STEAMSHIP AGROUND ON WAADAH ISLAND

1,800 Ton Steamer Watson
Grounds on Reef in Heavy Fog—Carried 92 Passengers Who Were Unharmful.

Seattle, Wn., Sept. 2.—The Alaska Pacific Steamship Company's 1,800 ton steel steamer Watson went aground on the reef off Waadiah Island near Neah Bay shortly after 11 o'clock last night and now lies in a dangerous position on a rock. Although there was a heavy fog, the sea was comparatively calm and all of the ninety-two passengers aboard the vessel, which was bound from Seattle for San Francisco and Los Angeles were taken ashore in small boats unharmful. The passengers are safely camped on the rugged little island awaiting the arrival of rescuers who are hurrying toward them.

That Captain Griffin believes that his craft is in no great danger and that he landed his passengers only to be on the safe side, is indicated by a wireless report received from the Watson today, saying that an effort would be made to float the vessel at high tide. The Watson's sister ship is bound from San Francisco has been instructed to give her aid.

Voting on Bermuda Trip Contest Beginning to Show Large Increase

Booth to receive the votes, and it will be possible for anyone to take out a subscription right then and there and deposit the vote without leaving the grounds.

The list of candidates and their vote standing will be posted at the Booth every day that those interested may see just how their favorite stands.

There was a steady stream of voters going into the ballot box in The Standard and New Star office yesterday, and as a result our readers will find that nearly all the fair contestants have a large number of votes. New candidates are starting to work daily and they announce that they will be represented by a large number of votes during the coming week. It is surprising how many friends the contestants have got. Inquiries are being made over the telephone every day and never before has any newspaper in New Brunswick caused so much interest among readers.

Every vote you clip from your paper will count for your friend, but the certificates given with subscriptions are what tell the most, and these cause the figures opposite the names of the contestants to go upwards in leaps and bounds. Get your friends to subscribe and give you the votes. First thing you know you will be at the top with the leaders. It is just the time to start. START NOW.

There are not sure things in this contest. The nearest approach to it is that the lady who devotes most of her time in securing paid in advance subscriptions will far outdistance her short sighted sister contestant who devotes so large a share of her time and effort in gathering in "singles" as the coupons clipped from the paper are known. The single coupons are of great value as a help, but the leaders are working for subscriptions chiefly—the coupons are secondary. The men politically bent are not more busily occupied with matters relating to the great national affairs than are the Bermuda girls, and their supporters in this their own special election and its duties and responsibilities. The reward is great in satisfaction and enjoyment, and will amply compensate the effort.

We would like to remind our subscribers that it is useless to give votes to ladies who have not sent in their application blank, duly signed. The rules require any contestant to send in a properly filled blank, a copy of which can be obtained at this office, or will be found in this issue. Those who have not already done so should send this in as otherwise the votes are lost.

It is in the contest news that the readers are looking for when the paper arrives at their doors each day. As soon as the papers are off the press there is a rush to get a look at the vote table to see what the previous day did in the candidates' standing. The interest from now on will grow apace with the vote, which promises to be both large and effective. Unthought of surprises will be of daily occurrence. A lady may be at the bottom of the list today and in two days she may be one of the leaders. The checker board will change often, hopes will rise and fall as the various contestants near the goal.

Another thing that should not be lost sight of in the strife for victory is that in the coming weeks it is better to keep near the leader. The contestant who has the most votes at the bottom of the list today and in two days she may be one of the leaders. The checker board will change often, hopes will rise and fall as the various contestants near the goal.

They like to have it said that they voted for the winner. So will a contestant's vote be affected. The vote getters will be the winners of the tour. BE A WINNER.
