Around the City

One Common Drunk.

Only one common drunk was arrested by the police during the last 48 hours and that was a colored woman from the West Side. In addition to her tag she carried a bottle of gin and a bottle of perfume.

Charged with Theft.

Detective Frank Hanrahan of the Halifax force arrived in the city Saturday morning, and left on the night express, having in custody Daisy Smith, a colored girl, who is wanted in Halifax on the charge of theft of clothing valued at $250.

Drunk and Resisting.

About three o'clock yesterday morning Police Constable McInnis had his hands full in handling William Sharkey on the north side of the King Square. Sharkey was drunk and in an ugly mood for when placed under arrest he resisted violently. While resisting about the street fighting the officer the policeman's clothing was torn badly. In addition to the charges of drunkenness and resisting, Sharkey is charged with damaging the officer's clothing to the extent of twelve dollars.

St. John Boys' Success.

George Miles, son of W. R. Miles, of this city, and a student of the Rothesay Collegiate School, was successful in making the highest marks of any student in the Dominion of Canada on the matriculation examination into the Royal Naval College at Halifax. Wilfred Richardson, son of His Lordship Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton, and a student of Rothesay Collegiate School, came second in the Dominion, while Andrew West, also a student at Rothesay, came seventh. These examinations are held annually at different centres for the purpose of matriculating into the Royal Naval College at Halifax and as there are a large number of students taking them each year it is indeed an honor to win the distinction of making the highest marks in the Dominion.

ST. JOHN SOLDIERS FIGURE IN EMPIRE'S GLORY ROLL

Frank W. Withers, of Hazen Street, Killed in Action — W. J. Swetka and Elmer Belding Among St. John Lads Wounded — Major Frank Magee's Wounds.

Many St. John homes were made and yesterday by the receipt of telegrams to the effect that loved ones had been killed and wounded in defense of their country, and the right of the smaller nations to live and work out their own destiny, without interference from their bigger neighbors. While those who have loved ones taken from them mourn, they have the satisfaction of knowing that they suffered in a righteous cause and the sympathy of the whole city goes out to them in their bereavement.

Frank W. Withers.
George E. Withers, 105 Hazen St., superintendent of letter carriers, of the city, received a telegram from Ottawa, yesterday, conveying the sad news that his son, Frank W., had been killed in action on May 25. L. Corp. Withers was one of the first men in St. John to answer the call for volunteers and enlisted in the corps of Guides which Major Messervy organized. On account of there being more men than could be sent across with the first contingent, the Guides corps was disbanded at Valcartier and he joined the Royal Canadian Regiment. He was stationed for a time at Halifax and then his corps was sent to Bermuda, where they spent a year. In the fall of last year they were sent to France where they have been doing good work ever since. L. Corp. Withers was one of the group leaders of the scouts for the R.C.R., and one of the best in the regiment. The sympathy of the citizens of this city will go out to his parents in their loss. Mr. Withers received yesterday a letter from the Prime Minister and government a letter of condolence on the death of their son, which was much appreciated.

Major Frank C. Magee.
A cable message from Dr. Murray MacLaren, London, states that the injuries to Major Frank C. Magee consist of a slight wound in the head and a wound in the abdominal wall.

A telegram from Ottawa states that the wounds were severe and that the wounded officer had been admitted to No. 14 hospital, Boulogne, France, on June 5th.

Elmer Belding.
A. M. Belding received word yesterday from Ottawa that his son Elmer had been admitted to the London County Hospital, Epson, suffering from gunshot wounds in the forearm and knee. Since last January he has been an N.C.O. in the signalling section of his battalion and his many friends in the city will hope that his wounds will not be serious.

William J. Swetka.
George Swetka received word from Ottawa yesterday that his son, Pte. William J. Swetka, had been admitted to No. 13 General Hospital, Boulogne, on June 3, suffering from wounds in the left arm. His friends will hope that the wounds are not of a serious nature.

Private Dick.
The wife of Private Dick, Erin St., was another who received word yesterday that brought sorrow to the home. A telegram was received from Ottawa that her husband has been wounded, full particulars to be forwarded later.

SUSSEX WILL BE CENTRE OF MILITARY ACTIVITY

The 104th Will Mobilize There Today and Continue Training Until They Leave for Overseas — Today's Big Fete and Carnival at Seaside Park.

After weeks of suppositions and expectations the members of "C" company of the 104th Battalion stationed at Fredericton, received definite orders to be ready to entrain for their summer camp at Sussex this morning.

"D" company, which has been at Woodstock during the period of mobilization, will proceed to Fredericton to join "C" company, and both will leave by a special train for Sussex. The people of Kings county will be glad to learn that the 104th will remain at Sussex until they sail overseas.

The 145th and 146th Battalions now stationed at Moncton will probably camp at Sussex until they have been recruited up to full strength. The reason for this move can be found in the fact that it would be almost impossible to recruit for these battalions should they be at Valcartier. It was understood that Mayor McInnis has been trying to get permission from the Minister of Militia to allow the battalions to remain in Moncton, but so far his efforts have not met with much success.

Now that the 104th detachments which have been quartered at Fredericton have been ordered to go to Sussex, it seems likely that "C" company of the 104th will soon be on the move. Probably the same troop train which will be used by the 104th Battalion will be requisitioned for the removal of the 145th companies "C" and "D" now stationed outside St. John.

Yesterday the battalion attended the church parade to the Congregational church where a very impressive musical service was celebrated. Today the battalion will take part in the grand military celebration at Seaside Park, when the presentation of the new band instruments will take place. Lieut. Armstrong will be the officer of the day, with Lieut. Osgood next for duty. While the battalion is at Seaside Park the Signal Corps and Machine Gun section will take over the guard duties around the docks and sheds on the West Side.

Three more men were taken on to the strength of the battalion Saturday.

The thousands of people who were disappointed on Saturday when the weather interfered with the grand carnival and military display at Seaside will have the opportunity of enjoying the programme today.

At 2 o'clock the presentation of the band instruments of the 104th will take place after which the 115th will receive their regimental colors, which will be consecrated by His Lordship the Bishop of Fredericton.

Following the presentation the grand carnival will continue during the remainder of the afternoon and evening.

It was hoped that Sir Sam Hughes would be in the city to take part in the presentation, but up until yesterday at 2 o'clock it was impossible to get any word, but the Brunswick chapter I. O. O. F. still entertain the hope that he will arrive in the city in time to be present. The 115th will receive their colors about 3 o'clock.

P. S. I. PARADE.

The men from the school of instruction paraded at the eleven o'clock service in St. Stephen's church under Lieut. Pierce. Mr. Tucker of Toronto sang in pleasing manner "Show Me the Way."

The pastor of the church, Rev. Gordon Dickie, addressed the men and spoke about the vision of the far off land. He said that there is an old proverb which says that the thing which costs little is worth little. A swift triumph in war might be more harmful than good. It is the moral supremacy, even though it takes longer to realize it, that makes life worth while. We are prone to take it for granted that God fights for the right and will give victory for truth.

Today, we believe, we are fighting for such things, yet victory tarries in the background. This is the thing that causes more misgiving than any sacrifice that we have made. In spite of our conviction the land of victory seems far off, but we must not forget there is a law of conservation in the life spiritual as well as in the life natural. God gives us just enough encouragement to keep us going. It is not the feverish desire to strike a crushing blow at the enemy and end the war with great jubilation that we should demand today, but rather the spirit of simple confidence that bids us go forward fearing and doubting nothing.

In concluding, Rev. Mr. Dickie quoted the following from Kipling as particularly opportune just now in view of the sudden passing of England's great warrior, Earl Kitchener:

We've fed the sea for a thousand years
Still she calls us, still unfed
Though there's never a wave of all her waves
But marks our English dead.

Strips of Khaki.

Lieut. Frank Eason, who at the beginning of the war, left his position in Fredericton and went overseas with the 12th Battalion and who has been transferred to the 26th Battalion prior to the St. Eloi battle in which he took part, will return to Canada to become adjutant in one of the newly authorized New Brunswick battalions.

Lance Corporal L. H. Webster, invalided home last October suffering from tuberculosis and who has been at River Glade sanitarium, has been discharged from that institution practically cured. He was a member of the 26th.

Sergeant-Major J. William Rawlings of the 26th Battalion, is now recovering at Westcliff Hospital, Folkestone, from a serious illness.

Bandman Freeze of the 146th band, who has been ill in recovering and soon will be able to fill his position on the bass instrument.

In a telegram from Ottawa Mrs. Michael Melanson, 279 Chesley street, learned that her son, Pte. W. R. Melanson had been wounded on May 21 and was admitted to the British

SOLD CLOTHES TO SOLDIERS; FINE FOLLOWS

Louis Brager Fined $80 or Six Months Jail for Helping Soldiers to Escape — Other Police Court Cases.

Louis Brager, proprietor of Brager's Clothing Store, at 185 Union street, was on Saturday morning convicted by Police Magistrate Ritchie of aiding two soldiers to desert and sentenced to six months in jail or pay a fine of $80. The conviction was made under section 82 of the Criminal Code.

Capt. G. Earle Logan, D. A. A. G. N. B., conducted the prosecution. It appears that on Monday last two soldiers went into Brager's store and each purchased a suit of clothing and changed from khaki to mud in the back of the store. They left their uniforms in the shop saying they would return shortly, but did not do so. According to Brager's statement, they said they were returned soldiers, and one exhibited a wound behind the ear. The uniforms and caps were stripped of all badges or other distinguishing marks and remained in Brager's store until Tuesday when he reported the matter to the military police. Military Police Corporal Somers, Private Powers and Private Linden, testified for the prosecution and the defendant and his brother for the defense. Brager stated the soldiers were French, and pleaded ignorance of the law. Capt. Logan asked for a conviction on the evidence. He pointed out that the defendant must have known the soldiers were deserters as they had stripped the badges from the uniforms and caps. In convicting Brager his Honor scored all who aided men to desert from the King's service and imposed the above penalty.

James Boyle, who was arrested Friday night by Detective Barrett was given a severe sentence. He was fined $8 or two months for drunkenness; $8 or two months for profanity; and $50 or six months jail for vagrancy and interfering with people on the street.

One drunk was fined four dollars.
