R. GEORGE H. TOWNSEND, Sydney, N. S., Electrician, and Returned Soldier, Who Recovered Health and Strength After a Protracted Siege of Illness That Was Rapidly Undermining His Constitution.

Mr. George H. Townsend, an electrician employed by one of Canada's largest steel plants, found, like many other returned men, that his health had been greatly impaired by the hardships he had undergone in the service of his country. Upon his return from overseas, he rapidly developed chronic constipation and rheumatism. After seven months' continuous suffering from these painful and distressing complaints, during which nothing seemed to give him benefit, Mr. Townsend tried Dreco, After taking two bottles of this splendid body builder he received such relief as to convince him of its outstanding merit. The he received such relief as to convince him of its outstanding merit. The story of his suffering and subsequent recovery should be read by every man who has suffered similarly, for Dreco will give them just the same relief it gave to Mr. Townsend.

He says, "I suffered seven months with rheumatism. I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to go to the bottom of my troubles. I have constantly taken laxatives since my service overseas and I have had chronic constipation and severe pains through

The territory play was evenly divided but the home team managed to sag the net more often. Jack Twaddle, of Amherst, refereed the game. There were about 2,000 spectators present. H. Nice, March 20—(Associated Press)
—Following her overwhelming victory over Mrs. Mallory here today, Mile-Lenglen said it was improbable that she would ever play in the United States again. She has received an offer of £40 for an exhibition match at Durham, England, and another of 200,000 francs for twelve matches in America.

"The Americans," she said, "must lose sight of the fact that I would forfeit my standing as an amateur if the case for the defense was closed.

"Five years ago when I was first married, I had wonderful energy. I could be on the go all day long without feeling the least bit fatigued. I had a great appetite and could eat anything. I weighed 147 pounds. I used to be busy every minute of the day and, when the day was over, I could go to bed and never waken once during the night. Thirteen months ago my first baby was born. After that my energy seemed to leave me. I was tired all the time. I had to force myself to do my household duties. Instead of being a pleasure as formerly, these duties became a real task. I lost all desire for food and nothing would tempt me. I had to make myself eat. I would go to bed at night and toss from side to side for hours at a time. After a while I would doze off only to find that I had been sleeping for ten or fifteen minutes. Naturally when morning came, not having slept, I started the day completely tired out. I was shaky and nervous. The least noise would startle me and make my heart race along. I could see that my husband was worried. I was losing weight every week and had already lost 54 pounds. I tried all kinds of tonics, but they didn't help me. One night, a night I shall never forget because it started me on the way to health and happiness again, my husband brought in a bottle of Carnol. A friend told him that Carnol had saved his wife's life, so he insisted upon my trying it. Six weeks after I began taking Carnol, my weight increased from 93 pounds to 158, an increase of 65 pounds. And, am I well these days? Every morning I fairly jump out of bed ready to tackle anything and every minute of the day is a joy to me now."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 8-622
