again this evening together with the same programme of extra vaudeville attractions.

New Singer Makes a Hit. George Irving, the new singer who opened at the Gem on Monday, has been pleasing his audience at every show, and yesterday, in his singing of "The Roarers," was particularly well received. He has a voice of much power and sweetness, and from the very start of his engagement has been creating admirers among the patrons of the Gem. In addition to this, yesterday, there was the first presentation of a strong romantic drama by the Selig Co., "The Mate of the Alden Bessie," a story of two castaways on a lonely island, their romantic love affair, and exciting adventures after being washed ashore. The Biograph Co. presents a tender home story, "A Sister's Love," portraying the devoted manner in which a true-hearted girl kept a promise even though she sacrificed her life to do so. This playlet was exceptionally well acted. Plenty of good clean fun was offered in the Eosany musical comedy, "A Ragtime Love Affair," which abounded in comical incidents of a nature bound to raise a laugh. The orchestra also had a choice new programme.

Whenever the employees of the Perry Mill at Ferrisville, Mass., want a drink of water they are obliged to go into Connecticut to get it. The mill is half in one state and half in the other, so the men have merely to cross the room to get their drink. The new Massachusetts law forbidding the use of a common drinking cup is responsible for the keeping of the water pail in Connecticut.
