At the Charlotte street Salvation Army baracks last night Lieut.-Col. Pugmire gave an address on "One Thousand Miles by Land and Sea." Colonel Pugmire in opening told of his conversion, some twenty years ago in a little town in England and his finding his way to the international training homes in London, the great field of Salvation Army work. He described briefly the prevalence of crime in the great metropolis. In London there are estimated to be 90,000 criminals and 80,000 fallen girls.

THE DAY OF SADNESS

Sunday a Remarkable Day in the Jewish Calendar.

Synagogue to be Dark-Jerusal elm's Destruction Will Be Recalled-About the Fast

Hebrews in St. John, together with members of the orthodox Jewish church throughout the world, will observe on Sunday the Black Fast or the Fast of Ab, the saddest day in the whole calen-The Fast of Ab occurs on the ninth of the fifth month of Ab, a month which corresponds roughly with the end of July and the beginning of Authe two destructions of Jerusalem, th ed in the Babylonish captivity; the second by Titus when the Jewish na tion was scattered over the face of the earth.

ton was scattered over the face of the earth.

Some historians declare that this day is the anniversary of five great calamities of the Jews. Mishnah speaks of these five national calamities. The first of these, he says, was the time when the Israelites were doomed to stay in the wilderness. The second calamity was the destruction of Jerusalem under Nebuchadnezzar; the third, the destruction of Jerusalem under Titus; the fourth and fifth, the fall of Bethar and the drawing of the plow over the Holy City and over the temple a year later in order to turn the place into a Romish colony. The ninth day of Ab has since been like the day of Atonement.

of Atonement.

The day is observed scrupulously from sunset of the eighth day till nightfall of the ninth. The synagogues are darkened so that the light of the are darkened so that the light of the synagogues are within. Only a nightfall of the ninth. The synagogues are darkened so that the light of the sun cannot penetrate within. Only a few dim candles are lighted, the ornaments are all removed and the ark stripped of its curtains. The sermon consists of reading from the book of Lamentations and dirges describing the fall of Jerusalem and the scattering of its people. These are conducted in a low mournful tone by the cantor. Instead of in their allotted places, the custom in the old days was for the worshippers to be seated on the ground. The more devout put ashes on their heads, pulled off their shoes and wept and sobbed as the story of the destruction of Jerusalem was told and redold. To them the catastrophes were the catastrophies of yesterday. a present pain, and this sense of personal berevenent was one of the most striking phases of the whole day. the churches where a number of the older Jews of the orthodox religion adhere closely to these old customs, this ceremony is carried out. There will be simple ceremony in the orthodox charch here but it will not go to any extremes. The ceremony will not begin the evening before and the day of the Black Fast will mean a partial abstinence from food. The ceremony, which includes the observances of the evening before and the day of the Jewish Sabbath, which cannot be a day of mourning.

Ordinarily the last meal before the heliday consists of one course, after which an egg dipped in ashes is eaten and with the secting of the sun begins the 24 hours of fast. But for three weeks previous the approach of the day of mourning has been observed in the spectos of the world. On the seventeenth day of the Jewish month of Tammuz, which fell on July 12 this year, there is a fast day and the three weeks that follow give name to the whole period, since the period is known as "The Three Weeks." This marks the date when the hordes of Nebuchadneszar invested Jerusalem and began the slege which is recorded in the Book of Kings.

As the three weeks advance the lines fighten. Mast is forbidden after the first day of the Jewish month of Ab, that is eight days before the final holi, that is eight days before the final holi.

first day of the Jewish month of Ab, that is eight days before the final holiday. Wine may not be used at all. These rules do not hold good on Sundays, however. Finally, when the great day comes, there is absolute fast and not even the books of the law may be read, since these books give pleasure to the reader.

READ LAMENTATIONS.

READ LAMENTATIONS.

The book of Lamentations may be read morning and evening in the synagogue on this day, the people chanting after their cantor the mournful tale of a scattering people. Besides the book of Lamentations, there is another book, the book of Kinth. The reading of this book has a powerful effect. It reviews the ancient fire of the Hebrew race. Its story is that of old persecution, the wrongs suffered at the hands of the Roman legionaries which began the endless chain of Jewish persecution which paused so recently at Kishineff and may begin again in any Russian city tomorrow. Small wonder it is that the recitation of such fearful wrongs has been the lot of the Jewish people and arouses within them a latent grief. A story from the book of Kinoth marks the present poignancy of these legends of centuries ago. It is known all over the world by every orthodox Jew and will be rehearsed again on Sunday for those who do not already know. This story tells of one of the Roman tyrants who summoned before him two learned Hebrew rabbis and commanded them to tell him the story of their Bible. They began and the tyrant was at first much interested, but as he grew weary, he finally interrupted them at the close of the story of the treatment accorded Joseph by his brothers.

"Your ancestors did Joseph a great wrong," roared the tyrant. "Now, I propose to avenge the wrong done him upon your bodies." Then he devised torments for the rabbis and they were all slain. The stories of these tortures and the stories of these are sowerfully told, that the heard of Mgr. Merry del and are all told in the "Kinoth." They were fearful tortures and brave victims and the stories of these are sowerfully told, that the hepty reading the stories of these are cowerfully told, that the hepty reading the stories of these are cowerfully told, that the hepty reading the stories of these are cowerfully told, that the hepty reading the stories of these are cowerfully told, that the hepty reading the stories of these are cowerfully told, that

CARDINAL SARTO OF VENICE ELECTED POPE.

The Ballot Cast This Morning Resulted Is a Fine Boat and will be a Credit In His Election. He Was Not Prominently Mentioned.

But Is Said To Be None The Worse of That. He Will Be Known as Pius X, and has Already Assumed Office.

The News Was Well Received in Rome.

ROME, August 4.—Cardinal Macchi, Secretary

At ten minutes after twelve this afternoon, Pope Plus X. appeared inside the balcony of the Basilicia and blessed the populace, amid the acclamation of the enormous crowd assembled upon the plazza. Cardinal Giuseppe Sarto was born at Riese, province of Venice, June 2, 1835. He is very learned in the ecclesiastical doctrines, is modest, energetic, administrator and organizer, a patron of the arts and his seriousness always has been proverbial.

Pope Leo, in a conversation with Father Perosi, the Italian composer, once said, in speaking of Cardinal Sarto:

"Hold him very dear, Perosi, as in the tuture he will be able to do much for you. We firmly believe he will be our successor."

He has been known for many years as one of the greatest preachers in the church.

is the archbishops house from the English college at Rom'e formally an nouncing the fact of Sarto's election. The churchmen at Westminster expressed the opinion that the new Pope is a quiet ecclesiastic who has not mixed much in politics and probably will pursue a policy designed to harmonize conflicting interests. The few who are acquainted with him say he is highly esteemed by the Italian government and was a close friend of King Humbert. There was/much interest expressed as to what title he would assume. This was announced to be Plus X.

Pope Plus X, has expressed his desire not to dissolve the conclave until this evening. It is supposed that the cardinals will, therefore, remain in their present quarters until about 7 p. m.

Announcement of Cardinal Sarto's election was received with wild enthusitsm on the part of thousands of persons who had gathered outside St. Peter's. The scene within the basilica when the Pope pronounced his benediction was one of unparalleled excitement and enthusiasm. Thousands of persons within the cathedral cheered and waved their hats. All is now quiet.
